Our Lost Explorers Raymond Lee Newcomb, 1882 From 1879-1881 a crew of thirty-three men led by Lieutenant Commander George Washington DeLong participated in an Arctic adventure that defines the limits of human endurance The Navy operated but privately owned steamer Jeannette left San Francisco California for the North Pole through what was then believed to be open water beyond the Arctic icepack The Jeannette remained in the ice as it drifted to the northwest through the first half of 1881 During this time the crew made scientific observations hunted seals and polar bears In May 1881 they landed on Henrietta Island 600 miles from Wrangell In June 1881 the ice parted and they hoped they might reach open sea but on the 12th the flows closed in with such force that Jeannette's hull was crushed Her crew removed three boats supplies and some equipment and began a difficult trek dragging the boats over the ice towards open water They reached the Kotelnoi and Simonoski Islands in early September after which the way was clear to sail to the Lena Delta However the three boats were separated in a storm One commanded by Lieutenant Charles W Chipp and seven other men was not seen again The other two commanded by DeLong with thirteen others and Chief Engineer George W Melville with ten others landed far apart on the delta Melville s party was saved by local inhabitants DeLong and his men trudged south over the desolate terrain After one man died of the effects of frostbite and the others were weakened by exposure and hunger Seamen Nindemann and Noros were sent ahead to find help Before that materialized the remaining eleven succumbed with DeLong and two others surviving perhaps a few days beyond 30 October 1881 when he made his final journal entry The bodies of ten were discovered in March 1882 as Melville conducted a search for the other members of the expedition and were transported back to the United States in early 1884 Arctic Adventure Peter Freuchen,2011-05-01 An adventure classic by the famed explorer who lived among the Greenland Inuit SEE QUOTE Lost in the Arctic Ejnar Mikkelsen,2017-07-27 Excerpt from Lost in the Arctic Being the Story of the Alabama Expedition 1909 1912 Perished 79 Fjord after attempt to return over inland ice in November I arrive here in waning moonlight and could not go further for frozen feet and darkness About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works
