Overgrown Julian Raxworthy,2023-08-01 A call for landscape architects to leave the office and return to the garden Addressing one of the most repressed subjects in landscape architecture this book could only have been written by someone who is both an experienced gardener and a landscape architect With Overgrown Julian Raxworthy offers a watershed work in the tradition of Ian McHarg Anne Whiston Spirn Kevin Lynch and J B Jackson As a discipline landscape architecture has distanced itself from gardening and landscape architects take pains to distinguish themselves from gardeners or landscapers Landscape architects tend to imagine gardens from the office representing plants with drawings or other simulations whereas gardeners work in the dirt in real time planting pruning and maintaining In Overgrown Raxworthy calls for the integration of landscape architecture and gardening Each has something to offer the other Landscape architecture can design beautiful spaces and gardening can enhance and deepen the beauty of garden environments over time Growth says Raxworthy is the medium of garden development landscape architects should leave the office and go into the garden in order to know growth in an organic nonsimulated way Raxworthy proposes a new practice for working with plant material that he terms the viridic after the tectonic in architecture from the Latin word for green with its associations of spring and growth He builds his argument for the viridic through six generously illustrated case studies of gardens that range from formal to informal approaches from a sixteenth century French Renaissance water garden to a Scottish poet scientist s marginal garden barely differentiated from nature Raxworthy argues that landscape architectural practice itself needs to be gardened brought back into the field He offers a Manifesto for the Viridic that casts designers and plants as vegetal partners in a renewed practice of landscape gardening

Illustrated History of Landscape Design Elizabeth Boults,Chip Sullivan,2010-02-08 A visual journey through the history of landscape design For thousands of years people have altered the meaning of space by reshaping nature As an art form these architectural landscape creations are stamped with societal imprints unique to their environment and place in time Illustrated History of Landscape Design takes an optical sweep of the iconic landscapes constructed throughout the ages Organized by century and geographic region this highly visual reference uses hundreds of masterful pen and ink drawings to show how historical context and cultural connections can illuminate today s design possibilities This guide includes Storyboards case studies and visual narratives to portray spaces Plan section and elevation drawings of key spaces Summaries of design concepts principles and vocabularies Historic and contemporary works of art that illuminate a specific era Descriptions of how the landscape has been shaped over time in response to human need Directing both students and practitioners along a visually stimulating timeline Illustrated History of Landscape Design is a valuable educational tool as well as an endless source of inspiration

Gardens and the Passion for the Infinite Anna-Teresa Tymieniecka,2013-06-29 What essentially is a garden Is it a small plot of land that we put aside to cultivate our favourite vegetables or to grow flowers for our personal enjoyment Or is it a symbol a mirror a reflection of our human passions Within the context of phenomenology onto-poiesis of life we find the significance of the garden inscribed within the web of the Human Condition creatively unfurling its form from the vital basis to its loftiest swings of the period The aesthetic synthesis of our passions is carried by the logoic promise of life its infinite renewal and infinite response The topic of the present volume is the mysterious ways in which Imaginatio Creatrix plays within the human ingrownness in natural life transposing dreams nostalgias and enchantments

Printmakers of the Baroque Susan Dixon, 2014 The essays in this volume complement the recent exhibition of Printmakers of the Baroque 17th Century Explorations of Space and Light at La Salle University Art Museum during winter 2013-2014 Co-curated by La Salle Associate Professor of Art History Dr Susan Dixon the exhibition also provided a foundation for a Baroque art history course taught in spring 2014 This catalogue includes essays and labels written by undergraduate students enrolled in the course along with reproductions of all 40 artworks included in the exhibition

Atlas of Emotion Giuliana Bruno, 2020-05-05 Atlas of Emotion is a highly original endeavour to map a cultural history of spatio-visual arts In an evocative montage of words and pictures emphasises that sight and site but also motion and emotion are irrevocably connected In so doing Giuliana Bruno touches on the art of Gerhard Richter and Annette Messager the film-making of Peter Greenaway and Michelangelo Antonioni the origins of the movie palace and its precursors and her own journeys to her native Naples Visually luscious and daring in conception Bruno opens new vistas and understandings at every turn

Seeing Through Closed Eyelids Elizabeth Mangini, 2021-04-07 Can a work of art help us know our world differently In this first scholarly study of Giuseppe Penone art historian Elizabeth Mangini argues that the Italian artist's engagement of the body's multiple senses constitutes a new theory of sculpture as a means to connect with and know the phenomenal world Through close readings of signal works across Penone's five-decade career from his emergence in the context of 1960s Arte povera to his position as a pre-eminent contemporary artist today Mangini demonstrates how Penone refuses modernist opticality recasts artistic labour and emphasizes a non-anthropocentric concept of time Penone's approach challenges viewers to broaden their sensory and temporal perceptions creating structurally significant new ways to understand human experience Giuseppe Penone is best known for his engagement with trees which he employs as raw material imagery and an active force in the creative process Seeing Through Closed Eyelids suggests that such works materialize the perceptible tensions between any organism and its environment By locating Penone's art in its social context and connecting it to broader discourses about art's status theories of phenomenology and the Anthropocene this book offers an original reading of Penone's work as well as a wider view of the artistic generation for whom sculpture was a means to probe the nature of experience itself at the dawn of postmodernism

Pastoral Cosmopolitanism in Edith Wharton's Fiction Margarida Cadima, 2023-07-11 American novelist Edith Wharton 1862-1937 is best known today for her tales of the city and the experiences of patrician New Yorkers in the Gilded Age This book pushes against the grain of critical orthodoxy by prioritizing other species of spaces in Wharton's work. For example, how do Wharton's narratives represent the organic profusion of external nature? Does the current scholarly fascination with the environmental humanities reveal previously unexamined or overlooked facets of Wharton's craft? I propose that what is most striking about her narrative practice is how she utilizes and translates pastoral tropes, conventions, and concerns to twentieth-century American actualities. It is no accident that Wharton portrays characters returning to or exploring various natural localities such as private gardens, public parks, chic mountain resorts, monumental ruins, or country estate follies. Such encounters and adventures prompt us to imagine new relationships with various geographies and the lifeforms that can be found there. The book addresses a knowledge gap in Wharton and the environmental humanities, especially recent debates in ecocriticism. The excavation of Wharton's words and the background of her narratives with an eye to offering an ecocritical reading of her work is what the book focuses on.

Designed Landscapes Alan Tate, Marcella Eaton, 2023-09-20. Designed Landscapes is a case-by-case study of 37 significant existing works of landscape design worldwide, largely constructed since the Renaissance. Being an informative and easy-to-read reference volume for practitioners and students alike, it presents key precedents in landscape architecture using site plans and recent photographs to showcase each project. Organised and presented in 12 sections based on project type, each project is examined based on date, previous site condition, designer's design intentions, current composition, unique features, ownership, and management, and comparable projects. Each chapter offers an insightful critique of the featured projects. Written by the authors of Great City Parks, the book posits that these carefully selected key projects have maintained their status throughout the ages because they express values and design intentions that continue to inform the practice of landscape architecture in the present day. The book concludes with a ten-point summary of lessons for professional practice gleaned from the studies. Including a wide range of case studies from countries including many in western Europe, the United States, Canada, India, Japan, and China, and lavishly illustrated with over 200 full-colour images, the book is a must-have volume for anyone interested in the history and current practice of landscape architecture.

Gardens, Knowledge and the Sciences in the Early Modern Period Hubertus Fischer, Volker R. Remmert, Joachim Wolschke-Bulmahn, 2016-06-03. This volume focuses on the outstanding contributions made by botany and the mathematical sciences to the genesis and development of early modern garden art and garden culture. The many facets of the mathematical sciences and botany point to the increasingly scientific approach that was being adopted in and applied to garden art and garden culture in the early modern period. This development was deeply embedded in the philosophical, religious, political, cultural, and social contexts running parallel to the beginning of processes of scientization so characteristic for modern European history. This volume strikingly shows how these various developments are intertwined in gardens for various purposes.

The Sun King's Garden Ian Thompson, 2006-10-31. Presents an illustrated account of the creation of one of the world's most dazzling and extensive gardens, the gardens at the palace of Versailles, noting the unique four-decade friendship between Louis XIV the creator of the garden and Andre Le Ntre the gardener Animals and Early Modern Identity PiaF. Cuneo,2017-07-05 Animals were everywhere in the early modern period and they impacted at least in some way the lives of every kind of early modern person from the humblest peasant to the greatest prince Artists made careers based on depicting them English gentry impoverished themselves spending money on them Humanists exercised their scholarship writing about them Pastors saved souls delivering sermons on them Nobles forged alliances competing with them Foreigners and indigenes negotiated with one another through trading them The nexus between animal human relationships and early modern identity is illuminated in this volume by the latest research of international scholars working on the history of art literature and of sixteenth and seventeenth century Germany France England Spain and South Africa Collectively these essays investigate how animals horses dogs pigs hogs fish cattle sheep birds rhinoceroses even sea monsters and other creatures served people in Europe England the Americas and Africa to defend contest or transcend the boundaries of early modern identities Developments in the methodologies employed by scholars to interrogate the past have opened up an intellectual and discursive space for and a concomitant recognition of the study of animals as a topic that significantly elucidates past and present histories Relevant to a considerable array of disciplines the study of animals also provides a means to surmount traditional disciplinary boundaries through processes of dynamic interchange and cross fertilization Stalking the Wild Amaranth Janet Marinelli,1998-04-15 The result of the seven year odyssey this work of science and art tells of Marinelli's discovery that contemporary gardening is out of sync with theories evolving on the frontiers of science and philosophy She also tells of her quest for a new garden art that nurtures a greater richness and variety of earthly life 22 line drawings

Disclosing Horizons Nicholas Temple,2006-11-22 This study examines the influence of perspective on architecture highlighting how critical historical changes in the representation and perception of space continue to inform the way architects design Since its earliest developments perspective was conceived as an exemplary form of representation that served as an ideal model of how everyday existence could be measured and ultimately judged Temple argues that underlying the symbolic and epistemological meanings of perspective there prevails a deeply embedded redemptive view of the world that is deemed perfectible Temple explores this idea through a genealogical investigation of the cultural and philosophical contexts of perspective throughout history highlighting how these developments influenced architectural thought This broad historical enquiry is accompanied by a series of case studies of modern or contemporary buildings each demonstrating a particular affinity with the accompanying historical model of perspective The Oxford Dictionary of Architecture James Stevens Curl,Susan Wilson,2015 With over 6 000 entries this is the most authoritative dictionary of architectural history available Architectural and Urban Reflections after Deleuze and Guattari Constantin V. Boundas,Vana Tentokali,2017-12-15 The post humanist movement which currently traverses various disciplines in the arts and humanities as well as the role that the thought of Deleuze and Guattari has had in the course of this movement has given rise to new practices in architecture and urban theory This interdisciplinary volume brings together architects urban designers and planners and asks them to reflect and report on the built place and the city to come in the wake of Deleuze and Guattari

The Temporality of Building Yun Gao, Nicholas Temple, Jing Xiao, 2025-03-31 This book examines the role that time plays in the life of buildings adopting a comparative study of this influence between European and Chinese traditions Whilst issues of time in architecture have attracted increasing interest by academics in the West challenging the dominant modernist precepts of space there is little understanding of the subject in China and how these compare to historical and contemporary perspectives in Europe A guiding premise of the investigation is that notions of building time require insight into how cultural habits commingle with natural rhythms or what David Leatherbarrow calls concurrency Rather than examining specific buildings the first three chapters apply three key themes language ritual and heritage as cultural lenses to reveal differences and similarities between the two traditions Through these lenses buildings interiors and their exterior spaces churches cathedrals temples palaces gardens and courtyard houses are explored to demonstrate how building time involves particular situations settings and their correlating relationships to past traditions In the final chapter we consider notions of time in the context of contemporary buildings in Europe and China drawing on the earlier historical investigations and addressing globalising influences This book would be of interest to architects architectural theorists historians philosophers sociologists and anthropologists

Nature as Model Luke Morgan, 2007 Salomon de Caus was a pivotal figure in the dissemination of the design principles and motifs of the Italian Renaissance garden throughout Europe By setting the record straight in this biography Luke Morgan rewrites the received history of early seventeenth century garden design

Absolutist Attachments Chloé Hogg, 2019-03-15 In Absolutist Attachments Chloé Hogg uncovers the affective and media connections that shaped Louis XIV's absolutism Studying literature painting engravings correspondence and the emerging periodic press Hogg diagnoses the emotions that created absolutism's feeling subjects and publics Louis XIV's subjects explored new kinds of affective relations with their sovereign joining with the king in acts of aesthetic judgment tender feeling or the newness of emerging print news culture Such alternative modes of adhesion countered the hegemonic model of kingship upheld by divine right reason of state or corporate fidelities and privileges with subject driven attachments and practices Absolutist Attachments discovers absolutism's alternative political and cultural legacy not the spectacle of an unbound king but the binding connections of his subjects

Our Distance from God James D. Herbert, 2008-03-18 In this encounter between reflections on Christian theology and the history of art and music James D Herbert considers how specific works of art establish a relation between the divine and the earthbound audiences for whom the art was created He looks at five case studies over four centuries the architecture and artworks that glorified Louis XIV at Versailles the interaction of libretto and music in Richard Wagner's Ring of the Nibelung Claude Monet's enormous paintings of water lilies mounted at the Orangerie of Paris in 1927 the inaugural performance in 1962 of Benjamin Britten's War Requiem at the new Anglican cathedral in Coventry and Robert Wilson s recent installation based on the Passion 14 Stations
