to the history of family stories in children's literature and an in depth critical study of the works of Jacqueline Wilson Anne Fine and Morris Gleitzman The Other Facts of Life Morris Gleitzman, 2004-03-08 Ben stared at the TV He had never seen anything like it Fascinating Incredible Awful He had to do something There are some things Ben doesn't understand so his dad is sent in to explain the facts of life But it's the other facts that are worrying Ben and he decides to find his own answers He's deadly serious and the results are very very funny On a quest to understand the big issues in life and determined to make those around him listen Ben navigates his way through the distractions and self obsessions of those closest to him This clever and emotional story tackles a relevant issue and will challenge kids thoughts and perspectives while keeping them thoroughly entertained with its blend of humour and heart Don't miss out on this insightful and unforgettable tale PRAISE FOR MORRIS GLEITZMAN Readers can't get enough of him The Independent A brilliantly funny writer Sunday Telegraph A virtuoso demonstration of how you can make comedy out of the most unlikely subject Sunday Times He is one of the finest examples of a writer who can make humour stem from the things that really matter in life The Guardian Cultural Encounters in Translated Children's Literature Helen Frank, 2014-04-08 Cultural Encounters in Translated Children's Literature offers a detailed and innovative model of analysis for examining the complexities of translating children's literature and sheds light on the interpretive choices at work in moving texts from one culture to another The core of the study addresses the issue of how images of a nation locale or country are constructed in translated children's literature with the translation of Australian children's fiction into French serving as a case study Issues examined include the selection of books for translation the relationship between children's books and the national and international publishing industry the packaging of translations and the importance of titles blurbs and covers the linguistic and stylistic features specific to translating for children intertextual references the function of the translation in the target culture didactic and pedagogical aims euphemistic language and explicitation and literariness in translated texts The findings of the case study suggest that the most common constructs of Australia in French translations reveal a preponderance of traditional Eurocentric signifiers that identify Australia with the outback the antipodes the exotic the wild the unknown the void the end of the world the young and innocent nation and the Far West Contemporary signifiers that construct Australia as urban multicultural Aboriginal worldly and inharmonious are seriously under represented The study also shows that French translations are conventional conservative and didactic showing preference for an exotic rather than local specificity with systematic manipulation of Australian referents betraying a perception of Australia as antipodean rural exoticism The significance of the study lies in underscoring the manner in which a given culture is constructed in another cultural milieu especially through translated children's literature English Workbook Kristine Brown, 2005 Excel Basic Skills English Workbook Year 5 will help you with the writing you do every day at school in English and in other subjects Each chapter looks at a different type of writing Some are imaginative text types such as narratives and poems Others are factual text types such as reports and
