The Power of Witnessing Nancy R. Goodman, Marilyn B. Meyers, 2012-08-21 Witnessing comes in as many forms as the trauma that gives birth to it The Holocaust undeniably one of the greatest traumatic events in recent human history still resonates into the twenty first century The echoes that haunt those who survived continue to reach their children and others who did not share the experience directly In what ways is this massive trauma processed and understood both for survivors and future generations The answer as deftly illustrated by Nancy Goodman and Marilyn Meyers lies in the power of witnessing the act of acknowledging that trauma took place coupled with the desire to share that knowledge with others to build a space in which to reveal confront and symbolize it As the contributors to this book demonstrate testimonial writing and memoir artwork poetry documentary theater and even the simple recollection of a memory are ways that honor and serve as forms of witnessing Each chapter is a fusion of narrative and metaphor that exists as evidence of the living mind that emerges amid the dead spaces produced by mass trauma creating a revelatory transformational space for the terror of knowing and the possibility for affirmation of hope courage and endurance in the face of almost unspeakable evil Additionally the power of witnessing is extended from the Holocaust to contemporary instances of mass trauma and to psychoanalytic treatments proving its efficacy in the dyadic relationship of everyday practice for both patient and analyst The Holocaust is not an easy subject to approach but the intimate and personal stories included here add up to an act of witnessing in and of itself combining the past and the present and placing the trauma in the realm of knowing sharing and understanding Contributors Harriet Basseches Elsa Blum Bridget Conley Zilkic Paula Ellman Susan Elmendorf George Halasz Geoffrey Hartman Renee Hartman Elaine Neumann Kulp Shabad Dori Laub Clemens Loew Gail Humphries Mardirosian Margit Meissner Henri Parens Arlene Kramer Richards Arnold Richards Sophia Richman Katalin Roth Nina Shapiro Perl Myra Sklarew Ervin Staub

International Trials and Reconciliation Janine Natalya Clark, 2014-06-20 Transitional justice is a burgeoning field of scholarly inquiry Yet while the transitional justice literature is replete with claims about the benefits of criminal trials too often these claims lack an empirical basis and hence remain unproven While there has been much discussion about whether criminal trials can aid reconciliation the extent to which they actually do so in practice remains under explored This book investigates the relationship between criminal trials and reconciliation through a particular focus on the International Criminal Tribunal for the former Yugoslavia ICTY Using detailed empirical data in the form of qualitative interviews and observations from five years of fieldwork to assess and analyze the ICTY's impact on reconciliation in Bosnia Hercegovina Croatia and Kosovo International Trials and Reconciliation Assessing the Impact of the International Criminal Tribunal for the former Yugoslavia argues that reconciliation is not a realistic aim for a criminal court They are Janine Clark argues only one part of a rich tapestry of justice which must also include non retributive transitional justice processes and mechanisms Challenging many of the common yet untested assumptions about the benefits of criminal trials this innovative and extremely timely monograph will be invaluable for those with interests in the theory and practice of transitional justice

Engaging Violence Ivana Maček, 2014-03-26 This volume opens up new ground in the field of social representations research by focusing on contexts involving mass violence rather than on relatively stable societies Representations of violence are not only symbolic but in the first place affective and bodily especially when it comes to traumatic experiences Exploring the responses of researchers educators students and practitioners to long term engagement with this emotionally demanding material the book considers how empathic knowledge can make working in this field more bearable and deepen our understanding of the Holocaust genocide war and mass political violence Bringing together international contributors from a range of disciplines including anthropology clinical psychology history history of ideas religious studies social psychology and sociology the book explores how scholars students and professionals engaged with violence deal with the inevitable emotional stresses and vicarious trauma they experience Each chapter draws on personal histories and many suggest new theoretical and methodological concepts to investigate emotional reactions to this material The insights gained through these reflections can function protectively enabling those who work in this field to handle adverse situations more effectively and can yield valuable knowledge about violence itself allowing researchers teachers and professionals to better understand their materials and collocutors Engaging Violence Trauma memory and representation will be of key value to students scholars psychologists humanitarian aid workers UN personnel policy makers social workers and others who are engaged directly or indirectly with mass political violence war or genocide

Psychological Components of Sustainable Peace Peter T. Coleman, Morton Deutsch, 2012-06-15 Scholarship on the psychology of peace has been accumulating for decades The approach employed has been predominantly centered on addressing and preventing conflict and violence and less on the conditions associated with promoting peace Concerns around nuclear annihilation enemy images discrimination denial of basic human needs terrorism and torture have been the focal points of most research The Psychological Components of a Sustainable Peace moves beyond a prevention orientation to the study of the conditions for increasing the probabilities for sustainable cooperative peace Such a view combines preventative scholarship with a promotive orientation to the study of peaceful situations and societies The contributors to this volume examine the components of various psychological theories that contribute to the promotion of a harmonious sustainable peace Underlying this orientation is the belief that promoting the ideas and actions which can lead to a sustainable harmonious peace will not only contribute to the prevention of war but will also lead to more positive constructive relations among people and nations and to a more sustainable planet The Psychological Components of a Sustainable Peace is valuable and stimulating reading for researchers in peace psychology political psychology and conflict resolution as well as others who are interested in developing a sustainable harmonious world

The Evolution of Human Cooperation and Community Development August John Hoffman, Michelle Filkins, Saul Alamilla, 2021-02-12 Communities today face unprecedented racial tension conflict and turmoil Social unrest political rhetoric authoritarian rulers and economic disparities contribute to unprecedented levels of community violence and extremism The Evolution of Human Cooperation and Community Development A Greener Approach to Understanding the Dynamics of Conflict proposes a more comprehensive and community oriented approach to address conflict through the development of community resources and ecologically sustainable green space programs such as community gardening programs The authors draw on empirical research to identify how resources may be utilized to promote increased positive intergroup contact and provide greater collaboration among community residents This book provides the essential interpersonal mechanisms to achieve a more resilient empowered and peaceful community

Trajectories of Authoritarianism in Rwanda Marie-Eve Desrosiers, 2023-01-19 Challenging assumptions regarding the strength and control of authoritarian governments in Rwanda in the decades before the 1994 genocide Marie Eve Desrosiers uses original archival data and interviews to highlight the complex relations between authorities opponents and society Through careful detailed analysis Desrosiers offers a nuanced assessment of the functions and evolution of authoritarianism over time demonstrating how the governments of Rwanda s first two post independence Republics 1962 1990 sought and often struggled to cement their rule Whilst the deeper lived realities of authoritarianism are generally neglected by multi cases comparisons at the heart of comparative authoritarian studies this illuminating survey highlights the essential yet subtle authoritarian strategies patterns and forms of decay that are too often overlooked when addressing authoritarian contexts

Torture, Psychoanalysis and Human Rights Monica Luci, 2017-04-28 Torture Psychoanalysis and Human Rights contributes to the development of that field of study called psycho social that is presently more and more committed to providing understanding of social phenomena making use of the explicative perspective of psychoanalysis The book seeks to develop a concise and integrated framework of understanding of torture as a socio political phenomenon based on psychoanalytic thinking through which different dimensions of the subject of study become more comprehensible Monica Luci argues that torture performs a covert emotional function in society In order to identify what this function might be a profile of torturous societies and the main psychological dynamics of social actors involved torturers victims and bystanders are drawn from literature Accordingly a wide ranging description of the phenomenology of torture is provided detecting an inclusive and recurring pattern of key elements Relying on psychoanalytic concepts derived from different theoretical traditions including British object relations theories American relational psychoanalysis and analytical psychology the study provides an advanced line of conceptual research shaping a model whose aim is to grasp the deep meaning of key intrapsychic interpersonal and group dynamics involved in torture Once a sufficiently coherent understanding has been reached Luci proposes using it as a groundwork tool in the human rights field to re think the best strategies of prevention and recovery from post torture psychological and social suffering The book initiates a dialogue between psychoanalysis and human rights showing that the proposed psychoanalytic understanding is a viable conceptualisation for expanding thinking of crucial issues regarding torture which might be relevant to human rights and legal doctrine such as the responsibility of perpetrators the reparation of victims and the question of truth Torture Psychoanalysis and Human Rights is the first book to build a psychoanalytic theory of torture from which psychological social and legal reflections as well as practical aspects of treatment can be mutually derived and understood It will appeal to psychoanalysts psychoanalytic psychotherapists and Jungians as well as scholars of politics social work and justice and human rights and postgraduate students studying across these fields

Quality Peace Peter Wallensteen, 2015 In this book the notion of quality peace is introduced as part of a search for a way to capture peaceful relations within states between states and in the world The challenge to scholarship is the recurrence of war between the same parties Investigating that problem this book systematically goes through post World War II experiences as well as peacebuilding efforts after the Cold War It compares two different outcomes victory consolidation versus a negotiated ending through a peace agreement and does so for both inter state and intra state relations

Genocide Adam Jones, 2016-12-16 Genocide A Comprehensive Introduction is the most wide ranging textbook on genocide yet published The book is designed as a text for upper undergraduate and graduate students as well as a primer for non specialists and general readers interested in learning about one of humanity's enduring blights Fully updated to reflect the latest thinking in this rapidly developing field this unique book Provides an introduction to genocide as both a historical phenomenon and an analytical legal concept including the concept of genocidal intent and the dynamism and contingency of genocidal processes Discusses the role of state building imperialism war and social revolution in fuelling genocide Supplies a wide range of full length case studies of genocides worldwide each with a supplementary study Explores perspectives on genocide from the social sciences including psychology sociology anthropology political science international relations and gender studies Considers The Future of Genocide with attention to historical memory and genocide denial initiatives for truth justice and redress and strategies of intervention and prevention Highlights of the new edition include Nigeria Biafra as a contested case of genocide Extensive new material on the Kurds Islamic State ISIS and the civil wars genocide in Iraq and Syria Conflict and atrocities in the world's newest state South Sudan The role activities and constraints of the United Nations Office of Genocide Prevention Many new testimonies from genocide victims survivors witnesses and perpetrators Dozens of new images including a special photographic essay Written in clear and lively prose with over 240 illustrations and maps Genocide A Comprehensive Introduction remains the indispensable text for new generations of genocide study and scholarship An accompanying website www.genocidetext.net features a broad selection of supplementary materials teaching aids and Internet resources

Attracted to Conflict: Dynamic Foundations of Destructive Social Relations Robin R. Vallacher, Peter T. Coleman, Andrzej Nowak, Lan Bui-Wrzosinska, Larry Liebovitch, Katharina Kugler, Andrea Bartoli, 2014-07-08 Conflict is inherent in virtually every aspect of human relations from sport to parliamentary democracy from fashion in the arts to paradigmatic challenges in the sciences and from economic activity to intimate relationships Yet it can become among the most serious social problems humans face when it loses its constructive features and becomes protracted over time with no obvious means of resolution This book addresses the subject of intractable social conflict from a new vantage point Here these types of conflict represent self-organizing phenomena emerging quite naturally from the ongoing dynamics in human interaction at any scale from the interpersonal to the international Using the universal language and computational framework of nonlinear dynamical systems theory in combination with recent insights from social psychology intractable conflict is understood as a system locked in special attractor states that constrain the thoughts and actions of the parties to the conflict The emergence and maintenance of attractors for conflict can be described by means of formal models that incorporate the results of computer simulations experiments field research and archival analyses Multi-disciplinary research reflecting these approaches provides encouraging support for the dynamical systems perspective Importantly this text presents new views on conflict resolution In contrast to traditional approaches that tend to focus on basic short-lived cause-effect relations the dynamical perspective emphasizes the temporal patterns and potential for emergence in destructive relations Attractor deconstruction entails restoring complexity to a conflict scenario by isolating elements or changing the feedback loops among them The creation of a latent attractor trades on the tendency toward multi-stability in dynamical systems and entails the consolidation of incongruent positive elements into a coherent structure In the bifurcation scenario factors are identified that can change the number and types of attractors in a conflict scenario The implementation of these strategies may hold the key to unlocking intractable conflict creating the potential for constructive social relations

Handbook of Heroism and Heroic Leadership Scott T. Allison, George R. Goethals, Roderick M. Kramer, 2016-10-04 Over the past decade research and theory on heroism and heroic leadership has greatly expanded providing new insights on heroic behavior The Handbook of Heroism and Heroic Leadership brings together new scholarship in this burgeoning field to build an important foundation for further multidisciplinary developments In its three parts Origins of Heroism Types of Heroism and Processes of Heroism distinguished social scientists and researchers explore topics such as morality resilience courage empathy meaning altruism spirituality and transformation This handbook provides a much needed consolidation and synthesis for heroism and heroic leadership scholars and graduate students The Politics of Reparations and Apologies Stephanie Wolfe,2013-11-21 The Politics of Reparations and Apologies examines the evolution and dynamics of reparation politics and justice The volume introduces the key concepts theories and terms associated with social movements and in particular the redress and reparation movement RRM Drawing from RRM s that have their foundation in World War II the German genocides the United States internments and the Japanese comfort women system the volume explores each case study s relative success or failure in achieving its goals and argues that there are overarching trends that can explain success and failure more generally in the RRM movement Using the backdrop of international criminal law and normative concepts of reparations the volume establishes and analyzes the roles of reparations and apologies in obtaining transitional justice In each case study there is a detailed rundown of the political actions that were attempted to obtain redress and reparation for the victims of how successful the attempts were and of the crucial factors which influenced the relative success or failure Crucially the volume offers a comparative framework of the actions that contribute to a successful outcome for transitional justice With the increasing normative expectation of justice in post conflict situations this volume is a valuable resource for researchers in international affairs human rights political science and conflict studies Conflict Reporting Strategies and the Identities of Ethnic and Religious Communities in Jos, Nigeria Godfrey Naanlang Danaan,2020-05-19 This book examines journalistic strategies in terms of the appropriation of media logics in the conflict frame building process Relying on three models objectivity mediatisation and news framing it interrogates the role orientations and performance of journalists who reported the conflict involving the indigenous Christians and Hausa Fulani Muslim settlers of Jos a city in North Central Nigeria inhabited by approximately one million people The book provides empirical evidence of the strategies and the representations of ethnic and religious identities in the conflict narratives focusing on the most cited and vicious conflicts in Jos which occurred in 2001 2008 and 2010 Thus mediatised conflict research is revisited placing media logics at the heart of the conflict The text proposes Solutions Review Journalism SRJ as a framework for conflict reporting and argues that a review process is necessary to measure impact
