Narcissistic Mothers in Modernist Literature Marie Géraldine Rademacher, 2019-09-13 Narcissistic mothers are an important motif in modernist literature Tracing its appearance in the works of writers such as D H Lawrence and Virginia Woolf this book questions the dichotomous image of either benevolent or suffocating mother which has pervaded religion art and literature for centuries Instead of focusing on the mother child dyad as characterized primarily by maternal domination and the child s submission Marie G raldine Rademacher insists on the definitional nuances of the term narcissism and considers the political and socio economic context of the time in shaping these women s narcissistic behavior The study thus inspires a more positive re reading of the protagonists

Heroines, new edition Kate Zambreno, 2024-03-05 A manifesto reclaiming the wives and mistresses of literary modernism that inspired a generation of writers and scholars reissued after more than a decade I am beginning to realize that taking the self out of our essays is a form of repression Taking the self out feels like obeying a gag order pretending an objectivity where there is nothing objective about the experience of confronting and engaging with and swooning over literature On the last day of December 2009 Kate Zambreno then an unpublished writer began a blog called Frances Farmer Is My Sister arising from her obsession with literary modernism and her recent transplantation to Akron Ohio where her partner held a university job Widely reposted Zambreno s blog became an outlet for her highly informed and passionate rants and melancholy portraits of the fates of the modernist wives and mistresses reclaiming the traditionally pathologized biographies of Vivienne Eliot Jane Bowles Jean Rhys and Zelda Fitzgerald writers and artists themselves who served as male writers muses only to end their lives silenced erased and institutionalized Over the course of two years Frances Farmer Is My Sister helped create a community of writers and devised a new feminist discourse of writing in the margins and developing an alternative canon In Heroines Zambreno extends the polemic begun on her blog into a dazzling original work of literary scholarship Combing theories that have dictated what literature should be and who is allowed to write it she traces the genesis of a cultural template that consistently exiles feminine experience to the realm of the minor and diagnoses women for transgressing social bounds ANXIETY When she experiences it it s pathological writes Zambreno When he does it s existential With Heroines Zambreno provided a model for a newly subjectivized criticism prefiguring many group biographies and forms of autotheory and hybrid memoirs that were to come in the years to follow A book that has become its own canon Heroines was named one of the 50 Books that define the past 5 Years in Literature by Flavorwire an Essential Feminist Manifesto by Dazed and one of the 50 Greatest Books by Women in Buzzfeed

British Boarding Houses in Interwar Women's Literature Terri Mullholland, 2016-10-04 Embraced for the dramatic opportunities afforded by a house full of strangers the British boarding house emerged as a setting for novels published during the interwar period by a diverse range of women writers from Stella Gibbons to Virginia Woolf To use the single room in the boarding house or bedsit Terri Mullholland argues is to foreground a particular experience While the single room represents the freedoms of independent living available to women in the early twentieth century it also marks the precariousness of unmarried women s lives By placing their characters in this transient space women writers could explore women s changing social roles and complex experiences amateur prostitution lesbian relationships extra marital affairs and abortion outside traditional domestic narrative concerns Mullholland presents new readings of works by canonical and non canonical writers including Stella Gibbons Winifred Holtby Storm Jameson Rosamond Lehmann Dorothy Richardson Jean Rhys and Virginia Woolf A hybrid of the modernist and realist domestic fiction written and read by women the literature of the single room merges modernism's interest in interior psychological states with the realism of precisely documented exterior spaces offering a new mode of engagement with the two forms of interiority

Modernism, Theory, and Responsible Reading

Stephen Ross, 2021-08-26 Introducing readers to a new theory of responsible reading this book presents a range of perspectives on the contemporary relationship between modernism and theory Emerging from a collaborative process of comment and response it promotes conversation among disparate views under a shared commitment to responsible reading practices An international range of contributors question the interplay between modernism and theory today and provide new ways of understanding the relationship between the two and the links to emerging concerns such as the Anthropocene decolonization the post human and eco theory Promoting responsible reading as a practice that reads generously and engages constructively even where disagreement is inevitable this book articulates a mode of ethical reading that is fundamental to ongoing debates about strength and weakness paranoia and reparation and critique and affect
