Mobility And Migration Choices Thresholds To Crossing Borders Border Regions:

Mobility and Migration Choices Dr Martin van der Velde, Dr Ton van Naerssen, 2015-08-28 The crossing of national state borders is one of the most discussed issues of contemporary times and it poses many challenges for individual and collective identities This concerns both short distance mobility as well as long distance migration Choosing to move or not across international borders is a complex decision involving both cognitive and emotional processes This book tests the approach that three crucial thresholds need to be crossed before mobility occurs the individual's mindset about migrating the choice of destination and perception of crossing borders to that location and the specific routes and spatial trajectories available to get there Thus both borders and trajectories can act as thresholds to spatial moves The threshold approach with its focus on processes affecting whether when and where to move aims to understand the decision making process in all its dimensions in the hope that this will lead to a better understanding of the ways migrants conceive perceive and undertake their transnational journeys This book examines the three constitutive parts discerned in the cross border mobility decision making process people borders and trajectories and their interrelationships Illustrated by a global range of case studies it demonstrates that the relation between the three is not fixed but flexible and that decision making contains aspects of belonging instability security and volatility affecting their mobility or immobility

Mobility and Migration Choices Martin van der Velde, Ton van Naerssen, 2016-03-03 The crossing of national state borders is one of the most discussed issues of contemporary times and it poses many challenges for individual and collective identities This concerns both short distance mobility as well as long distance migration Choosing to move or not across international borders is a complex decision involving both cognitive and emotional processes This book tests the approach that three crucial thresholds need to be crossed before mobility occurs the individual's mindset about migrating the choice of destination and perception of crossing borders to that location and the specific routes and spatial trajectories available to get there Thus both borders and trajectories can act as thresholds to spatial moves The threshold approach with its focus on processes affecting whether when and where to move aims to understand the decision making process in all its dimensions in the hope that this will lead to a better understanding of the ways migrants conceive perceive and undertake their transnational journeys This book examines the three constitutive parts discerned in the cross border mobility decision making process people borders and trajectories and their interrelationships Illustrated by a global range of case studies it demonstrates that the relation between the three is not fixed but flexible and that decision making contains aspects of belonging instability security and volatility affecting their mobility or immobility Exploring the Migration Industries Sophie Cranston, Joris Schapendonk, Ernst Spaan, 2020-06-05 This book concentrates on the role of commercialized intermediary actors in migration It seeks to understand how these actors shape migration and mobility patterns through the services they offer In addressing the role that migration industries play in migration the book uses diverse examples such as labour market brokers and recruitment agencies from Eastern Europe to the United Kingdom Latvian migration to Norway super rich lifestyle brokers international students agents the Global Mobility Industry for corporate expatriates skilled migrant intermediaries and those providing services to West African migrants coming to Europe or Indonesians leaving for Malaysia Through these examples the contributors examine the actors in migration industries showing how they respond to and shape migration trends They also consider how migration industries operate manoeuvre and interact with government policy on migration management Finally the book looks at how migration industries enable certain forms of migration through enticement facilitation and control translating into specific migration trajectories and im mobility Providing examples from across the world this book analyses how charities businesses sub contractors informal recruitment agencies and other actors help to shape migration processes and it will be of interest to those studying not only the causes of migration but also the migration process itself This book was originally published as a special issue of the Journal of Ethnic and Migration Studies Trajectories and Imaginaries in Migration Felicitas Hillmann, Ton van Naerssen, Ernst Spaan, 2018-09-03 This book draws attention to the various factors that characterize migrant flows and mobilities calling into question familiar concepts such as push and pull migration as a life project and sociocultural integration It highlights processes such as fl exible migrant routes temporary and return migration mental aspects of migration processes and transnationalism which are organised around the themes of shaping trajectories frictions in space and the migrant mental framework It brings together work from scholars from Europe and beyond with the contributions collected emphasizing the social and mental processes that underpin the migratory process which can be seen as the soft side of migration Too often this side is neglected when the governance of migration is discussed The novel ideas expressed here also help to overcome the mechanistic view of migration as a push pull event Thus the book suggests a different understanding of migration and mobility as relational non linear and fluid social processes characterized by instability in migrant life trajectories Emphasizing the fl exibility of migrants and migration and advocating the importance of emotionally charged individual perceptions as central to migrant decision making it will appeal to scholars of sociology anthropology politics and geography with interests in migration and diaspora studies Structured Luck Onoso Imoagene, 2023-04-03 The Diversity Immigrant Visa Program is a lottery that awards winners from underrepresented countries the chance to apply for legal permanent residence in the United States Most lottery winners think of themselves as lucky viewing the win as an opportunity to pursue

better lives for themselves and their families In Structured Luck sociologist Onoso Imoagene uses immigrants stories to show that while the visa program benefits many recipients the program s design can also lead to exploitation in their countries of origin and reduced potential once they are in the United States Combining ethnographic observation in Africa and interviews with immigrants their family members and friends from Ghana and Nigeria Imoagene demonstrates that the visa program is a process of structured luck from how people hear about the lottery who registers for it and who participates in it to the application requirements for the visa In Ghana and Nigeria people often learn about the lottery through friends colleagues or relatives who persuade them to enter for the perceived benefits of receiving a visa opportunities for upward mobility permanent legal status and the ability to bring along family members Though anyone can enter the lottery not everyone who wins obtains a visa The visa application process requires proof of a high school diploma or artisan skills a medical exam a criminal background check an interview with U S consular officers and payment of fees Such requirements have led to the growth of visa entrepreneurs who often charge exorbitant fees to steer immigrants through the process Visa recipients who were on track to obtain university degrees at home often leave in the middle of their studies for the United States but struggle to continue their education due to high U S tuition costs And though their legal status allows them to escape the demoralizing situations that face the undocumented these immigrants lack the social support that the government sometimes provides for refugees and other migrants Ultimately Imoagene notes the real winner of the visa lottery is not the immigrants themselves but the United States which benefits from their relatively higher levels of education Consequently she argues the U S must do more to minimize the visa program s negative consequences Structured Luck illuminates the trauma resilience and determination of immigrants who come to the United States through the Diversity Visa Program and calls for the United States to develop policies that will better integrate them into society

Expanding Boundaries Jussi P. Laine, Inocent Moyo, Christopher Changwe Nshimbi, 2020-12-27 This book challenges the common European notions about African migration to Europe and offers a holistic understanding of the current situation in Africa It advocates a need to rethink Africa Europe relations and view migration and borders as a resource rather than sources of a crisis Migrant movement from Africa is often misunderstood and misrepresented as invasion caused by displacement due to poverty violent conflict and environmental stress To control this movement and preserve national identities the EU and its various member states resort to closing borders as a way of reinforcing their migration policies This book aims to dismantle this stereotypical view of migration from Africa by sharing cutting edge research from the leading scholars in Africa and Europe It refutes the flawed narratives that position Africa as a threat to the European societies their economies and security and encourages a nuanced understanding of the root causes as well as the socioeconomic factors that guide the migrants decision making With chapters written in a concise style this book brings together the migration and border studies in an innovative way to delve into the broader societal impacts of both It also serves to de silence the African voices in order to offer fresh insights on African migration a discourse dominated hitherto by the European perspective This book constitutes a valuable resource for research scholars and students of Border Studies Migration Studies Conflict and Security Studies and Development Studies seeking specialisation in these areas Written in an accessible style it will also appeal to a more general public interested in gaining a fuller perspective on the African reality Chapter 13 of this book is freely available as a downloadable Open Access PDF at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives CC BY NC ND 4.0 license

Experiences of Migration Odile Heynders, 2025-07-03 In the context of heated political and societal debates about migrants refugees and asylum seekers this book asks what singular people on migratory trajectories are experiencing and what their motives and hopes for travelling are The answers to this question will be found in literary fiction the book's main thesis being that it is in fiction in the creative invention of characters in time and space that we can find in depth knowledge on migratory experiences Although in most migration studies literature is left out because it is considered the opposite of academic reasoning this project starts in literary fiction and relates the imaginary work to concepts and topics discussed in migration studies hospitality asylum procedures in a city courage female migrants hope re settlement home country return migration In the interconnection of literary fiction and interdisciplinary research sensate knowledge is built as the interconnection of senses and intellectual thinking

The Oxford Handbook of Migration Crises Dr. Cecilia Menjivar, Dr. Marie Ruiz, Dr. Immanuel Ness, 2019-01-16 The objective of The Oxford Handbook of Migration Crises is to deconstruct question and redefine through a critical lens what is commonly understood as migration crises The volume covers a wide range of historical economic social political and environmental conditions that generate migration crises around the globe At the same time it illuminates how the media and public officials play a major role in framing migratory flows as crises The volume brings together an exceptional group of scholars from around the world to critically examine migration crises and to revisit the notion of crisis through the context in which permanent and non permanent migration flows occur The Oxford Handbook of Migration Crises offers an understanding of individuals in societies socio economic structures and group processes Focusing on migrants departures and arrivals in all continents this comprehensive handbook explores the social dynamics of migration crises with an emphasis on factors that propel these flows as well as the actors that play a role in classifying them and in addressing them The volume is organized into nine sections The first section provides a historical overview of the link between migration and crises The second looks at how migration crises are constructed while the third section contextualizes the causes and effects of protracted conflicts in producing crises The fourth focuses on the role of climate and the environment in generating migration crises while the fifth section examines these migratory flows in migration corridors and transit countries The sixth section looks at policy responses to migratory flows The last three sections look at the role media and visual culture gender and immigrant incorporation play in migration crises

Migration Control Logics and Strategies in Europe Claudia Finotelli, Irene Ponzo, 2023-04-24 Building upon the concept of migration regime this open access book brings together the works of scholars who have investigated logics and routines of action in the field of immigration control within a single and innovative theoretical framework The chapters cover a wide range of policy domains from visa policy to the externalisation of controls labour migration to asylum internal controls towards irregular migration to restrictions for intra EU mobility By unravelling organisational strategies and practices across Europe the book does not only contribute to dismantling the very idea of the European North South divide in migration but also shows how Europe really works in the field of migration in times of deep economic asylum and health crises In this perspective the book questions the widespread understanding of migration control outcomes as simply the result of more or less effective state policies without considering the embeddedness of the national policy goals and strategies in the dynamic interplay of different economies institutional cultures and geopolitical positions The Challenge of the Threshold Jocelyne

Streiff-Fenart,Aurelia Wa Kabwe-Segatti,2012-01-01 The recent containment policies aimed at regulating immigration flows towards Europe have profoundly altered the dynamics of migration in Africa The impact of these policies is apparent in the redefinitions of the routes itineraries and actors of migration But their effect can also be felt in migrant categories and identities and in the perceptions of migrants in the societies through which they transit or the communities which they have left behind By placing the problem of border control at the very heart of the migration issue the policies aimed at the restriction of migration flows have changed the meaning and significance of migration More than ever before both migrants and institutions in charge of border control construe migration mostly around the challenge of border crossing In the Global South the transit situation in which would be border jumpers are retained blurs the distinction between temporary migration and settlement This contributes to change in various ways the relationship to strangers from renewed forms of solidarities to the reactivation of latent xenophobic sentiment whether around the Mediterranean or en route towards South Africa the other migration hub on the continent The editors of this volume have decided to work on the notion of threshold as an operative concept for addressing the multiple dimensions of the issue the discursive and conceptual frameworks that constitute the backbone of threshold policies aiming to keep undesirables beyond borders the constitution of stopping places intermediate areas and relay towns which all represent threshold spaces that challenge local urban equilibria and the experience of liminality in which individuals caught for a time between two states as migrant on the road and as immigrant the state to which they aspire experience the typically ambiguous situations characteristic of threshold people Turner While ambitioning to innovate theoretically and methodologically the volume is above all An Anthology of Migration and Social

Transformation Anna Amelina,Kenneth Horvath,Bruno Meeus,2015-12-01 The contributions of this book examine contemporary dynamics of migration and mobility in the context of the general societal transformations that have taken place in Europe over the past few decades The book will help readers to better understand the manifold ways in which migration trends in the region are linked to changing political economic constellations orders of power and inequality and political discourses It begins with an introduction to a number of theoretical approaches that address the nexus between migration and general societal shifts including processes of supranationalisation EU enlargement postsocialist transformations and rescaling It then provides a comprehensive overview of the political regulation of migration through border control and immigration policies The contributions that follow detail the dynamic changes of individual migration patterns and their implications for the agency of mobile individuals The final part challenges the reader to consider how policies and practices of migration are linked to symbolic struggles over belonging and rights describing a wide range of expressions of such conflicts from cosmopolitanism to racism and xenophobia This book is aimed at researchers in various fields of the social sciences and can be used as course reading for undergraduate graduate and postgraduate courses in the areas of international migration transnational and European studies It will be a beneficial resource for scholars looking for material on the most current conceptual tools for analysis of the nexus of migration and societal transformation in Europe

Repairing Domestic Climate Displacement Scott Leckie,Chris Huggins,2015-08-27 Climate change sometimes thought of as a problem for the future is already impacting people s lives around the world families are losing their homes lands and livelihoods as a result of sea level rise increased frequency and intensity of storms drought and other phenomena Following several years of preparatory work across the globe legal scholars judges UN officials and climate change experts from 11 countries came together to finalise a new normative framework aiming to strengthen the right of climate displaced persons households and communities This resulted in the approval of the Peninsula Principles on Climate Displacement within States in August 2013 This book provides detailed explanations and interpretations of the Peninsula Principles and includes in depth discussion of the legal policy and programmatic efforts needed to uphold the standards and norms embedded in the Principles The book provides policy makers with the conceptual understanding necessary to ensure that national level policies are in place to respond to the climate displacement challenge as well as a firm sense of the programme level approaches that can be taken to anticipate reduce and manage climate displacement It also provides students and policy advocates with the necessary information to debate and critique responses to climate displacement at different levels Drawing together key thinkers in the field this volume will be of great relevance to scholars lawyers legal advisors and policy makers with an interest in climate change environmental policy disaster management and human rights law and policy

Borders and Mobility in South Asia and Beyond Reece Jones,Md. Azmeary Ferdoush,2025-10-01 Migration and borders are at the center of political debates in South Asia and around the world as more people migrate in search of safety and opportunity This book brings a deep engagement with individuals whose lives are shaped by encounters with borders by telling the stories of a poor Bangladeshi woman who regularly crosses the India border to visit family of Muslims from India living in Gulf countries for work and the harrowing journey of a young Afghan man as he sets off on foot to Germany The international and interdisciplinary work in this book contributes to this moment by analyzing how borders are experienced by migrants and borderlanders in South Asia how mobility and diaspora are engaged in literature and media and how the lives of migrants are transformed during their journey to new homes in South Asia the Middle East North America and Europe
