Modern China Xiaobing Li, 2016      Corruption and Anticorruption in Modern China Qiang Fang, Xiaobing Li, 2018-12-20

Corruption and Anti Corruption in Modern China collects essays from the scholars in their fields and examines the ongoing corruption in China by addressing this important topic from a historical perspective through a cooperative interdisciplinary research effort among Chinese American scholars interested in the subject. Their scholarship makes a significant contribution through multi faceted components from different fields such as history economics political science criminal justice and popular culture. The authors introduce and explore the theory and practice of policy patterns political systems and social institutions by identifying key issues in Chinese government and society contained within the larger framework of the international sphere. This book describes a historical transition when the Chinese Communist Party CCP maintained its forceful control of cities while the middle class reluctantly sacrificed its rights in exchange for retaining their economic benefits. To survive market economy the party leadership became more flexible and was able to adapt to economic and social change. The CCP governments in our research responded to the rising demands and expectations of the society. They were willing and able to cope with the middle class by making a few compromises and following certain legal procedures in exchange for continuing political support. These practical compromises characterized a new political culture in PRC history since 1949. The book voices the complaints and resentments in the cities and interprets government policies and legal practices. It emphasizes the consequence for governance human rights and commercial rule of law all of which threatens the legitimacy of the CCP. It also suggests an important evolution of the CCP. The reform movement since the 1980s has not yet contributed significantly to the country's democratic transformation or to its social stability. The leaders in the 1990s focused on liberal economic reform while discouraging and even stifling political reform. As a result economic interest groups successfully established an alliance with CCP officials to control economic policy making and to share political governance. In the 2010s Chinese leaders have paid special attention to political scandals corruption and mismanagement in the government and in the Party.

The Search for Modern China Jonathan D. Spence, 1990. This work chronicles the history of China for over four hundred years through the spring of 1989.

China Made Karl Gerth, 2020-05-11. Chinese people should consume Chinese products. This slogan was the catchphrase of a movement in early twentieth century China that sought to link consumption and nationalism by instilling a concept of China as a modern nation with its own national products. From fashions in clothing to food additives from museums to department stores from product fairs to advertising this movement influenced all aspects of China's burgeoning consumer culture. Anti imperialist boycotts commemorations of national humiliations exhibitions of Chinese products the vilification of treasonous consumers and the promotion of Chinese captains of industry helped enforce nationalistic consumption and spread the message patriotic Chinese bought goods made of Chinese materials by Chinese workers in factories owned and run by Chinese. In China Made Karl Gerth argues that two key forces shaping the modern world nationalism and consumerism developed in tandem in China Early in the twentieth century nationalism branded every commodity as either Chinese or foreign and consumer culture became the place where the notion of nationality was articulated institutionalized and practiced Based on Chinese Japanese and English language archives magazines newspapers and books this first exploration of the historical ties between nationalism and consumerism reinterprets fundamental aspects of modern Chinese history and suggests ways of discerning such ties in all modern nations

The History of Taiwan Xiaobing Li, 2019-10-25 This one volume handbook explores the history of Taiwan from its prehistory to its Japanese colonization to its tumultuous relationship with China in the 21st century This addition to the Greenwood Histories of the Modern Nations series focuses on significant events in the history of Taiwan from ancient history to the present Following the general series format the book opens with the series foreword and a chronology of key events in Taiwan's history Eleven chapters follow with half of the book focusing on the modern historic events that occurred post World War II Chapters examine topics and eras including Pre history and Early Civilization to 1100 Formosa The Dutch Colony 1622 1662 Cold War Island Conflicts and Control 1950 1972 and Democratization and Independence Movement 1996 2004 A glossary of terms and annotated bibliography rounds out the work making it an ideal resource for high school and undergraduate students as well as general readers who are looking for an introduction to Taiwan's history

Contemporary China Review [2024 Spring/Summer Issue] Journal Editors, 2024-07-25 As the Year 2024 has already passed half I sincerely hope and pray for world peace and for people to live and work in peace But looking ahead I believe the future will still not be peaceful The Russian Ukrainian war is still raging and the people are suffering The Israeli Hamas conflict seems to have no signs of stopping and the US election is surging As I said before the three major divisions facing the world are presented at the same time this year the Russian Ukrainian war is a major division between the democratic and dictatorial camps the US election is a major left right division and the Israeli Hamas conflict has surpassed the left right division and the democracy dictatorship division Is the world heading for doomsday We wait and see Health Care

Transformation in Contemporary China Jiong Tu, 2018-06-12 This multifaceted book examines the free market reform of the Chinese healthcare system in the 1980s and the more collectivist or socialist counter reforms that have been implemented since 2009 to remedy some of the problems introduced by marketization The book is based on an ethnographical study in a Chinese county from 2011 to 2012 which investigated local people's experience of healthcare reforms and the various ways in which they have adapted their own behavior to the constraints and opportunities introduced by these reforms It provides a vivid depiction of the morality and emotionality of people's experiences of the Chinese healthcare system and the myriad frustrations and sometimes desperation it induces not only among patients with significant health problems and their families but also healthcare practitioners caught between their desire to do right by their patients and the penalties they personally incur if they do not adhere to institutionalized cost saving measures The people's experiences within China's health sector presented reflect many similar experiences in the wider Chinese society The book is thus a valuable resource for researchers and graduate students interested in China's healthcare reforms and scholars concerned with issues of contemporary Chinese society

Hybrid Modernity Mary Padua, 2020-07-26 This book provides a detailed historical and design analysis of the development of parks and modern landscape architecture in late 20th century China It questions whether the fusion of international influences with the local Chinese design vocabulary in late 20th century China has created a distinctive and novel approach to the design of public parks Hybrid Modernity proposes a new theory for examining the design of public parks built in post Mao China since the reforms and sets the various processes for China's late 20th century socio cultural context Drawing on modernization theory research on China's modernity local and global cultural trends it illustrates through a range of case studies ways hybrid modernity defines a new design genre and language for the spatial forms of parks that emerged in China's secondary cities Featured case studies include the Living Water Park in Chengdu Sichuan province Zhongshan Shipyard Park in Guangdong Province Jinji Lake Landscape Master Plan in Suzhou Jiangsu province and the West Lake Southern Scenic Area Master Plan in Hangzhou Zhejiang province This book argues that these forms represent a new stage in China's history of landscape architecture The work reveals that as a new profession landscape architecture has greatly contributed to China's massive urban experiment This book is an ideal read for students enrolled in landscape architecture architecture fine arts and urban planning programs who are engaged in learning the arts and international design education

Tibetan Buddhists in the Making of Modern China Gray Tuttle, 2005 Gray Tuttle reveals the surprising role Buddhism and Buddhist leaders played in the development of the modern Chinese state and in fostering relations between Tibet and China from the Republican period 1912-1949 to the early years of Communist rule Tuttle offers new insights on the impact of modern ideas of nationalism race and religion in East Asia He draws on previously unexamined archival and governmental materials as well as personal memoirs of Chinese politicians and Buddhist monks and ephemera from religious ceremonies

From Empire to Nation State Yan Sun, 2020-09-17 A historical political perspective on China's contemporary ethnic strife caused by its incomplete transition from empire to nation state

The Politics of Cultural Capital Julia Lovell, 2006-03-31 In the 1980s China's politicians writers and academics began to raise an increasingly urgent question why had a Chinese writer never won a Nobel Prize for literature Promoted to the level of official policy issue and national complex Nobel anxiety generated articles conferences and official delegations to Sweden Exiled writer Gao Xingjian's win in 2000 failed to satisfactorily end the matter and the controversy surrounding the Nobel committee's choice has continued to simmer Julia Lovell's comprehensive study of China's obsession spans the twentieth century and taps directly into the key themes of modern Chinese culture national identity international status and the relationship between intellectuals and politics The intellectual preoccupation with the Nobel literature prize expresses tensions inherent in China's move toward a global culture after the collapse of the Confucian world view at the start of the twentieth century and particularly since China's re-entry into the world economy in the post Mao era. Attitudes toward the prize reveal the same contradictory mix of admiration, resentment, and anxiety that intellectuals and writers have long felt toward Western values as they struggled to shape a modern Chinese identity. In short, the Nobel complex reveals the pressure points in an intellectual community not entirely sure of itself. Making use of extensive original research including interviews with leading contemporary Chinese authors and critics, The Politics of Cultural Capital is a comprehensive up-to-date treatment of an issue that cuts to the heart of modern and contemporary Chinese thought and culture. It will be essential reading for scholars of modern Chinese literature and culture, globalization, post-colonialism, and comparative and world literature.

Contemporary China in Anglo-American and Chinese Perspectives Emre Demir, 2022-12-29 This book identifies differing approaches to the issues of conceptualising hegemony, hegemony building processes, and the relationship between a hegemonic state and a rising power. It focuses on transformations of the Chinese state, society, and political economy, China's rapidly ascending status in the world order, and changing relations with the outside world, in particular with the US. Bringing together mainstream and critical approaches from Anglo-America and China, which occupy different positions in the core-periphery structure of social sciences knowledge production, and provide diverging standpoints to understanding the phenomenon of a rising China, the book questions the existing division of labour in IR and in general social sciences knowledge production. Through the lenses of multiple Anglo-American and Chinese scholars, it offers a nuanced and multifaceted view on the issue and focuses on a direct comparison of different localized perspectives. The author scrutinizes the heterogeneity of knowledge, the relationship between power and knowledge production, and the region-centricity, in particular the Western-centricity of knowledge production, by analysing the discourse on the re-rising status of China in the world. The book problematizes the close link between power and knowledge production and presents a more critical view on the conclusions drawn by each approach. Offering an understanding of the nexus between knowledge production and power structures, the heterogeneity and multiplicity of knowledge, and the influence of locality on the knowledge produced in social sciences, the book will be of interest to academics working in the fields of International Relations, theories, critical approaches, non-Western theories, Euro or Western centrism, and social sciences in China, Area Studies, in particular China and East Asia.

A Nation-State by Construction Suisheng Zhao, 2004 This is the first historically comprehensive up-to-date analysis of the causes, content, and consequences of nationalism in China, an ancient empire that has struggled to construct a nation-state and find its place in the modern world. It shows how Chinese political elites have competed to promote different types of nationalism linked to their political values and interests and imposed them on the nation while trying to repress other types of nationalism. In particular, the book reveals how leaders of the PRC have adopted a pragmatic strategy to use nationalism while struggling to prevent it from turning into a menace rather than a prop.

Stateness, Locality, and Grassroots Governance Xianhong Tian, 2025-03-12 Based on fieldwork in rural areas of Hubei, Zhejiang, Guangdong, Sichuan, Henan, and other provinces, this book adopts a stateness and locality analytical framework to systematically study the process and mechanism of shaping peasant petitions by the state revealing the relationship between the state and farmers in contemporary China It tries to explore the deep code of state governance describe the characteristics of China's state and summarize the micro experience and mechanism of state construction This book tries to put forward the path of state building with compound country and holds that contemporary China is a compound country with both tradition and modernity On the one hand the state is increasingly focusing on the introduction and creation of modern governance rules on the other hand traditional rules still play an important role in national governance More importantly traditional rules and modern rules are often intertwined to jointly influence the shape of national governance which not only shapes the Chinese road of state building but also adds many uncertain factors to China's path toward a modern state The most important features and benefits of the book are 1 The field investigation of this book is in depth and the data is relatively solid and systematic The author explains the interactive relationship between the government state and farmers through rich and readable stories of farmers petitions 2 This book deeply analyzes the function mechanism of village social structure factors such as clan faction and stratum differentiation in farmers petitions While paying attention to the interaction process between the state and society it also pays attention to the function of structural variables so as to unify the structure and process 3 From the perspective of the relationship between state power and rural society this book divides China's rural areas into four types developed eastern areas clan areas family fragmentation areas and atomized areas On this basis it analyzes the regional differences of farmers petitioning behavior

Africa in World Affairs Rajen Harshé, 2019-04-03 Africa finds itself at the centre stage of world politics in the twenty first century To truly determine its rising influence and role in world affairs would mean unravelling the politics of imperialism the Cold War and globalisation Going beyond Euro American perspectives this book presents a comprehensive study of Africa and its role in world politics Africa in World Affairs Closely examines the transition of Africa in its colonial and post colonial phases Explores the intellectual history of modern Africa through liberation struggles social movements leaders and thinkers Investigates the continent's relationships with former colonial powers such as Britain France and Portugal untangles complexities of French neo colonialism and sheds light on the role of the superpower such as the USA and major and rising powers like China and India Highlights complex and wide ranging diversities of the region and the ways in which it continues to negotiate with issues of modernity racism and globalisation A core text on Africa and the world this book will be indispensable for students of African studies politics and international relations and history It will also be a must read for policymakers diplomats and government think tanks

China's Unequal Treaties Dong Wang, 2005-10-01 This study based on primary sources deals with the linguistic development and polemical uses of the expression Unequal Treaties which refers to the treaties China signed between 1842 and 1946 Although this expression has occupied a central position in both Chinese collective memory and Chinese and English historiographies this is the first book to offer an in depth examination of China's encounters with the outside world as manifested in the rhetoric surrounding the Unequal Treaties. Author Dong Wang argues that competing forces within China have narrated and renarrated the history of the treaties in an effort to consolidate national unity, international independence and political legitimacy and authority. In the twentieth century, she shows China's experience with these treaties helped to determine their use of international law. Of great relevance for students of contemporary China and Chinese history as well as Chinese international law and politics, this book illuminates how various Chinese political actors have defined and redefined the past using the framework of the Unequal Treaties.

The Global and Regional in China's Nation-Formation Prasenjit Duara, 2008-12. Covers the major historical problems of China in the twentieth century, namely imperialism, nationalism, state building, religion, and the role of history from the perspective of global and regional circulations and interactions. Disability in Contemporary China Sarah Dauncey, 2020-09-24. The first comprehensive exploration of disability and citizenship in Chinese society and culture from 1949 to the present day. Coming to Terms with the Nation Thomas Mullaney, 2011-12-27. Studies China's Ethnic classification project, minzu shibie of 1954, conducted in Yunnan province. Silk Road to Belt Road Md. Nazrul

Islam, 2018-11-30. This volume approaches China's Belt and Road Initiative as a process of culturalization, one that started with the Silk Road and continued over the millennium. In mainstream literature, the Belt and Road Initiative (BRI) has been portrayed as the geo-economic vision and geo-political ambition of China's current leaders, intended to shape the future of the world. However, this volume argues that although geo-politics and geo-economy may play their part, the BRI more importantly creates a venue for the meeting of cultures by promoting people-to-people interaction and exchange. This volume explores the journey from the Silk Road to Belt Road by analyzing topics ranging from history to religion, from language to culture and from environment to health. As such, scholars, academics, researchers, undergraduate and graduate students from the Humanities, Social Sciences, and Business will find an alternative approach to the Belt and Road Initiative.
