Morgan, 2001 Reimagining Singapore Chee-Hoo Lum, Juliette Yu-Ming Lizeray, Chor Leng Twardzik Ching, 2023-08-01 This book approaches the subject of contemporary art by exploring the social embeddedness and identities of Singaporean artists Linking artistic processes and production to both personal worlds and wider issues the book examines how artists negotiate their relationships between self and society and between artistic freedom and social responsibility It is based on original research into the discourses and artistic practices of local artists with a special focus on emerging artists and artists whose work and perspectives engage with questions of identity Reimagining contemporary Singapore and their place within it artists are asserting their multiple and heterogeneous self identities and contesting hegemonic norms and notions as they negotiate and adapt to the world around them This book is relevant to students and researchers in the fields of cultural studies media studies art sociology of art arts education and race and ethnicity studies Movement, Time, Technology, and Art Christina Chau, 2017-06-12 This book explores the ways in which artists use technology to create different perceptions of time in art in order to reflect on contemporary relationships to technology By considering the links between technology movement and contemporary art the book explores changing relationship between temporality in art art history media art theory modernity contemporary art and digital art This book challenges the dominant view that kinetic art is an antiquated artistic experiment and considers the changing perception of kinetic art by focusing on exhibitions and institutions that have recently challenged the notion of kinetic art as a marginalised and forgotten artistic experiment with mechanical media This is achieved by deconstructing Frank Popper s argument that kinetic art is a precursor to subsequent explorations in the intersections between art science and technology Rather than pandering to the prevailing art historical assumption that

kinetic sculpture is merely a precursor to art in a digital culture the book proposes that perhaps kineticism succeeded too well where movement has become a ubiquitous element of the aesthetic of contemporary art If as Boris Groys has recently suggested installation has become the dominant mode of art in the contemporary age then movement in real time with the viewer is used to aestheticise and explore the facets of our peculiar time Olafur Eliasson Olafur Eliasson,Zentrum für Kunst und Medientechnologie Karlsruhe,2001 An anthology of essays on art and science interwoven with the work of the Icelandic artist Olafur Eliasson Tate Modern Artists: Olafur Eliasson Marcella Beccaria,2013-10-29 Covers Eliasson s major works from his early days to the present exploring his inspiration and achievements The Art of Women in Contemporary China Patricia Eichenbaum Karetzky,2020-01-08 This book presents in eight chapters the work of over 75 Chinese female artists both pictorial and poetic Their art is viewed within a framework of eight themes The broad topics explored include the body life the representation of the experience of being a woman home and the world a view of children and other women clothes social conscience fantasy and abstraction nonfigurative work and its viability as a medium to express the spiritual These themes provide several lenses through which to enjoy and compare these artists approaches and outputs The volume is unique in its inclusion of poetry by contemporary women whose voices articulate so many of the same concerns as the visual artists In China poetry has always been the prime form of artistic expression and it remains so today Looking at this poetry affords us a different means of appreciating the art of women in contemporary society 3D Jens Schröter,2014-01-30 There is a blind spot in recent accounts of the history theory and aesthetics of optical media namely the field of the three dimensional or trans plane image It has been widely used in the 20th century for very different practices military scientific and medical visualization precisely because it can provide more spatial information And now in the 21st century television and film are employing the method even more Appearing for the first time in English Jens Schroeter s comprehensive study of the aesthetics of the 3D image is a major scholarly addition to this evolving field Citing case studies from the history of both technology and the arts this wide ranging and authoritative book charts the development in the theory and practice of three dimensional images Discussing and analyzing the transformation of the socio cultural and technological milieu Schroeter has produced a work of scholarship that combines impressive historical scope with contemporary theoretical arguments Art in America Frank Jewett Mather,Frederic Fairchild Sherman,2003

Entangled Worlds Catherine Keller,Mary-Jane Rubenstein,2017-08-08 Historically speaking theology can be said to operate materiaphobically Protestant Christianity in particular has bestowed upon theology a privilege of the soul over the body and belief over practice in line with the distinction between a disembodied God and the inanimate world He created Like all other human social and natural sciences religious studies imported these theological dualisms into a purportedly secular modernity mapping them furthermore onto the distinction between a rational enlightened Europe on the one hand and a variously emotional primitive and animist non Europe on the other The new materialisms currently coursing through cultural feminist political and queer theories seek to displace human privilege by attending to the agency of matter itself Far from being passive or inert they show us that matter acts creates destroys and transforms and as such is more of a process than a thing Entangled Worlds examines the intersections of religion and new and old materialisms Calling upon an interdisciplinary throng of scholars in science studies religious studies and theology it assembles a multiplicity of experimental perspectives on materiality What is matter how does it materialize and what sorts of worlds are enacted in its varied entanglements with divinity While both theology and religious studies have over the past few decades come to prioritize the material contexts and bodily ecologies of more than human life Entangled Worlds sets forth the first multivocal conversation between religious studies theology and the body of the new materialism Here disciplines and traditions touch transgress and contaminate one another across their several carefully specified contexts And in the responsiveness of this mutual touching of science religion philosophy and theology the growing complexity of our entanglements takes on a consistent ethical texture of urgency

Curating in a Time of Ecological Crisis Felicity Fenner, 2022-01-31 Curating in a Time of Ecological Crisis reaffirms the relevance and impactful role of art revealing how contemporary art exhibitions can capture the zeitgeist and advance new and collaborative approaches to a more sustainable inhabitation of Earth The book is largely focused on biennales which it argues are the contemporary exhibition models with the greatest capacity to offer new perspectives and propose alternative ways of connecting with our social and natural environments Felicity Fenner demonstrates this by showing how curators of these high profile exhibitions are responding in creative and engaging ways to the issues that preoccupy artists and society more broadly of which the ecological crisis is paramount Drawing on case studies from different parts of the world the author reveals how biennales can make a constructive contribution to debates and attitudes around climate change and how the role of the curator has evolved to re embrace a duty of care not just to art but to the natural world as well Curating in a Time of Ecological Crisis investigates how large scale exhibitions of contemporary international art can become agents of change As such the book will be essential reading for scholars students and practitioners with an interest in exhibitions curating contemporary art and environmental sustainability

PressPLAY Mark C. Taylor, 2005-09 50 contemporary artists interviewed by 50 of today's key art thinkers Music, Art and Performance from Liszt to Riot Grrrl Diane V. Silverthorne, 2018-10-18 Opening with an account of print portraiture facilitating Franz Liszt's celebrity status and concluding with Riot Grrrl's noisy politics of feminism and performance this interdisciplinary anthology charts the relationship between music and the visual arts from late Romanticism and the birth of modernism to postmodernism while crossing from Western art to the Middle East Focused on music as a central experience of art and life these essays scrutinize the musicalisation of art focusing on the visual and performing arts and detailing significant instances of intra art relations between c 1840 and the present day Essays reflect on the aesthetic relationships of music to painting performance and installation sound and silence time and space The insistent influence of Wagner is considered as well as the work and ideas of Manet Satie and Cage Thomas Wilfred La Monte Young and Eliasson What distinguishes these studies are the convictions that music is never alone and that a full understanding of the isms of the last two hundred years is best achieved when music's influential presence in the visual arts is acknowledged and interrogated

Performance and the City Kim Solga, S. Orr, D.J. Hopkins, 2016-04-30 Winner of the Association for Theatre in Higher Education Excellence in Editing Award 2016 Urban studies has long understood the city as a text What would it mean now to use performance to rethink that metaphor Performance and the City queries the role theatre and performance play in urban policy architecture and civic history while also exploring their important place in the memories created in the wake of urban trauma

Architecture in Abjection Zuzana Kovar, 2017-11-30 This book marks a turning point in architectural theory by using philosophy to examine the field anew Breaking from the traditional dualism within architecture which presents the body as subject and space as object it examines how such rigid boundaries can be softened Zuzana Kovar thus engages with complementary and complex ideas from architecture philosophy feminist theory and other subjects demonstrating how both bodies and bodily functions relate deeply to architecture Extending philosopher Julia Kristeva's notion of abjection the confrontation of one's own corporeality as something is excreted Kovar finds parallels in the concept of the scaffold Much like living bodies and their products can impact on the buildings that house them old skin cells create dust menstrual blood stains our breath heats and cools surfaces scaffolding is similarly ephemeral and yet not entirely separable from the architecture it supports Kovar shifts the conversation about abjection towards a more nuanced idea of architecture where living organisms building matter space decay and waste are all considered as part of a continual process drawing on the key informing works of thinkers like Gilles Deleuze and Felix Guattari to do this Including a number of experimental projects conducted in the spaces inhabited by the author herself to illuminate the theory at its core the book forms a distinguished and pioneering study designed for practitioners and scholars of architecture philosophy and visual culture alike

Multiculturalism in Art Museums Today Joni Boyd Acuff, Laura Evans, 2014-07-08 Aimed at museum educators Multiculturalism in Art Museums Today seeks to marry museum and multicultural education theories It reveals how the union of these theories yields more equitable educational practices and guides museum educators to address misrepresentation exclusivity accessibility and educational inequality This contemporary text is directive it encourages museum educators to consider the critical multicultural education theoretical framework in their day to day functions in order to illuminate and combat shortcomings at the crux of museum education

Museum Educators as Change Agents Inclusion versus Exclusion
Collaboration with Diverse Audiences
Responsive Pedagogy

This book adopts a broad definition of multiculturalism which names not only race and ethnicity as concerns but also gender sexual orientation religion ability age and class While focusing on these various facets of identity the authors demonstrate how museums are social systems that should offer comprehensive diverse educational experiences not only through exhibitions but through other educational activities The authors pull from their own research and practical experiences which exemplify how museums have been and can be attentive to these areas of identity

Multiculturalism in Art Museums Today is hopeful and inspiring as it identifies and commends the positive and effective practices that some museum educators have enacted in an effort to be inclusive Museum educators are at the front line interacting with the public on a daily basis Thus these educators can be the real vanguard of change modeling critical multicultural behavior and practices
