Pdf Labour Subjectivity Foucault Biopolitics Critique:

The Labour of Subjectivity Andrea Rossi, 2015-11-30 Michel Foucault defined critique as an exercise in de-subjectivation. To what extent did this claim shape his philosophical practice? What are its theoretical and ethical justifications? Why did Foucault come to view the production of subjectivity as a key site of political and intellectual emancipation in the present? Andrea Rossi pursues these questions in The Labour of Subjectivity. The book re-examines the genealogy of the politics of subjectivity that Foucault began to outline in his lectures at the Collège de France in the late 1970s and early 1980s. He explores Christian confession, raison d'état, biopolitics and bioeconomy as the different technologies by which Western politics has attempted to produce, regulate and give form to the subjectivity of its subjects. Ultimately, Rossi argues that Foucault's critical project can only be comprehended within the context of this historico-political trajectory as an attempt to give the extant politics of the self a new horizon.

Precarious Labour and Informal Economy Smita Yadav, 2018-06-13 An empirical account of one of India's largest indigenous populations, this book tells the story of the Gonds who currently face displacement and governmental control of the region's forests, which has crippled their economy. Rather than protesting and calling for state intervention, the Gonds have turned toward an informal economy; they not only engage with flexible forms of work but also bargain for higher wages and experience agency and autonomy. Smita Yadav conceives of this withdrawal from the state in favour of precarious forms of work as an expression of anarchy by this marginalized population. Even as she provides rich detail of the Gonds' unusual working lives, which integrate work, labour and debt practices with ideologies of family and society, Yadav illustrates the strength required to maintain dignity when a welfare state has failed.

Ethics and Science Education: How Subjectivity Matters Jesse Bazzul, 2016-05-24 This book encapsulates a line of research that looks at how students are positioned as ethical actors/decision makers in biology education by science policy, curriculum and classroom resources. Its basis comes from a textbook study that examined how biology texts work to constitute subjectivities related to neoliberalism and global capitalism, sex, gender and sexuality and ethics. The study found that textbook discourses set limits on the types of ethical concerns represented by the modes of ethical engagement and the dispositions necessary to engage in ethical action or decision making Policy reform regulation and personal lifestyle choices were the primary ways students could approach ethical decision making or action While these approaches are useful they are likely not sufficient for dealing with major twenty first century problems such as climate change and social inequality along with new ethical dimensions introduced by biotechnologies and genomic research This research brief sets a context for how discourses of science education policy and curricula work to shape a subject of ethics that is how students come to see themselves as participants in issues of ethical concern Drawing from a structural poststructural philosophical approach Science and Technology Studies educational research and a methodology based on discourse analysis and ethnography this book's overall goal is to assist with research into subjectivity ethics politics policy and socioscientific issues in science education

Gender, Subjectivity, and Cultural Work Christina Scharff, 2017-09-27 What is it like to work as a classical musician today How can we explain ongoing gender racial and class inequalities in the classical music profession What happens when musicians become entrepreneurial and think of themselves as a product that needs to be sold and marketed Gender Subjectivity and Cultural Work explores these and other questions by drawing on innovative empirical research on the working lives of classical musicians in Germany and the UK Indeed Scharff examines a range of timely issues such as the gender racial and class inequalities that characterise the cultural and creative industries the ways in which entrepreneurialism as an ethos to work on and improve the self is lived out and the subjective experiences of precarious work in so called creative cities Thus this book not only adds to our understanding of the working lives of artists and creatives but also makes broader contributions by exploring how precarity neoliberalism and inequalities shape subjective experiences Contributing to a range of contemporary debates around cultural work Gender Subjectivity and Cultural Work will be of interest to scholars and students in the fields of Sociology Gender and Cultural Studies

Critique and Resistance in a Neoliberal Age Charles Masquelier, 2017-02-08 This book lays the conceptual groundwork for a coalition of struggles under the neoliberal age In doing so the author demonstrates that despite talk of fragmentation divisions and conflicts the present situation offers fresh opportunities for connecting diverse solidarities Critique and Resistance in a Neoliberal Age explores what connects individuals not only between neoliberal conditions of economic cultural and environmental domination but also in resistance It also highlights the transformative power of human action by grounding neoliberal processes in human action and demonstrating the relevance of and opportunities for emancipatory politics today Offering a critique oriented towards social change informed by a broad range of theoretical traditions and empirical research the book will be of interest to students and scholars in the fields of sociology politics and philosophy as well as those interested in the possibilities for social change

Teachers as Health Workers Louise McCuaig, Eimear Enright, Tony Rossi, Doune Macdonald, 2021-12-30 Schooling has long been held responsible for the health and well being of children However against an international background of rising concern about students performance and well being schools and teachers have faced escalating expectations of their health related work While various stakeholders have ideas about what teachers health work entails we know little about teachers contributions engagement and personal satisfaction with this work As teachers work represents a significant national investment insight into the cost benefit of teachers health work is vital to establishing the broader economic contribution of schools to society Teachers as Health Workers offers a critical perspective on these matters documenting the day to day work of Australian teachers as they grapple with the challenges and joys of balancing education and health related responsibilities Whilst shifts in policy economics and globalisation influence localised enactment of teachers health work the economic modelling theorising and methodological innovations of this research address enduring themes and challenges Consequently this book s critical perspective reveals policy practice gaps in government strategies seeking to create a healthy and productive population The book will inform education health and industrial policies and provide direction for teachers initial or ongoing preparation as health workers

Fundamental British Values, Michel Foucault, and Religious Education Teacher Subjectivity Francis Farrell, 2023-05-17 This book contributes to the small but growing critical literature on fundamental British values and the Prevent strategy in the British education system Focusing specifically on RE a subject concerned with multiculturalism difference and pluralism the book will argue that there is a tension between the aims of RE and the agenda of fundamental British values The author argues that fundamental British values and the requirements of the Prevent duty 2015 amount to a securitization of education which fundamentally alters the relationship between teachers and learners The book presents these developments in education policy as a radical discursive shift drawing from in depth individual and group interviews with 52 secondary teachers of religious education the book foregrounds the views of BAME teachers and argues for a nuanced and inclusive approach to civic and values education

Cultural Sustainability and Arts Education Benjamin Jörissen, Lisa Unterberg, Tanja Klepacki, 2023-01-01 This book is based on the topics questions and results of the international conference Aesthetics of Transformation Arts Education Research and the Challenge of Cultural Sustainability It aims to foster and sharpen the understanding of the potential role of arts education and arts education research for cultural sustainability In an ever more complex and interconnected world culture is a valuable resource for sustainable development Based on the thesis that the change towards sustainability has to be a change that starts with cultural practices of perception and knowledge this book makes an important contribution to the broad discourse on cultural sustainability which has begun to emerge in recent years In this context the volume first deals with Intangible Cultural Heritage and how aesthetic practices and certain forms of art are changing through cultural transformation processes Subsequently it focuses on issues such as arts and cultural education in times of neoliberalism post migration and post coloniality as well as on arts and cultural education under conditions of digital transformation These theoretical and empirical contributions are complemented by insights into field trips to institutions and exemplary places of practice showing different representations of educational art practices cultural heritage and cultural sustainability Against this background the book finally offers responses and commentaries that can form the starting point for a far reaching interactive dialogical process on the utmost importance of cultural aesthetic and arts education as part of a global endeavor for sustainable development Michel Houellebecq and the Literature of

Despair Carole Sweeney, 2013-11-21 Widely acknowledged as an important if highly controversial figure in contemporary literature French novelist and poet Michel Houellebecq has elicited diverse critical responses In this book Carole Sweeney examines his novels as a response to the advance of neoliberalism into all areas of affective human life This historicizing study argues that le monde houellebecquien is an atomised society of banal quotidian alienation populated by quietly resentful men who are the botched subjects of late capitalism Addressing Houellebecq's handling of the failure of the radical thought of 68 Sweeney looks at the ways in which his fiction treats feminism the decline of religion and the family as well as the obsolescence of French theory and the Sartrean notion of engaged literature Reading the world with the disappointed idealism of a contemporary moralist Houellebecq's novels Sweeney argues fluctuate between despair for the world as it is and a limp utopian hope for a post humanity Marxisms in the 21st Century Michelle Williams, Vishwas Satgar, 2013-12-01

The current resurgence of Marxism is based on new sources of inspiration and creativity from movements that seek democratic egalitarian and ecological alternatives to capitalism The Marxism of many of these movements is neither dogmatic nor prescriptive but rather open searching utopian It revolves around four primary factors the importance of democracy for an emancipatory project the ecological limits of capitalism the crisis of global capitalism and the learning of lessons from the failures of Marxist inspired experiments Marxisms in the Twenty First Century challenges vanguardist Marxism featured in South Africa and beyond Featuring leading thinkers from the Left the book offers provocative ideas on interpreting our current world and serves as an excellent introduction to new ways of thinking about Marxism to students and scholars in the field Many anti capitalist traditions and themes including democracy globalisation feminism critique and ecology inform and shape the contributions in this volume Spaces of Governmentality Martina Tazzioli, 2014-11-24 Much work has been done on the causes and characteristics of the Arab Spring but relatively little research has examined the political and spatial consequences that have developed following the uprisings This book engages with the ways in which spaces in Southern Europe and Northern Africa have been negotiated and transformed by migrants in the wake of the uprisings showing that their struggles are a continuation of their political movement Drawing on an innovative countermapping approach based on radical cartography Martina Tazzioli illustrates the spatial upheavals caused by migration in the Mediterranean and the transformations created by migration controls applied by European nations With critical insight on the application of Foucault's concept of governmentality to migration studies exploration of a reconfigured theory of autonomy of migration and discussion of the politics of invisibility that underpins migration this book sheds new light on the enduring struggles that follow the Arab Spring Crisis, Austerity, and Everyday Life Gargi

Authority, Experience and the Life of Power Claire Blencowe, Julian Brigstocke, Leila Dawney, 2016-04-14 Taking up the challenge of understanding power in its complexity this volume returns to and revitalises the concept of authority It provides a powerful analysis of the ways that relationships of trust attachment governance and inequality become possible when subjectivities and bodies are invested in the life of power The collection offers a vibrant new analysis of the biopolitical arguing that experience of life has become equated with objectivity in contemporary culture and has thus become a primary basis of authority Biopolitical or experiential authority can be generated through reference to a variety of experiences performances or intensities of life including creativity radicalism risk taking experimentation inter relation suffering and proximity to death The authority producing capacities of community and aesthetics are key issues pointing to vexed relationships between politics and policing inventiveness and violence The contributors develop their theoretical analyses through discussion of a range of specific sites including mental health service user and survivor politics biological knowledge refugee activism stories of suffering urban art anarchism neo liberal community politics and marketization Authority Experience the Life of Power challenges thinking on what the political is and isn't pushing against the all too easy equivocation of revolutionary break and empowerment This book was published as a special issue of the Journal of Political Power

Young People and Uncertain Futures? James Goring, Peter Kelly, 2025-08-29 Drawing on Foucault's genealogical ethos and his work on power knowledge subjects this book analyses the ways in which neo liberal education apparatuses in Australia and other high income economies frame the problem of young people and uncertain futures The book critically examines the character of the presents and futures of education training and work and of the planet that have been produced in globalising neo liberal capitalism during the last four decades and which see in the development of young people's enterprise and aspiration the solutions to multiple crises and uncertainties It analyses how and why young people's behaviours and dispositions have been made knowable in these ways and the limits and possibilities that they produce for understanding what young people must be and become The book draws on post humanist feminist studies of techno science and futures studies to explore the promise of more socially just and sustainable futures for young people A thought provoking study for scholars and students of the sociology of education and of youth and society it will be invaluable for policymakers governments NGOs educators and undergraduate and postgraduate students interested in young people and the crises of capitalism earth systems and the biosphere

Language Policy and Political Economy Thomas Ricento, 2015 English is the common denominator that unites the work presented in this volume it provides a focal point to illustrate the ways in which a political economic approach can account for a range of phenomena in diverse settings in which a global language has attained a special status as an often perceived tool for socioeconomic mobility The findings reveal the complex ways in which government leaders and policymakers as well as communities and individuals in those communities make decisions within a global economy about the languages that will be taught as subjects or used as media of instruction in schools Whether or not the Straight for English policy that has become popular in various countries in southern Africa and elsewhere is a good or bad idea in terms of improving school completion and literacy rates English is often promoted by its advocates as a social good with unquestioned instrumental value yet access to quality English medium education in low income countries is mostly restricted to those with sufficient economic means to pay for it As the capitalist world economy undergoes transformations and assuming that translation technologies continue to improve it is likely that the roles and relative importance that English as a global language has enjoyed over the past century will change significantly Synchronic contextual analyses of English in various countries and regions are snapshots of a moving target with fuzzy boundaries this is even more so the case when the object of analysis is lingua franca English a fluid contextually realized practice that may be described in situ which is not stable and likely never will be The degree to which English serves effectively as a lingua franca depends on who the interlocutors are the situation and the extent to which interlocutors interests and goals are mutually compatible and understood
