Children's Mathematics Elizabeth Carruthers, Maulfry Worthington, 2006-08-30 In Case Study 5 a grassroots Children's Mathematics Network group the initiative supported the participants in their professional change by giving them a space for the detailed and joint consideration of children's mathematical thinking. Another significant feature of this initiative is its focus on careful consideration and analysis of children's mathematics and the ways in which professionals can support and encourage the children's mathematical thinking and reasoning. The standard of the mathematical understanding thinking and reasoning that the displays revealed was far higher than the specified curriculum objectives for children of this age. Researching Effective CPD in Mathematics Education RECME project NCETM 2009. The review also plays great score by play based learning of a mathematical nature and makes specific recommendations regarding early mark making as a precursor to abstract mathematical symbolism. Section 115 features children's mathematical graphics and emphasises. The role of mark making in children's cognitive development is set out in the taxonomy Carruthers and Worthington 2006. The report recommends that local authorities leaders managers and head teachers should provide a culture with a significant focus on mathematical mark making and a learning environment that encourages children to choose to use their own mathematical graphics to support their mathematical thinking and processes. The Williams Maths Review DCSF 2008. At the very heart of the success of the book is the authors ability to see mathematics through young children's eyes by listening to and reflecting on the constant efforts made by children to make sense of their world. This is a liberating book which proposes that the teaching of mathematics could and should be a highly creative and enjoyable process. Branwen Llewelyn Jones Early Years Consultant at PACE Ltd TACTYC. Ground breaking. To single out any one chapter would be unfair because there is something thought provoking and inspirational throughout. If you want to expand your understanding upwards and outwards then get a copy soon. Times Educational Supplement. I first read Children's Mathematics Making Marks Making Meaning a couple of years ago and it had an immediate impact on my own thinking and teaching and the work I do with trainee teachers. I'm sure you will find it compelling reading too. I think it has the potential to change in a fundamental way how we think about early mathematical development. Lynne McClure Editor Math Coordinator's File Mathematics Association. In their exceptionally readable and informative book Children's Mathematics Making Marks Making Meaning Carruthers and Worthington 2006 draw attention to one of the main goals of early years teaching that is to help children make links between the mathematics they have already encountered and continue to engage with at home and the more abstract mathematics of the school. These authors suggest that by encouraging children to represent mathematical ideas in their own ways and crucially by talking to the pupils about the marks they have made we are given a window onto their thinking that may otherwise be inaccessible. Liz Pumphrey NRICH. This book draws on the authors many years of teaching children aged three to eight years and also on their extensive research with children in the home nursery and school. The authors explain the development and range of young children's mathematical marks and visual representations showing how children make mental connections between their own early marks and subsequent abstract mathematical symbolism and go on to develop their own written methods. Combining theory and practice this acclaimed book demonstrates how children's own mathematical graphics are highly creative and show deep levels of thinking The authors show how this is the key to success in school mathematics and to higher levels of achievement The authors are winners of TACTYC s 2003 Jenefer Joseph Award for the Creative Arts 3 8 awarded for their innovative work with children on mathematical graphics INSPIRE Handbook World Health Organization,2019-02-26 INSPIRE is a resource to help governments international agencies and non government organisations prevent and respond to violence against children It was developed by 10 international and U S based agencies and includes strategy documents and implementation tools This handbook provides guidance on how to choose and implement interventions based on specific needs and context and is organised around the 7 key INSPIRE strategies implementation and enforcement of laws norms and values safe environments parent and caregiver support income and economic strengthening response and support services and education and life skills The handbook also provides an overview of implementation and impact indicators drawn from the companion document INSPIRE indicator guidance and results framework Paradigms in Cartography Pablo Iván Azócar Fernández,Manfred Ferdinand Buchroithner,2013-08-04 In this book the main trends concepts and directions in cartography and mapping in modernism and post modernism are reviewed Philosophical and epistemological issues are analysed in cartography from positivist empiricist neo positivist and post structuralist stances In general in cartography technological aspects have been considered as well as theoretical issues The aim is to highlight the epistemological and philosophical viewpoint during the development of the discipline Some main philosophers who have been influential for contemporary thinking such as Immanuel Kant Ludwig Wittgenstein Karl Popper and Bertrand Russell are considered None of these philosophers wrote about cartography directly excepting Kant but their philosophies are related to cartography and mapping issues The book also analyses the concept of paradigm or paradigm shift coined by Thomas Kuhn who applied it to the history of science Different cartographic trends that have arisen since the second half of the twentieth century are analysed according to this important concept which is implicit inside the scientific or disciplinary communities Further the authors analyse the position of cartography in the context of the sciences and other disciplines adopting a positivistic point of view Additionally they review current trends in cartography and mapping in the context of information and communication technologies in a post modernistic or post structuralistic framework Thus since the 1980s and 1990s new mapping concepts have arisen which challenge the discipline s traditional map conceptions Food Components to Enhance Performance Institute of Medicine,Food and Nutrition Board,Committee on Military Nutrition Research,1994-02-01 The physiological or psychological stresses that employees bring to their workplace affect not only their own performance but that of their co workers and others These stresses are often compounded by those of the job itself Medical personnel firefighters police and military personnel in combat settings among others experience highly unpredictable timing and types of stressors This book reviews and comments on the performance enhancing potential of specific food components It reflects the views of military and non military scientists from such fields as neuroscience nutrition physiology various medical specialties and performance
