Gender, Nutrition, and the Human Right to Adequate Food Anne C. Bellows, Flavio L.S. Valente, Stefanie Lemke, María Daniela Núñez Burbano de Lara, 2015-12-07 This book introduces the human right to adequate food and nutrition as evolving concept and identifies two structural disconnects fueling food insecurity for a billion people and disproportionately affecting women children and rural food producers the separation of women s rights from their right to adequate food and nutrition and the fragmented attention to food as commodity and the medicalization of nutritional health Three conditions arising from these disconnects are discussed structural violence and discrimination frustrating the realization of women s human rights as well as their private and public contributions to food and nutrition security for all many women s experience of their and their children s simultaneously independent and intertwined subjectivities during pregnancy and breastfeeding being poorly understood in human rights law and abused by poorly regulated food and nutrition industry marketing practices and the neoliberal economic system s interference both with the autonomy and self determination of women and their communities and with the strengthening of sustainable diets based on democratically governed local food systems The book calls for a social movement led reconceptualization of the right to adequate food toward incorporating gender women s rights and nutrition based on the food sovereignty framework

Small-scale fisheries and the human right to adequate food Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations, 2021-06-04 The adoption of Voluntary Guidelines to Support the Progressive Realization of the Right to Adequate Food in the Context of National Food Security Right to Food Guidelines in 2004 and the Voluntary Guidelines for Securing Sustainable Small Scale Fisheries in the Context of Food Security and Poverty Eradication SSF Guidelines in 2014 were two major achievements in the effort to ensure food security and nutrition This handbook has been developed to support the joint implementation of the SSF Guidelines and the Right to Food Guidelines through an integrated approach and to increase policy coherence and uptake The document provides an overview of the contents of these voluntary guidelines and identifies potential synergies It also explains the human rights based approach and discusses some crucial areas with special attention to the specific roles and responsibilities of key actors This document is primarily directed at those involved in the integration of the SSF Guidelines and the Right to Food Guidelines into national policies and development programmes targeting the small scale fisheries sector in the context of food security and nutrition However it can be equally interesting to other stakeholders who take part in the implementation of the provisions of both instruments in their day to day activities and who are concerned with the sustainability of the small scale fisheries sector The adoption of the Right to Food Guidelines in 2004 and the SSF Guidelines in 2014 were two major achievements in the effort to ensure food security and nutrition

Land, Women, Youths, and Land Tools or Methods Uchendu Eugene Chigbu, 2021-02-24 This book is a collection of Special Issue articles that aim to discern a people centered pathway to solving land based challenges in the context of land administration It consists of 13 positively evaluated research articles Each of the articles contributes to the large mosaic of knowledge on land methods or tools that are relevant to resolving land challenges that women and youths face The book highlights 13 critical lessons on Land Women Youths and Land Tools or Methods Hidden Hunger and the Transformation of Food Systems Hans Konrad Biesalski,2020-10-06 Hidden hunger is not about providing enough calories it is about a lack of micronutrients which has life long consequences for the children who are mostly affected This begins with physical and cognitive developmental disorders and continues with an increased risk of non communicable diseases and the occurrence of obesity The book compiles the contributions of the Fourth Congress on Hidden Hunger 2019 as original articles The focus of the congress was the problem of malnutrition and overweight which can coexist and is termed a double burden Part of the book deals with the causes of malnutrition and the challenge of achieving an agricultural system that is more focused on food quality Another part discusses the causes and intervention approaches to tackling childhood obesity especially in connection with malnutrition All in all this publication is a summary of important work by highly renowned authors on the topic of the congress Hidden Hunger and the Transformation of Food Systems How to Combat the Double Burden of Malnutrition Like its two predecessors the book fills an important gap by summarizing the essential aspects for science applied research and politics at a high level Achieving food system resilience & equity in the era of global environmental change Albie F. Miles,Valarie Blue Bird Jernigan,Philip Dobie,Anja Gassner,Casey Hoy,Noa Kekuewa Lincoln,Kathleen Merrigan,Jennifer Sowerwine,Samina Raja,2023-02-27 Transnational Food Security Emily Webster,Ankita Gupta,Ruth Ambros,2020-06-09 Transnational Food Security addresses food security from an international relations political economy and legal perspective analysing the relationship between food security and the environment and climate change trade finance and contracts and the intersection between food and human rights The topic of food concerns one of the most basic and profound aspects of human survival Universal and equal access to food is at the same time ridden with problems of power inequality distribution and implicated in old and new geopolitical conflicts As such food and food security are central to conditions of poverty and hunger development and modernisation transitional justice and rule of law reform around the world As a problem of critique and scholarly inquiry food prompts an inter disciplinary assessment of the nature of food security in the modern world The contributors to this book take us deep into the complexity of food and illustrate the challenges of adequately understanding and approaching questions of food security and food sovereignty in a globally interconnected world Transnational Food Security will be of great interest to scholars of international relations political economy and transnational law The chapters were originally published as a special issue of Transnational Legal Theory Journal Water for Food Security, Nutrition and Social Justice Lyla Mehta,Theib Oweis,Claudia Ringler,Barbara Schreiner,Shiney Varghese,2019-09-19 This book is the first comprehensive effort to bring together Water Food Security and Nutrition FSN in a way that goes beyond the traditional focus on irrigated agriculture Apart from looking at the role of water and sanitation for human well being it proposes alternative and more locally appropriate ways to address complex water management and governance challenges from the local to global levels against a backdrop of growing uncertainties. The authors challenge mainstream supply oriented and neo Malthusian visions that argue for the need to increase the land area under irrigation in order to feed the world's growing population. Instead they argue for a reframing of the debate concerning production processes, waste food consumption and dietary patterns whilst proposing alternative strategies to improve water and land productivity putting the interests of marginalized and disenfranchised groups upfront. The book highlights how accessing water for FSN can be challenging for small holders, vulnerable and marginalized women and men and how water allocation systems and reform processes can negatively affect local people's informal rights. The book argues for the need to improve policy coherence across water, land and food and is original in making a case for strengthening the relationship between the human rights to water and food especially for marginalized women and men. It will be of great interest to practitioners, students and researchers working on water and food issues.

Asia and the Pacific Regional Overview of Food Security and Nutrition 2020 Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations, World Food Programme, World Health Organization, United Nations International Children's Emergency Fund, 2021-01-19. The 2020 report on the State of Food Security and Nutrition in the Asia and Pacific region provides an update on progress towards the 2030 targets. SDGs and WHA at the regional and country level. Selected indicators look at undernourishment, food insecurity, childhood stunting, wasting and overweight, adult overweight, child minimum acceptable diet, exclusive and continued breastfeeding and anaemia in women and children. While the region continues to work towards ending all forms of malnutrition and achieving Zero Hunger, progress on food security and nutrition has slowed and the Asia and Pacific region is not on track to achieving 2030 targets. About 350.6 million people in the Asia and Pacific region are estimated to have been undernourished in 2019, about 51 percent of the global total. An estimated 74.5 million children under five years of age were stunted and a total of 31.5 million were wasted in the Asia and Pacific region. The majority of these children in the region live in Southern Asia with 55.9 million stunted and 25.2 million wasted children. Estimates predict a 14.3 percent increase in the prevalence of moderate or severe wasting among children under 5 years of age, equal to an additional 6.7 million children, due to the COVID-19 pandemic. With basic food prices and disposable incomes influencing household decisions on food and dietary intake, they are critical to improve food security and nutrition in the region. However, in the Asia and Pacific region, 1.9 billion people are unable to afford a healthy diet driven by high prices of fruits, vegetables and dairy products, making it impossible for the poor to achieve healthy diets. In Part 2, the 2020 report promotes a systems approach to healthy maternal and child diets involving and coordinating institutions and actors in the Food, Water and Sanitation, Health, Social Protection and Education systems to collectively create the enabling environment for healthy diets. Integration of healthy diets and nutrition focused Social Behavior Change Communication (SBCC) mainstreamed throughout these systems will lead to greater uptake and sustainability of healthy behaviours and caregiver s knowledge COVID-19 and women's intersectionalities in Africa Ashwanee Budoo-Scholtz,Adetokunbo Johnson,2023-05-23 COVID 19 has become one of the most severe issues dominating discussions on the agendas of states globally and across the African continent since its emergence in 2019 The COVID 19 pandemic has regrettably brought into sharp focus the continued multiple and intersecting forms of discrimination faced by women and girls in Africa because of their intersecting identities Yet paradoxically although African women are disproportionately affected by the crisis they are largely invisible in the responses Several African states and governments have taken different policy measures in response to the pandemic These responses have taken different dimensions including shutting down economies imposition of lockdowns coercive quarantine measures with police enforcement and criminal consequences for offenders violating these rules Unfortunately these responses have reinforced and amplified women s disproportionate disadvantage and gender inequalities in Africa Against this backdrop this book asks the intersectional question about women s experiences during the COVID 19 pandemic in Africa Applying an intersectional human rights lens involves questioning how the intersecting identities that African women embody affect their experiences of the COVID 19 pandemic Research Handbook on Human Rights and Poverty Martha F. Davis,Morten Kjaerum,Amanda Lyons,2021-03-26 This important Research Handbook explores the nexus between human rights poverty and inequality as a critical lens for understanding and addressing key challenges of the coming decades including the objectives set out in the Sustainable Development Goals The Research Handbook starts from the premise that poverty is not solely an issue of minimum income and explores the profound ways that deprivation and distributive inequality of power and capability relate to economic social cultural civil and political rights International Agricultural Law and Policy Hope Johnson,2018-10-26 From soil degradation and biodiversity loss to the coexistence of malnutrition and obesity many of the largest challenges facing humanity today are underpinned by food and agriculture systems In order to alleviate and resolve them global governance of food and agriculture needs to be reformed Unravelling the array of international regulatory instruments this timely book provides the first systematic analysis of the international law surrounding food systems International Agricultural Law and Policyprovides a systems based analysis of the rules that intersect with the physical elements of agriculture against a framework of commonly held norms The author conducts a comprehensive examination not only of the rules but also the implementation and broader socioeconomic scientific and political context By exploring and clarifying the relationship between food security and the right to food and sustainability Johnson closes the gap between the disparate international rules that govern food and agriculture while exploring the practical implications of these overlapping regimes This unique book is an invaluable resource for lawyers and social scientists working within food and agriculture systems and their governance and lays the much needed groundwork for future research For policy makers in the food and agricultural space this book provides a wide ranging and innovative analysis of the global regulatory landscape that influences law and policy processes The State of Food Security and Nutrition in the World 2019 Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations, International Fund for Agricultural Development, World Food Programme, World Health Organization, United Nations Children's Fund, 2019-07-15 This year's report presents evidence that the absolute number of people who suffer from hunger continues to slowly increase. The report also highlights that food insecurity is more than just hunger. For the first time, the report provides evidence that many people in the world, even if not hungry, experience moderate food insecurity as they face uncertainties about their ability to obtain food and are forced to compromise on the quality and/or quantity of the food they consume. This phenomenon is observed globally, not only in low and middle income countries but also in high income countries. The report also shows that the world is not on track to meet global nutrition targets, including those on low birthweight and on reducing stunting among children under five years. Moreover, overweight and obesity continue to increase in all regions, particularly among school age children and adults. The report stresses that no region is exempt from the epidemic of overweight and obesity, underscoring the necessity of multifaceted, multisectoral approaches to halt and reverse these worrying trends. In light of the fragile state of the world economy, the report presents new evidence confirming that hunger has been on the rise for many countries where the economy has slowed down or contracted. Unpacking the links between economic slowdowns and downturns and food insecurity and malnutrition, the report contends that the effects of the former on the latter can only be offset by addressing the root causes of hunger and malnutrition: poverty, inequality, and marginalization.

Child Rights and International Discrimination Law Marit Skivenes, Karl Søvig, 2019-02-22 Societies and states are at a crossroad in how children are treated and how their rights are respected and protected. Children's new position and their strong rights create tensions and challenge the traditional relationships between family and the state. The United Nations Convention on the Rights of the Child was adopted unanimously by the General Assembly of the United Nations in 1989 and came into force in 1990. Article 2 places states under an obligation to accord primacy to the best interests of the child in all actions concerning children and to ensure and regulate child protection. This book offers a comparative and critical analysis of the implementation of Article 2 of the United Nations Convention on the Rights of the Child. In order to examine how Article 2 is being implemented, it is essential to have a sound understanding of the obligations it imposes. The opening chapters will explore the precise content of these obligations in terms of the legislative history of the text, its underlying philosophy, its amplification by the United Nations Committee on the Rights of the Child, and subsequent authoritative interpretations of it by courts around the world. The book will then drill down into the conceptual and theoretical challenges posed by the very nature of the obligations and will offer in-depth exploration of the long-running rights v. welfare debate that has always presented something of a challenge in giving effect to children's rights. Contributors are leading academics in the children's rights field, drawn from a wide range of countries and jurisdictions worldwide, including those with common law, civilian, and mixed traditions. Disciplines represented in the book include law, psychology, political science, childhood studies, social work, and anthropology. By drawing together the various facets of Article 2 and analysing it from a range of perspectives the volume provides a coherent and comprehensive inter disciplinary analysis on discrimination and the rights of the child 5th Report on the World

Nutrition Situation ,2004 Accountability for Mass Starvation Bridget Conley,Alex de Waal,Catriona Murdoch,Wayne Jordash QC,2022-09-01 Famine is an age old scourge that almost disappeared in our lifetime Between 2000 and 2011 there were no famines and deaths in humanitarian emergencies were much reduced The humanitarian agenda was ascendant Then in 2017 the United Nations identified four situations that threatened famine or breached that threshold in north eastern Nigeria Somalia South Sudan and Yemen Today this list is longer Each of these famines is the result of military actions and exclusionary authoritarian politics conducted without regard to the wellbeing or even the survival of people Violations of international law including blockading ports attacks on health facilities violence against humanitarian workers and obstruction of relief aid are carried out with renewed impunity Yet there is an array of legal offenses ranging from war crimes and crimes against humanity to genocide available to a prosecutor to hold individuals to account for the deliberate starvation of civilians However there has been a dearth of investigations and accountability for those violating international law The reasons for this neglect and the gaps between the black letter law and practice are explored in this timely volume It provides a comprehensive overview of the key themes and cases required to catalyze a new approach to understanding the law as it relates to starvation It also illustrates the complications of historical and ongoing situations where starvation is used as a weapon of war and provides expert analysis on defining starvation early warning systems gender and mass starvation the use of sanctions journalistic reporting and memorialization of famine Report on the World Nutrition Situation ,2004

The Advocate ,2001-08-14 The Advocate is a lesbian gay bisexual transgender LGBT monthly newsmagazine Established in 1967 it is the oldest continuing LGBT publication in the United States New Challenges to Food Security Ian Christoplos,Adam Pain,2014-11-13 Food security is high on the political agenda Fears about societal insecurity due to food price increases and hunger grave scenarios regarding the effects of climate change and general uncertainty about the impacts of investments in biofuels and so call land grabbing on food prices and availability have meant that food security is now recognised as being a multifaceted challenge This book is unique in that it will bring together analyses of these different factors that impact on food security This volume will describe a range of different perspectives on food security with an emphasis on the various meanings that are applied to food security crisis The challenges to be reviewed include market volatility climate change and state fragility Analyses of responses to food security crises and risk will cover rural and urban contexts arenas of national policy formation and global food regimes and investment in land and productive technologies This book is unique in two respects First it takes a step back from the normative literature focused on specific factors of for example climate change agricultural production or market volatility to look instead at the dynamic interplay between these new challenges It helps readers to understand that food security is not one discourse but is rather related to how these different factors generate multiple risks and opportunities Second through the case studies the book particularly emphasises how these factors come together at local levels as farmers entrepreneurs consumers local government officials and others are making key decisions about what will be done to address food security and whose food security will be given priority The book will explore how food production and consumption is embedded in powerful political and market forces and how these influence local actions

Routledge Handbook of Food as a Commons Jose Luis Vivero-Pol,Tomaso Ferrando,Olivier De Schutter,Ugo Mattei,2018-12-17 From the scientific and industrial revolution to the present day food an essential element of life has been progressively transformed into a private transnational mono dimensional commodity of mass consumption for a global market But over the last decade there has been an increased recognition that this can be challenged and reconceptualized if food is regarded and enacted as a commons This Handbook provides the first comprehensive review and synthesis of knowledge and new thinking on how food and food systems can be thought interpreted and practiced around the old new paradigms of commons and commoning The overall aim is to investigate the multiple constraints that occur within and sustain the dominant food and nutrition regime and to explore how it can change when different elements of the current food systems are explored and re imagined from a commons perspective Chapters do not define the notion of commons but engage with different schools of thought the economic approach based on rivalry and excludability the political approach recognizing the plurality of social constructions and incorporating epistemologies from the South the legal approach that describes three types of proprietary regimes private public and collective and different layers of entitlement bundles of rights and the radical activist approach that considers the commons as the most subversive coherent and history rooted alternative to the dominant neoliberal narrative These schools have different and rather diverging epistemologies vocabularies ideological stances and policy proposals to deal with the construction of food systems their governance the distributive implications and the socio ecological impact on Nature and

Society The book sparks the debate on food as a commons between and within disciplines with particular attention to spaces of resistance food sovereignty de growth open knowledge transition town occupations bottom up social innovations and organizational scales local food national policies South South collaborations international governance and multi national agreements Overall it shows the consequences of a shift to the alternative paradigm of food as a commons in terms of food the planet and living beings
