Saving the Neanderthals Mark S. McLeod-Harrison, 2019-10-29 What happens when the wrench of evolution is dropped into the hopper of Christian theology Written by a philosopher Saving the Neanderthals takes evolution as its foil and shows what might have to change in Christian theology in order to make theology compatible with evolution If the Christian faith is shown consistent with what Mark S McLeod Harrison calls hard evolution then the softer versions will also be compatible Indeed that is exactly what the book argues specifically for the Christian doctrines of sin and salvation These doctrines typically rely on some fairly strong realist version of essentialism which hard evolution denies but McLeod Harrison proposes an approach to sin and salvation that is compatible with the anti essentialist claims of hard evolution

Normative Tensions Kevin W. Gray, 2022-06-01 The expansion of Western education overseas has been both an economic success if the numbers of American European and Australian universities setting up campuses in Asia and the Middle East is a measure and a source of consternation for academics concerned with norms of free inquiry and intellectual freedom Faculty at Western campuses have resisted the new satellite campuses fearing that colleagues on those campuses would be less free to teach and engage in intellectual inquiry and that students could be denied the free inquiry normally associated with liberal arts education Critics point to the denial of visas to academics wishing to carry out research on foreign campuses the sudden termination of employment at schools in both the Middle East and Asia or the last minute cancellation of courses at those schools as evidence that they were correctly suspicious of the possibility that liberal arts programs could exist in those regions Supporters of the project have argued that opening up foreign campuses brings free inquiry to closed societies improves educational opportunities for students who would otherwise be denied them or perhaps less frequently that free inquiry will be no more pressured than in the United States or Western Europe

Normative Tensions examines the consequences not only of expansion overseas but the increased opening of universities to foreign students

The Grand Scam Rob Rose, 2013-11-20 From 2005 to 2009 the heir to one of South Africa's blue blood families Barry Tannenbaum methodically constructed the largest ever con in South African history The Grand Scam exposes details about the brazen greed of the scammers a bank that facilitated the shady dealings rather than alerting the authorities and the naivety of business people who should have known better It goes far beyond the original news stories containing original research and material that for the first time answers the central question of why Barry Tannenbaum the grandson of the founder of one of the country's biggest pharmaceutical firms Adcock Ingram offered investors stratospheric returns of more than 200 per cent a year by investing in the components used to make AIDS drugs It was nothing more than a lie which suckered the country's business elite including the former CEO of Pick n Pay the one time head of the Johannesburg Stock Exchange and the ex boss of OK
