Creating Meaning in Funerals William G. Hoy,2024-08-01 Creating Meaning in Funerals is a book about the ways in which bereaved families and communities create meaningful ceremonies against a backdrop of what is culturally appropriate even when their choices might make little economic sense to those outside the culture The culmination of these customs and practices this book maintains is how bereaved individuals families and communities are drawn into significant meaning making in early bereavement Readers will be repeatedly challenged to suspend their own biases observe the customs and beliefs of others thoughtfully and provide counseling support and encouragement to bereaved individuals for whom funerals were or were not effective means of coping with their loss Discussion questions at the end of each chapter make the book useful for educational settings such as funeral service classroom instruction thanatology classes and grief counseling courses Each chapter is also accompanied by its own reference list to make chapters more useful individually Safety and Health at Work, ILO-CIS Bulletin ,2003 Missouri Register Missouri. Office of the Secretary of State,2006 American Body Snatchers Richard S. Ross III,2024-07-31 At the beginning of the 19th century physicians teaching anatomy in New England medical schools expected students to have hands on experience with cadavers As the only bodies that could be dissected legally were convicted murderers this led to a lack of sufficient bodies for study These doctors and their students turned to removing the dead from graveyards and cemeteries for dissection The first medical school in Washington D C was founded in 1825 headed by a Massachusetts physician convicted of body snatching and made the practice commonplace in the area This history of body snatching in the 19th century focuses on medical schools in New England and Washington D C along with the religious moral and social objections during the time With research from contemporary newspapers medical articles and university archives topics such as state anatomy laws and their effects on doctors students and the poor who were the usual victims are covered as are perceptions of physicians and medical schools by the local communities The National Corporation Reporter ,1952-06
