Old Forgotten Cemeteries New Jersey:

Old & Forgotten Cemeteries of New Jersey James O'donohue, 2015-09-25 There are so many cemeteries and family burial grounds all over New Jersey many of them have been around since the 1700 s and 1800 s when the state was full of farmland and woods Land owners would use a spot on their farm to bury their family members others may have been buried by a church that was functioning at the time but may now be long gone The farmland is also disappearing rapidly giving way to new homes and roads So what happens to the cemeteries or family burial grounds Some of them are in plain site on the side of the road while others are off the beaten path hidden from view The visible ones are usually fairly well maintained by a church or a person who volunteers their own time to look after them but the hidden ones are not as lucky Many of them have simply been forgotten lost in time They are overgrown with brush poison ivy and trees Most of the tombstone names and writings have eroded away with time and have been damaged by falling tree limbs wind or vandalism over the years These sacred places are in danger of being lost forever some are already gone The hustle and bustle of modern life goes on around them yet most people don t know they exist like The Little Lost Cemetery which is situated next to an on ramp to Interstate 287 Left over from an old orphanage and almost destroyed by the construction of the Interstate until an organization took a stand to save it and St Patricks Cemetery that sits in an area that appears to be in the middle of nowhere on top of a mountain in the woods of Rockaway Some of the cemeteries listed require a bit of hiking while others are very easy to get to There are also veterans from different branches of the armed forces and different wars such as World War 1 and the Revolutionary War Multiple references were used to locate the cemeteries listed and I have personally visited each one in this book I did not visit or document every cemetery in every town I tried to focus on the older ones 1700 1800 s and the ones less obvious or visible When visiting any cemetery remember to seek permission from any land owner where the cemetery resides on private property like The Luker Cemetery which is located in the backyard of a farm in Boonton or the VanDuyne family burial ground in Towaco which is on a small hill behind a house Some heavily overgrown areas may be better visited in the colder months but either way dress appropriately Be safe and happy cemetery hopping Old and Forgotten Cemeteries of New Jersey James O'Donohue, 2012-12-28 There are so many cemeteries and family burial grounds all over New Jersey many of them have been around since the 1700 s and 1800 s when the state was full of farmland and woods Land owners would use a spot on their farm to bury their family members others may have been buried by a church that was functioning at the time but may now be long gone The farmland is also disappearing rapidly giving way to new homes and roads So what happens to the cemeteries or family burial grounds Some of them are in plain site on the side of the road while others are off the beaten path hidden from view The visible ones are usually fairly well maintained by a church or a person who volunteers their own time to look after them but the hidden ones are not as lucky Many of them have simply been forgotten lost in time They are overgrown with brush poison ivy and trees Most of the tombstone names and writings have

Old and Forgotten Cemeteries of New Jersey James O'Donohue,2025-08-10 With the completion of Old and Forgotten Cemeteries of NJ Morris County Part 4 I feel we are in the home stretch of documenting most of the remaining family burial grounds and older cemeteries in the county There is still more work to be done though because locating them and bringing awareness to their condition are just the first steps to their preservation I am simply amazed by the feedback and support I have received by the many people I have encountered during my journey New Jersey Cemeteries and Tombstones Richard F. Veit,Mark Nonestied,2008 New Jersey Cemeteries and Tombstones presents a culturally diverse account of New Jersey s historic burial places from High Point to Cape May and from the banks of the Delaware to the ocean washed Shore to explain what cemeteries tell us about people and the communities in which they lived Forgotten Towns of Southern New Jersey Henry Charlton Beck,1983 Composed for the most part from sketches that were published in the Courier Post newspapers of Camden New Jersey Beck provides us with a series of stories of towns too tiny or uncertain for today s maps Together these sketches help to create a more complete picture of the history of New Jersey A connecting skein of untold or little known wartime history the Revolution the War of 1812 and the conflict of North against South runs through most of the sketches Many of the sketches concern the pine towns and their people the pineys who lived in the Jersey pine barrens

Bulletin of the Archaeological Society of New Jersey Archaeological Society of New Jersey,2006 Modern Cemetery, 1923 New Jersey's Lost Piney Culture William J Lewis,2017-06-19 Deep within the heart of the New Jersey Pine Barrens the Piney people have built a vibrant culture and industry from working the natural landscape around them Foraging skills learned from the local Lenapes were passed down through generations of Piney families who gathered many of the same wild floral products that became staples of the Philadelphia and New York dried flower markets Important figures such as John Richardson have sought to lift the Pineys from rural poverty by recording and marketing their craftsmanship As the state government sought to preserve the Pine Barrens and develop the region Piney culture was frequently threatened and stigmatized Author and advocate William I Lewis charts the history of the Pineys what being a Piney means today and their legacy among the beauty of the Pine Barrens Weird N.J. Krejci, 2015-10-12 The dead do not always rest in peace Occasionally they wind up in the backyard As towns grew in Cuyahoga County during the late 1800s many of its cemeteries were relocated to make room for urban sprawl But not all of these graves made the journey Author William G Krejci tracks down more than fifty displaced cemeteries throughout the Greater Cleveland area Discover the Revolutionary War veterans famous scientists and illustrious dignitaries found beneath gas stations and grocery stores in this eerie history of Cuyahoga County's forgotten dead Park and Cemetery and Landscape Gardening ,1906 Park and Cemetery and Landscape Garderning ,1928 Weird N.J. Mark Sceurman, Mark Moran, 2005 Oh sure Texas is bigger and California is cooler but for sheer out and out weirdness no state even comes close to New Jersey You probably know of the infamous Jersey Devil but have you heard of the Matawan Man Eater or the Hoboken Monkey Man Maybe you d like to cruise down haunted Annie's Road in Totowa or take a stroll through Vineland's bizarre Palace of Depression These are just some of the offbeat and odd the mysterious and unexplainable the spooky sights and local legends that don't appear on any tourist map You'll only find them here along with an amazing
