and how criteria drawn from the study of imaginative literature may have a bearing on their truth aptness Such framing can be particularly effective in argumentative roles which invite self interrogation as Plato saw long ago Narrative in such cases may be fictional whether parabolic or dramatic autobiographical or biographical and in certain cases may seek to show how standard conceptualizations are inadequate Beyond this whether in poetry or prose and not only with respect to narrative the logic of imagery enables us to make principled sense of our capacity to grasp imaginatively elements of our experience through words whose use at the imaginative level has transformed their standard conceptual relationships and hence judge the credibility of associated arguments Assessment of the argumentative imagination requires criteria drawn not only from dialectic and rhetoric but also from poetics
