and Taoism Toshihiko Izutsu, 1984-08-06 Professor Izutsu's work is a pioneering attempt to bring into focus the shareable philosophical concerns of two seemingly unrelated landmarks into religious thought. His method is suggestive interpretation, new and bold, and material used important for further research. His book is useful to students of comparative religion, philosophy of religion, cultural anthropology, Asian thought and religion, and Islamic and Taoist studies. Tu Wei-ming: This book carries out a comparison in depth between Islamic and Chinese thought for the first time in modern scholarship. Since this book appeared, it has influenced every work on Ibn Arabi and metaphysical Sufism, and any cursory study of Sufism during the last fifteen years will reveal the extent of Izutsu's influence. The Special Status of Muhammad Sigalit Chacham, 2025-09-26 This book examines the special status of the Prophet Muhammad as described by the Cairene Sufi mystic Shihab al-Din al-Qasbi in 1517. It examines spiritual, material, and theological aspects of love for the Prophet as expressed in his al-Mawhib al-laduniyya bil-mina al-muhammadiyah. The Divine Bounties Granted Through the Gifts of Muhammad. Discussing an unknown layer in the religious literature written in the late Mamluk period, the author explores the vast intellectual legacy of a scholar hitherto ignored. Using intertextuality, the book delves into his complex insights and relationships with contemporaries and scholars in the post-classical period, as well as locating him within the debates and developments of post-classical Islamic theory and theology. This study joins previous ones arguing that literary activity within the Mamluk sultanate was vibrant and dynamic. Offering valuable insights, this work will be of interest to researchers and scholars of Middle East History, Mysticism, Sufi Studies, Religion, Islam, and Theology.

Islamic Interpretations of Christianity Lloyd Ridgeon, 2013-09-13 Many books about Islam and Christianity are comparative; however, this book examines Christianity from an Islamic perspective. Each chapter focuses upon theological, philosophical, and mystical issues which are as relevant today as they always have been in the Muslim-Christian dialogue. The book is divided into two sections: the classical and modern periods; thus, the reader will benefit from a broad overview of the myriad Islamic interpretations of Christianity.
