The Politics of Industrial Agriculture Tracey Clunies-Ross, Nicholas Hildyard, 2013-11-05 In the last forty years agriculture in the industrialised countries has undergone a revolution That has dramatically increased yields but it has also led to extensive rural depopulation widespread degradation of the environment contamination of food with agrochemicals and bacteria more routine maltreatment of farm animals and the undermining of Third World economies and livelihoods through unfair trading systems Confronted by mounting evidence of environmental harm and social impacts mainstream agronomists and policy makers have debatedly recognized the need for change Sustainable agriculture has become the buzz phrase But that can mean different things to different people We have to ask sustainable agriculture for whom Whose interests are benefiting And whose are suffering At issue is the question of power of who controls the land and what it produces Most of the changes currently under discussion will actually strengthen the status quo and the underlying causes of the damage The result will be greater intensification of farming environmental destruction and inequality There are no simple off the shelf alternatives to industrial agriculture There are however groups throughout the world who have contributed to this report and who are working together on a new approach An agriculture that in Wendell Berry's words depletes neither soil nor people Originally published in 1992

Feeding Britain Tim Lang, 2020-03-26 How does Britain get its food Why is our current system at breaking point How can we fix it before it is too late British food has changed remarkably in the last half century As we have become wealthier and more discerning our food has Europeanized pizza is children's favourite food and internationalized we eat the world's cuisines yet our food culture remains fragmented a mix of mass ultra processed substances alongside food as varied and good as anywhere else on the planet This book takes stock of the UK food system where it comes from what we eat its impact fragilities and strengths It is a book on the politics of food It argues that the Brexit vote will force us to review our food system Such an opportunity is sorely needed After a brief frenzy of concern following the financial shock of 2008 the UK government has slumped once more into a vague hope that the food system will keep going on as before Food they said just required a burst of agri technology and more exports to pay for our massive imports Feeding Britain argues that this and other approaches are short sighted against the public interest and possibly even strategic folly Setting a new course for UK food is no easy task but it is a process this book urges that needs to begin now Tim Lang has performed a public service Simon Jenkins Sunday Times

Miraculous Abundance Perrine Herve-Gruyer, Charles Herve-Gruyer, 2016-03-14 Farmers like Charles and Perrine Herv Gruyer are beacons of light Their work allows the rest of the world to see that there is another life there is another way Eliot

Coleman What began as a simple dream has turned into one of the world's most radical innovative experiments in small scale farming using the Bec Hellouin model for growing food sequestering carbon creating jobs and increasing biodiversity without using fossil fuels When Charles and Perrine Herv Gruyer set out to create their farm in a historic Normandy village they had no idea just how much their lives would change Neither one had ever farmed before Charles had been traveling the globe teaching students about ecology and indigenous cultures Perrine had been an international lawyer in Japan Their farm Bec Hellouin has since become an internationally celebrated model of innovation in ecological agriculture Miraculous Abundance is the eloquent tale of the couple's quest to build an agricultural model that can carry us into a post carbon future The authors dive deeper into the various farming methods across the globe that contributed towards the creation of the Bec Hellouin model including Permaculture and soil health principles Korean natural farming methods Managing a four season farm Creating a productive agroecosystem that is resilient and durable Using no dig methods for soil fertility Modelling an agrarian system that supports its community in totality from craft restaurants and shared work spaces to jobs agritourism energy and ecological biodiversity Perfect for aspiring and experienced farmers gardeners and homesteaders Miraculous Abundance is a love letter to a future where ecological farming is at the centre of every community This book more about philosophy than a how to describes how two inexperienced beginners succeeded in creating a gorgeous productive self sustaining farm Marion Nestle The Ecologist ,1999 Passive Solar Architecture David Bainbridge,Ken Haggard,2011-08-18 New buildings can be designed to be solar oriented naturally heated and cooled naturally lit and ventilated and made with renewable sustainable materials no matter the location or climate In this comprehensive overview of passive solar design two of America's solar pioneers give homeowners architects designers and builders the keys to successfully harnessing the sun and maximizing climate resources for heating cooling ventilation and daylighting Bainbridge and Haggard draw upon examples from their own experiences as well as those of others of more than three decades to offer both overarching principles as well as the details and formulas needed to successfully design a more comfortable healthy and secure place in which to live laugh dance and be comfortable Even if the power goes off Passive Solar Architecture also discusses greener and more sustainable building materials and how to use them and explores the historical roots of green design that have made possible buildings that produce more energy and other resources than they use The 'One Planet' Life David Thorpe,2014-11-13 The One Planet Life demonstrates a path for everyone towards a way of life in which we don't act as if we had more than one planet Earth The difference between this approach and others is that it uses ecological footprint analysis to help to determine how effective our efforts are Much of the book is a manual with examples on how to live the good life and supply over 65% of your livelihood from your land with mostly positive impacts upon the environment It examines the pioneering Welsh policy One Planet Development then considers efforts towards one planet living in urban areas After a foreword by BioRegional One Planet Living co founder Pooran Desai and an introduction by former Welsh environment minister Jane Davidson the book contains An essay arguing that our attitude to planning land and development needs to change to enable truly sustainable development Guidelines on finding land finance and creating a personal plan for one planet living Detailed guides on sustainable building supplying your own food generating renewable energy reducing carbon emissions from travel land management water supply and waste treatment 20 exemplary examples at all scales from micro businesses to suburbs followed by Jane Davidson s Afterword The book will interest anyone seeking to find out how a sustainable lifestyle can be achieved It is also key reading for rural and built environment practitioners and policy makers keen to support low impact initiatives and for students studying aspects of planning geography governance sustainability and renewable energy

Conversations With Food Dorothy Chansky, Sarah W. Tracy, 2021-02-02 Conversations With Food offers readers an array of essays revealing the power of food and its absence to transform relationships between the human and non human realms to define national colonial and postcolonial cultures to help instantiate race gender and class relations and to serve as the basis for policymaking Food functions in these contexts as items in religious or secular law as objects with which to bargain or over which to fight as literary trope and as a way to improve or harm health individual or collective The anthology ranges from Ancient Greece to the posthuman fairy underworld from the codifying of French culinary heritage to the strategic marketing of 100 calorie snacks from the European famine after the Second World War to the lush and exotic cuisines of culinary tourism today Conversations With Food will engage anyone interested in discovering the disciplinary breadth and depth of food studies The anthology is ideally suited for introductory and advanced courses in food studies as it includes essays in a range of humanities and social science disciplines and each author draws cross disciplinary linkages between their own work and other essays in the volume This thematic and conceptual intercalation when read with the editors introduction makes the collection an exceptionally strong representation of the field of food studies
