Cool for Qat Peter Mortimer, 2012-02-24 When author Peter Mortimer was commissioned to write a play about a little known riot between Yemeni and British seamen at Mill Dam South Shields in 1930 he decided to take the long trip to Yemen itself in search of inspiration Undeterred by post 11 September government warnings against visiting this highly dangerous area Mortimer set off and found an extraordinary and surprisingly Anglophile country Cool for Qat documents this remarkable journey during which Mortimer pieces together how the riots of 1930 arose and considers their relevance to Western attitudes towards Muslims today He meets many remarkable characters along the way and immerses himself in the national custom of chewing the narcotic qat leaf After visiting the ex British Protectorate of Aden through which many of the seamen passed en route to Britain Mortimer travels on to San'a and then Ta'izz It is while visiting the isolated mountain villages surrounding this city that Mortimer finally meets men who worked in South Shields some 50 years ago Carrying a battered book with images of Yemenis living in the North east in the 30s from home to home trying to jog distant memories he realises his visit has taken on a new purpose bringing a small part of the country's history back to where it belongs Back in the UK Mortimer's investigations into the 1930 riot reveal a society with many striking similarities to current times Then as now Muslim immigrants were treated as scapegoats for all manner of ills tabloid newspapers drummed up prejudice and hatred and the powers that be often used fear and racial mistrust to disguise their own economic failings Cool for Qat questions just how civilised the Western world and Britain in particular is in comparison to Yemen It is a touching thought provoking and at times humorous document of one man's travels through a country about which little is known in the West

,1989 Played in Tyne and Wear Lynn F. Pearson,Simon Inglis,2010 It used to be said that whenever a football UK manager needed a goal scorer all he had to do was travel to the North East of England call down a mineshaft and up would pop a centre forward But while the careers of Alan Shearer Raich Carter Bobby Robson Brian Clough and Jackie Milburn all attest to the famous description of the North East as the hotbed of football the region s miners and shipbuilders were just as likely to be formidable boxers rowers runners cricketers or pigeon racers In Played on Tyne and Wear the 16th book in English Heritage s groundbreaking Played in Britain series architectural historian Lynn Pearson guides the reader on an intimate tour of the area s sporting treasures from the site of the celebrated Blaydon Races in Newcastle to a cockfighting pit in Tynemouth and from the cantilevered heights of Sunderland s Stadium of Light to the homespun delights of Britain s only listed pigeon cove in Ryhope On Newcastle s Town Moor one of the great open spaces of urban Britain Pearson traces the path of the Toon s old racecourse and the haunts of strong armed pot share bowlers whose matches drew tens of thousands of gamblers in the 19th century while an echo from the other side of the Moor recalls the smoky clamour of the 5 000 capacity St James Hall where the likes of Seaman Tommy Watson and Jack Casey the Sunderland Assassin drew massive crowds between the wars The River Tyne itself has witnessed many an epic rowing battle not least featuring the legendary oarsman Harry Clasper whose funeral drew an estimated 100 000 to the streets in 1870 More recently the likes of Brendan Foster and Steve Cram have continued the North East s reputation for great athletes and for great events such as the Great North Run and the now annual Gateshead Grand Prix Lesser known gems from the Victorian era include the Ashbrooke sports ground in Sunderland a real tennis court at Jesmond and a handball wall in Wallsend while the region is dotted with charming bowls and tennis pavilions golf courses and cricket grounds Profusely illustrated with archive images specially commissioned contemporary photography and detailed mapping Pearson s study may not get Geordies and Mackems to bury the past but it shows they have sporting heritage aplenty to share as neighbours The Medical Register ,2001
