Global Perspectives on the Politics of Multiculturalism in the 21st Century Fethi Mansouri, Boulou Ebanda de B'éri, 2014-06-05 Multiculturalism is now seen by many of its critics as the source of intercultural and social tensions fostering communal segregation and social conflicts While the cultural diversity of contemporary societies has to be acknowledged as an empirical and demographic fact whether multiculturalism as a policy offers an optimal conduit for intercultural understanding and social harmony has become increasingly a matter of polarised public debate This book examines the contested philosophical foundations of multiculturalism and its often controversial applications in the context of migrant societies It also explores the current theoretical debates about the extent to which multiculturalism and related conceptual constructs can account for the various ethical challenges and policy dilemmas surrounding the management of cultural diversity in our contemporary societies The authors consider common conceptual and empirical features from a transnational perspective through analysis of the case studies of Australia Canada Columbia Germany New Zealand the United Kingdom and Uruguay This book will be of interest to students and scholars of political science comparative politics international studies multiculturalism migration and political sociology

Trinidad tracing the historical roots of contemporary dilemmas back to the intertwined legacies of imperialism and liberalism In so doing it demonstrates that multiculturalism has implications that stretch far beyond its current formulations in public and academic discourse Comparing Canada Martin Papillon,Luc Turgeon,Jennifer Wallner,Stephen White,2014-09-15

Debating how Canada compares both regionally and in relation to other countries is a national pastime This book examines how political scientists apply diverse comparative strategies to better understand Canadian political life Using a variety of methods the contributors use comparison to examine topics as diverse as Indigenous rights Canadian voting behaviour activist movements climate policy and immigrant retention While the theoretical perspectives and kinds of questions asked vary greatly as a whole they demonstrate how the art of comparing is an important strategy for understanding Canadian identity politics political mobilization political institutions and public policy Ultimately this book establishes how adopting a more systematic comparative outlook is essential not only to revitalize the study of Canadian politics but also to achieve a more nuanced understanding of Canada as a whole Reconciling Cultural and Political Identities in a Globalized

Chik,Phil Benson,Robyn Moloney,2018-11-07 The rise of global mobility has had a deep impact on the study of urban multilingualism Once associated with research on minority speech communities and inner city ethnolinguistic enclaves Chinatowns Little Italies etc it is now concerned much more with the use of multiple languages in diverse neighbourhoods across the city In this book the authors take an innovative approach that builds on previously published work in two ways

First it focuses on a single city and second it adopts a multidisciplinary approach to multilingualism. By examining the phenomenon of multilingualism in a single city from a range of perspectives, this book paints a more comprehensive picture of the current dimensions of urban multilingualism. A unique feature of this book is the inclusion of contributions from scholars with expertise in education, geography, media, health, communication, and international studies, in addition to community practitioners. Sydney is the largest city in Australia, and on most counts, it is also among the most linguistically diverse cities in the world. As such, it is an ideal site for a multidisciplinary study of urban multilingualism. The selection of 18 multidisciplinary case studies on multilingualism in Sydney, Australia, represents some of the strongest and most innovative research on urban multilingualism in the world today. This book examines how multilingualism permeates institutional and everyday practice in the city, raising important questions about what a multilingual city can and should be. Christianities in Migration Peter C. Phan, Elaine Padilla, 2016-04-29. This book migrates through continents, regions, nations, and villages in order to tell the stories of diverse kinds of nomadic dwellers. It departs from Africa, en routes itself toward Asia, Oceania, Europe, and culminates in the Americas with the territories of Latin America, Canada, and the United States. The volume travels through worn-out pathways of migration that continue to be threaded upon today and theologically reflects on a wide range of migratory aims that result also in diverse forms of indigenization of Christianity. Among the main issues being considered are: How have globalization and migration affected the theological self-understanding of Christianity? In light of globalization and migration, how is the evangelizing mission of Christianity to be understood and carried out? What ecclesiastical reforms, if any, are required to enable the church to meet present-day challenges? Assessing Multiculturalism in Global Comparative Perspective Yasmeen Abu-Laban, Alain-G. Gagnon, Arjun Tremblay, 2022-12-30. In Assessing Multiculturalism in Global Comparative Perspective, a group of leading scholars come together in a multidisciplinary collection to assess multiculturalism through an international comparative perspective. Multiculturalism today faces challenges like never before, through the concurrent rise of populism and white supremacist groups and contemporary social movements mobilizing around alternative ideas of decolonization, anti-racism, and national self-determination. Taking these challenges head-on and with the backdrop that the term multiculturalism originated in Canada before going global, this collection of chapters presents a global comparative view of multiculturalism through both empirical and normative perspectives, with the overarching aim of comprehending multiculturalism's promise, limitations, contemporary challenges, trajectory, and possible futures. Collectively, the chapters provide the basis for a critical assessment of multiculturalism's first 50 years, as well as vital insight into whether multiculturalism is best equipped to meet the distinct challenges characterizing this juncture of the 21st century. With coverage including the Americas, Europe, Oceania, Africa, and Asia, and thematic coverage of citizenship, religion, security, gender, Black Lives Matter, and the post-pandemic order, Assessing Multiculturalism in Global Comparative Perspective presents a comprehensively global collection that is indispensable reading for scholars.

and students of diversity in the 21st century

Multicultural Politics of Recognition and Postcolonial Citizenship

Rachel Busbridge, 2017-07-20 This book examines claims for recognition of cultural difference from immigrant and Indigenous minorities highlighting the ways in which they intersect with ideas of national community Busbridge argues that there is an important albeit under explored relationship between nation and multicultural politics of recognition Drawing on the Australian context the book explores how nation features as a productive if somewhat ambivalent discursive resource in contemporary Muslim and Aboriginal struggles to be recognised In demanding recognition minorities enter into the business of making the nation by positing alternative conceptions of national identity culture and belonging that are more attentive to their differences and claims This dynamic is engaged as an expression of postcolonial citizenship Postcolonial citizenship is imagined in terms of the ways in which minority groups actualise multicultural realities through rewriting ideas of national community It underlines the critical importance of revising the power relations that deem some groups more national and others less so and which in Western multicultural societies are typically tied to notions of the West and its others This book is an important conceptual theoretical and political intervention that brings postcolonialism and multiculturalism into dialogue on the increasingly potent issues of nation and national identity It will be of great interest to scholars and students of sociology politics postcolonial studies culture identity and nation

Thucydides' Meditations on Fear Raymond

Taras, 2023-09-12 Understanding contemporary global politics by connecting them to the meditations of a classical Greek philosopher may seem farfetched and counterintuitive But for political theorists policymakers the new influencers journalists and engaged students Thucydides ancient wisdom provides insights into diagnosing and even undermining an endemic of political fear spreading across the world's borders With his help this book probes six case studies of aspiring great powers and the brittle identities that they may have unwittingly constructed Raymond Taras questions the motives of the manipulators of fear whether found in authoritarian states or increasingly in backsliding liberal democratic ones The urgency of returning to and respecting tolerance in states establishing relations with arriving refugees and migrants takes on critical importance

Institutional Disrespect

Ibolya Losoncz, 2019-06-24 This book is about the institutional disrespect experienced by refugee immigrants at the hands of the state and its institutions The desire to be treated respectfully is not felt only by refugees but they are a much higher risk of not receiving it Using a case study of recently settled South Sudanese Australians the author uncovers the social realities of their marginalisation and examines how blocked pathways to cultivate collective and self identities can lead to a breakdown of social bonds between immigrants and social institutions Institutional Disrespect invites us to take a fresh look at whose responsibility it is to address the disrespect felt by immigrants and other marginalised groups and argues that when disrespect is systemic in governance arrangements or comes in the forms of injustice and institutional mistreatment the responsibility lies not with individuals but with the state its institutions and its appointed bureaucrats
