Lives on the Boundary Mike Rose, 2005-07-26 The award winning account of how America's educational system fails its students and what can be done about it Remedial illiterate intellectually deficient these are the stigmas that define America's educationally underprepared Having grown up poor and been labeled this way nationally acclaimed educator and author Mike Rose takes us into classrooms and communities to reveal what really lies behind the labels and test scores With rich detail Rose demonstrates innovative methods to initiate problem students into the world of language literature and written expression This book challenges educators policymakers and parents to re-examine their assumptions about the capacities of a wide range of students Already a classic Lives on the Boundary offers a truly democratic vision one that should be heeded by anyone concerned with America's future A mirror to the many lacking perfect grammar and spelling who may see their dreams translated into reality after all Los Angeles Times Book Review Vividly written tears apart all of society's prejudices about the academic abilities of the underprivileged New York Times      A Continuous Harmony Wendell Berry, 2012-04-12 This book is broad and leisurely and important Something like the river itself on which Wendell Berry lives It is full of wide and flowing thoughts and one thing leads to another in the manner that nature intended or used to The language ranges from the grave and beautiful to the sharp and specific depending on the need to express the vast variety of subjects he presents The Nation The title of this book is taken from an account by Thomas F Hornbein on his travels in the Himalayas It seemed to me Hornbein wrote that here man lived in continuous harmony with the land as much as briefly a part of it as all its other occupants Wendell Berry's second collection of essays A Continuous Harmony was first published in 1972 and includes the seminal Think Little which was printed in The Last Whole Earth Catalogue and reprinted around the globe and the splendid centerpiece Discipline and Hope an insightful and articulate essay making a case for what he calls a new middle Ecocollapse Fiction and Cultures of Human Extinction Sarah E. McFarland, 2021-01-28 This work analyzes 21st century realistic speculations of human extinction fictions that imagine future worlds without interventions of as yet uninvented technology interplanetary travel or other science fiction elements that provide hope for rescue or long term survival Climate change fiction as a genre of apocalyptic and post apocalyptic writing usually resists facing the potentiality of human species extinction following instead traditional generic conventions that imagine primitivist communities of human survivors with the means of escaping the consequences of global climate change Yet amidst the ongoing sixth great extinction works that problematize survival provide no opportunities for social rebirth and speculate humanity's final end may address the problem of how to reject the impulse of human exceptionalism that pervades climate change discourse and post apocalyptic fiction Rather than following the preferences of the genre the ecocollapse fictions examined here manifest apocalypse where the means for a happy ending no longer exists In these texts diminished ecosystems specters of cannibalism and disintegrations of difference and othering render human self identity as radically malleable within their confrontations with the stark materiality of all life This book is the first in depth exploration of contemporary fictions that imagine the imbrication of human and nonhuman within global species extinctions It closely interrogates novels from authors like Peter Heller Cormac McCarthy and Yann Martel that reject the impulse of human exceptionalism to demonstrate what it might be like to go extinct      The Films of Stan Brakhage in the American Tradition of Ezra Pound, Gertrude Stein and Charles Olson

R. Bruce Elder, 2011-08-26 Since the late 1950s Stan Brakhage has been in the forefront of independent filmmaking His body of work some seventy hours is one of the largest of any filmmaker in the history of cinema and one of the most diverse Probably the most widely quoted experimental filmmaker in history his films typify the independent cinema Until now despite well deserved acclaim there has been no comprehensive study of Brakhage's oeuvre The Films of Stan Brakhage in the American Tradition fills this void R Bruce Elder delineates the aesthetic parallels between Brakhage's films and a broad spectrum of American art from the 1920s through the 1960s This book is certain to stir the passions of those interested in artistic critique and interpretation in its broadest terms      Phenomenal Reading Brian M. Reed, 2012-04-04 This book examines individually and collectively poets widely recognized as formal and linguistic innovators Why do their words appear in unconventional orders What end do these arrangements serve Why are they striking Brian Reed focuses on poetic form as a persistent puzzle utilizing historical fact and the views of other critics to clarify how particular literary works are constructed and how those constructions lead to specific effects Back cover      The Book of Tree Poems Ana Sampson, 2023-08-17 Could there be a more pleasant way to spend a warm afternoon than lazing under a tree reading poetry inspired by these shade giving wonders of the world Trees have sparked some of the biggest literary imaginations over the ages and as the climate emergency escalates it has never been more important to appreciate our vital connection to them This beautifully illustrated anthology of sixty tree poems is a celebration of our love of trees With poems by some of the world's best loved poets including Philip Larkin Ted Hughes Carol Ann Duffy Thomas Hardy and Elizabeth Barrett Browning The Book of Tree Poems will help you see trees as you've never seen them before      Contemporary Authors New Revision Daniel Jones, 1998-03 In response to the escalating need for up to date information on writers Contemporary Authors New Revision Series brings researchers the most recent data on the world's most popular authors These exciting and unique author profiles are essential to your holdings because sketches are entirely revised and up to date and completely replace the original Contemporary Authors entries For your convenience a soft cover cumulative index is sent biannually      Measuring the Visible Andrea Cady, 2024-09-16      Never by Itself Alone David Grundy, 2024 Through its comprehensive history of post war queer writing in Boston and San Francisco from the 1940s through the 21st century Never By Itself Alone provides a new view of queer history Grundy intertwines analysis of lesbian gay and queer literature of the time centering voices which have not yet before been explored in existing criticism The book elevates the underrepresented work of writers of color and those with gender nonconforming identities underscores the link between activism and literature and insists upon the vital importance of radical accounts of race class and gender in any queer studies worthy of the name      Updating the Literary West, 1997 Western writers says Thomas J Lyon in his epilogue to Updating the Literary West have grown up with the frontier myth but now find themselves in the early stages of creating a new western myth The editors of the Literary History of the American West TCU Press 1987 hoped that the first volume would begin not conclude their exploration of the West's literary heritage Out of this hope comes Updating the Literary West a comprehensive reference anthology including essays by over one hundred scholars A selected bibliography is included with each piece In the ten years since publication of LHAW western writing has developed a significantly larger presence in the national literary stream A variety of cultural viewpoints have developed along with new tactics for literary study New authors have risen to prominence and the range of subjects has changed and widened Updating the Literary West looks at topics ranging from western classics to cowboys and Cadillacs and considers children's literature ethnicity environmental writing gender issues and other topics in which change has been rapid since publication of LHAW. This volume again affirms the West's literary legitimacy status hard earned by the Western Literary Association and the lasting place of popular western writing as part of the growing and changing literary and American experience. An excellent reference for a wide range of readers and an invaluable resource for scholars and libraries. Selected list of contributors: James Maguire, Fred Erisman, Susan J. Rosowski, Gerald Haslam, Tom Pilkington, A. Carl Bredahl, Richard Slotkin, John G. Cawelti, Robert F. Gish, Ann Ronald, Mick McAllister.

The Beat Generation: Authors I-Z Lynn Marie Zott, 2003

Hypermedia and Literary Studies Paul Delany, George P. Landow, 1991. The essays in Hypermedia and Literary Studies discuss the theoretical and practical opportunities and challenges posed by the convergence of hypermedia systems and traditional written texts. Consider a work from Shakespeare. Imagine as you read it being able to call up instantly the Elizabethan usage of a particular word, variant texts for any part of the work, critical commentary, historically relevant facts or oral interpretations by different sets of actors. This is the sort of richly interconnected, immediately accessible literary universe that can be created by hypertext, electronically linked texts and hypermedia, the extension of linkages to visual and aural material. The essays in Hypermedia and Literary Studies discuss the theoretical and practical opportunities and challenges posed by the convergence of hypermedia systems and traditional written texts. They range from the theory and design of literary hypermedia to reports of actual hypermedia projects from secondary school to university and from educational and scholarly to creative applications in poetry and fiction.

Contents: Hypertext, Hypermedia and Literary Studies, Theory, Reading and Writing the Electronic Book, From Electronic Books to Electronic Libraries, Revisiting Reading and Writing the Electronic Book, The Rhetoric of Hypermedia, Some Rules for Authors, Topographic Writing, Hypertext and the Electronic Writing Space, Reading from the Map, Metonymy and Metaphor in the Fiction of Forking Paths, Poem Descending a Staircase, Hypertext and the Simultaneity of Experience, Reading Hypertext, Order and Coherence in a New Medium, Threnody, Psychoanalytic Digressions on the Subject of Hypertexts, Applications, Biblical Studies and Hypertext, Ancient Materials, Modern Media, Shaping the Study of Classics with Hypertext, Linking Together Books, Adapting Published Material into Intermedia Documents, The Shakespeare Project, The Emblematic Hyperbook, HyperCard, Stacks for Fielding's Joseph Andrews, Issues of Design and Content, Hypertext for the PC, The Rub'n Dario Project, Hypermedia in Schools.

The Grace of Distance Matthew Thorburn, 2019-08-14. In The Grace of Distance, his poignant far-traveling new collection of poems, Matthew Thorburn explores the ways in which we try to close the distances we experience in modern life, between doubt and faith, between cultures, between ourselves and those we love. He seeks to name and find that elusive essential sense of connection; humanity hungers for it. In one poem, a boy places a bell in the hollow of a tree so someone might find it. In others, an overworked baker wishes for an annunciation of her own while a man calls down into a well until another voice calls back. Set in China and America in the present and the distant past, Thorburn's poems examine both Eastern and Western ideas of spirituality, looking closely at the ways we can lose faith, then sometimes find it again The poems also confront the unbridgeable distances we must live with and the perhaps surprising grace they can provide a greater sense of perspective understanding and peace even as our lives move in the only direction they can away from the past     The Center of the World June Howard, 2018 This book studies literary regionalism and it shows that one of the ways we imagine the world is through writing and reading about particular places It explores how writers are shaped by particular places and how their stories shape our understanding of localities and the globe
