Multiracial Parents Miri Song, 2017-11-07 The views and experiences of multiracial people as parents The world's multiracial population is considered to be one of the fastest growing of all ethnic groups In the United States alone it is estimated that over 20% of the population will be considered mixed race by 2050 Public figures such as former President Barack Obama and Hollywood actress Ruth Negga further highlight the highly diverse backgrounds of those classified under the umbrella term of multiracial. Multiracial Parents considers how mixed race parents identify with and draw from their cultural backgrounds in raising and socializing their children. Miri Song presents a groundbreaking examination of how the meanings and practices surrounding multiracial identification are passed down through the generations. A revealing portrait of how multiracial identity is and is not transmitted to children. Multiracial Parents focuses on couples comprised of one White and one non white minority who were mostly first generation mixed, situating her findings in a trans Atlantic framework. By drawing on detailed narratives about the parents' children and family lives, this book explores what it means to be multiracial and whether multiracial identity and status will matter for multiracial people's children. Many couples suggested that their very existence and their children's is a step toward breaking down boundaries about the meaning of race and that the idea of a mixed race population is increasingly becoming normalized despite existing concerns about racism and racial bias within and beyond various communities. A critical perspective on contemporary multiracial families. Multiracial Parents raises fundamental questions about the future significance of racial boundaries and identities.

Asian American Literature Keith Lawrence, 2021-08-25 Asian American Literature An Encyclopedia for Students is an invaluable resource for students curious to know more about Asian North American writers, texts, and the issues and drives that motivate their writing. This volume collects in one place a breadth of information about Asian American literary and cultural history as well as the authors and texts that best define it. A dozen contextual essays introduce fundamental elements or subcategories of Asian American literature, expanding on social and literary concerns or tensions that are familiar and relevant. Essays include the origins and development of the term Asian American, overviews of Asian American and Asian Canadian social and literary histories, essays on Asian American identity, gender issues, and sexuality, and discussions of Asian American rhetoric and children's literature. More than 120 alphabetical entries round out the volume and cover important Asian North American authors. Historical information is presented in clear and engaging ways, and author entries emphasize biographical or textual details that are significant to contemporary young adults. Special attention has been given to pioneering authors from the late 19th century through the early 1970s and to influential or well known contemporary authors, especially those likely to be studied in high school or university classrooms.

Mixed-Race Superheroes Sika A. Dagbovie-Mullins, Eric L. Berlatsky, 2021-04-16 Looking at such iconic heroes as Superman, Spider-Man, and The Hulk alongside such lesser studied characters as Valkyrie, Dr. Fate, and Steven Universe, the essays in this collection contend with the multitude of ways that mixed race identity has been represented in superhero comics, films, television, and literature.

Race Policy and Multiracial Americans Kathleen Odell Korgen, 2016-01-13 Race Policy and Multiracial Americans looks at the impact of multiracial people on race policies where they lag behind the growing numbers of multiracial people in the USA and how they can be used to promote racial justice. This much needed book is essential reading for anyone interested in race relations and social justice.

Racist America Joe R. Feagin, Kimberley Ducey, 2025-07-04 The fifth edition of Racist America is thoroughly revised and updated focusing on systemic racism and antiracism issues especially those arising since the fourth edition 2019 Expanding the discussion on racialized intersectionality as well as on the white racial frame elite white male dominance system and antiracist action this book details how these racism realities continue to impact black Latino Asian Indigenous and white Americans The book explains how and why the Black Lives Matter movement and other antiracist protests have erupted how and why Latino Asian and Indigenous Americans have responded to expanding racist discrimination and how and why a diverse array of Americans has demanded major societal responses to dismantle entrenched white racism

Love Under the Skin Cécile Coquet-Mokoko, 2020-04-15 The rising visibility of interracial couples calls for increased attention to the overlapping of culture and race in safe spaces centered on small group dynamics or in public spaces where peoples of African descent are under the public gaze This comparative study seeks to de center the U S centered viewpoint common to much of the literature on black white relations Based on nine years of fieldwork in the American South and in France Coquet shows many unexpected parallels between the two societies Gendered perceptions of cultural authenticity and sexual ethics are a guiding thread being inseparable from the historical and political contingencies re defining acceptable forms of dating marrying and parenting among cis heterosexual couples in both societies Her account emphasizes resilience and agency as couples seek to protect themselves and their children while their extended or symbolic kinship networks help white partners acknowledge the existence of racial privilege

Quantitative Tourism Research in Asia Sajad Rezaei, 2018-12-14 The purpose of this book is twofold First this book is an attempt to map the state of quantitative research in Asian tourism and hospitality context and provide a detailed description of the design implementation application and challenges of quantitative methods in tourism in Asia Second this book aims to contribute to the tourism literature by discussing the past current and future quantitative data analysis methods The book offers new insights into well established research techniques such as regression analysis but goes beyond first generation data analysis techniques to introduce methods seldom if ever used in tourism and hospitality research In addition to investigating existing and novel research techniques the book suggests areas for future studies In order to achieve its objectives the analysis is split into three main sections understanding the tourism industry in Asia the current status of quantitative data analysis and future directions for Asian tourism research

Critical Mixed Race Philosophy Sabrina L. Hom, 2025-03-15
Critical Mixed Race Philosophy Rethinking Kinship and Identity reimagines mixed race studies arguing that commonplace and widely accepted ways of understanding mixedness are mired in outdated and essentialist assumptions about race biology and kinship Sabrina L Hom explores the intersection of race sex and sexuality and calls for a nuanced understanding of the politics of mixed race Commonplace narratives treat mixedness as something new and transformative but it is neither as promising nor as fearful as it may seem Instead the author draws on rich mixed race histories both to make the case that mixedness has always been a part of the racial landscape and to argue for a more dynamic understanding of race that reflects how frequently ambiguous bodies are incorporated into racial logic Drawing on feminist and queer theory Critical Mixed Race Philosophy articulates a non essentialist conception of mixed race identity and kinship that asks us to rethink what it means to be mixed and where mixed people fit into racial politics

The Souls of Mixed Folk Michele Elam, 2011-02-21
The Souls of Mixed Folk examines representations of mixed race in literature and the arts that redefine new millennial aesthetics and politics Focusing on black white mixes Elam analyzes expressive works novels drama graphic narrative late night television art installations as artistic rejoinders to the perception that post Civil Rights politics are bereft and post Black art is apolitical Reorienting attention to the cultural invention of mixed race from the social sciences to the humanities Elam considers the creative work of Lezley Saar Aaron McGruder Nate Creekmore Danzy Senna Colson Whitehead Emily Raboteau Carl Hancock Rux and Dave Chappelle All these writers and artists address mixed race as both an aesthetic challenge and a social concern and together they gesture toward a poetics of social justice for the mulatto millennium The Souls of Mixed Folk seeks a middle way between competing hagiographic and apocalyptic impulses in mixed race scholarship between those who proselytize mixed race as the great hallelujah to the race problem and those who can only hear the alarmist bells of civil rights destruction Both approaches can obscure some of the more critically astute engagements with new millennial iterations of mixed race by the multi generic cohort of contemporary writers artists and performers discussed in this book The Souls of Mixed Folk offers case studies of their creative work in an effort to expand the contemporary idiom about mixed race in the so called post race moment asking how might new millennial expressive forms suggest an aesthetics of mixed race And how might such an aesthetics productively reimagine the relations between race art and social equity in the twenty first century

Mixed Race Hollywood Mary C. Beltran, Camilla Fojas, 2008-09-01
A Kansas City Star 2008 Notable Book Since the early days of Hollywood film portrayals of interracial romance and of individuals of

mixed racial and ethnic heritage have served to highlight and challenge fault lines within Hollywood and the nation's racial categories and borders Mixed Race Hollywood is a pioneering compilation of essays on mixed race romance individuals families and stars in U S film and media culture Situated at the cutting edge juncture of ethnic studies and media studies this collection addresses early mixed race film characters Blaxploitation mixed race in children's television programming and the outing of mixed race stars on the Internet among other issues and contemporary trends in mixed race representation The contributors explore this history and current trends from a wide range of disciplinary perspectives in order to better understand the evolving conception of race and ethnicity in contemporary culture Family, Identity and Mixedness Mengxi Pang, 2021-10-27 Approaching the question of identity through a lens that combines interactionist and intersectional perspectives and applies two strands of sociological theories Mengxi Pang invites readers to unravel the process of identity making and to delineate the effect of family and wider society on the formation of mixed identities in Scotland The Oxford Handbook of Leadership and Organizations David Day, 2014-05-20 As the leadership field continues to evolve there are many reasons to be optimistic about the various theoretical and empirical contributions in better understanding leadership from a scholarly and scientific perspective The Oxford Handbook of Leadership and Organizations brings together a collection of comprehensive state of the science reviews and perspectives on the most pressing historical and contemporary leadership issues with a particular focus on theory and research and looks to the future of the field It provides a broad picture of the leadership field as well as detailed reviews and perspectives within the respective areas Each chapter authored by leading international authorities in the various leadership sub disciplines explores the history and background of leadership in organizations examines important research issues in leadership from both quantitative and qualitative perspectives and forges new directions in leadership research practice and education Social Media in Trinidad Jolynna Sinanan, 2017-11-21 Drawing on 15 months of ethnographic research in one of the most under developed regions in the Caribbean island of Trinidad this book describes the uses and consequences of social media for its residents Jolynna Sinanan argues that this semi urban town is a place in between somewhere city dwellers look down on and villagers look up to The complex identity of the town is expressed through uses of social media with significant results for understanding social media more generally Not elevating oneself above others is one of the core values of the town and social media becomes a tool for social visibility that is the process of how social norms come to be and how they are negotiated Carnival logic and high impact visuality is pervasive in uses of social media even if Carnival is not embraced by all Trinidadians in the town and results in presenting oneself and association with different groups in varying ways The study also has surprising results in how residents are explicitly non activist and align themselves with everyday values of maintaining good relationships in a small town rather than espousing more worldly or cosmopolitan values Resources in Education , 2001-10 Eurasian Emma Teng, 2013-07-13 In the second half of the nineteenth century global labor migration trade and overseas study brought China and the United States into close contact leading to new cross cultural encounters that brought mixed race families into being. Yet the stories of these families remain largely unknown. How did interracial families negotiate their identities within these societies when mixed race marriage was taboo and Eurasian often a derisive term? In Eurasian Emma Jinhua Teng compares Chinese Western mixed race families in the United States, China and Hong Kong, examining both the range of ideas that shaped the formation of Eurasian identities in these diverse contexts and the claims set forth by individual Eurasians concerning their own identities. Teng argues that Eurasians were not universally marginalized during this era as is often asserted. Rather, Eurasians often found themselves facing contradictions between exclusionary and inclusive ideologies of race and nationality and between overt racism and more subtle forms of prejudice that were counterbalanced by partial acceptance and privilege. By tracing the stories of mixed and transnational families during an earlier era of globalization, Eurasian also demonstrates to students, faculty, scholars and researchers how changes in interracial ideology have allowed the descendants of some of these families to reclaim their dual heritage with pride.

Raising Biracial Children Kerry Ann Rockquemore, Tracey A. Laszloffy, 2005-11-10

As the multiracial population in the United States continues to rise, new models for our understanding of mixed race children and how their conception of racial identity must be developed. A wide divide between academics who research biracial identity and the everyday world of parents and practitioners who raise and deal with mixed race children exists. This book aims to fill this gap by providing an extensive synthesis of the existing research in the field as well as a model for better understanding the unique process of racial identity development for mixed race children. Raising Biracial Children provides parents, educators, social workers and anyone interested in multiracial issues with an accessible framework for understanding healthy mixed race identity development and to translate those findings into practical care giving strategies.
