Peace in the US Republic of Letters, 1840-1900 Sandra M. Gustafson, 2023-09-06 Peace in the US Republic of Letters 1840 1900 explores the early peace movement as it captured the imagination of leading writers The book charts the rise of the peace cause from its sources in the works of William Penn and John Woolman through the founding of the first peace societies in 1815 and the mid century peace congresses to the postbellum movement s consequential emphasis on arbitration The Civil War is the central axis for the book with three chapters organized around readings of novels by James Fenimore Cooper Harriet Beecher Stowe and Nathaniel Hawthorne spanning the period from 1840 to 1865 Cooper had personal connections to the movement and thought deeply about the issues it addressed Literary interest in peace at times overlapped with abolitionism as was true for Stowe And in the case of Hawthorne attention to peace advocacy arose out of a mixture of skepticism regarding perfectionist impulses a desire to explore the nature and limits of violence and fear of civil conflict The volume also explores fiction engaged with problems that arose in the aftermath of that war including novels by Henry Adams and John Hay on political corruption and class conflict works on the failures of Reconstruction by Albion Tourg e and Charles Chesnutt and the varied treatments of Indigenous experience in Helen Hunt Jackson s Ramona and Simon Pokagon s Queen of the Woods All of these writers focused on issues related to the cause of peace expanding its thematic

Memory and Social Movements in Modern and Contemporary History Stefan Berger, Christian Koller, 2024-04-29 Reflecting the growing interest of historians in memory studies this edited collection examines the relationship between memory and global social movements from 1848 to the present For a long time there has been little attempt by historians to consider memory and social activism in an integrated systematic and comparative way However in recent years scholars have demonstrated that social movements rely on collective memories to assert claims mobilize supporters and legitimize their political visions while also helping to further shape collective memories This book delves into the synergies between memory studies and social movements exploring how social movements have been constructing and creating memories of their own activity how specific landscapes of memory have influenced social movements and how activists have used memory as a cultural resource to further their own goals and ambitions The case studies presented cover a range of different types of political activism including the fights for workers gay feminist and pacifist rights as well as ecological urban and far right movements across the globe portraying the diverse interrelations that exist between social movements and collective memory

Peace Museums Peter van den Dungen, 2024-12-31 This book is the first comprehensive study of the history nature and purposes of peace museums comprising twenty one essays by a leading authority in the field It presents a powerful argument for the need for this new kind of museum that informs and inspires visitors that a world of peace and nonviolence is both necessary and possible Whereas there are numerous museums about war and the armed forces museums about peacemaking and peacemakers are rare indeed the very concept of peace museums is still largely unknown This is a reflection of the traditional writing and teaching of history which is dominated by narratives of war and warriors with little or no attention being paid to the history of efforts to prevent and abolish war Peace museums are ideal instruments to bring the long fascinating and vitally important history of peace to life for a large public Among the essays included are histories of two forgotten and unknown yet heroic efforts to prevent World War I and then World War II through museums that educated and alerted visitors about the disasters ahead if war was not avoided and ways to steer a different course following the catastrophe that was the Great War At a time when a barbaric war in Europe continuing wars in Africa and ominous threats of war in Asia are raising the specter of nuclear war and World War III the need for anti nuclear bomb and anti war museums is greater than ever Such museums are essential for the development of a global culture of peace and nonviolence The book provides inspiration and hope for everyone interested in efforts to overcome an existential threat to civilization that is wholly man made
