One Hundred More Poems From The Japanese New Directions Books:

One Hundred More Poems from the Japanese Kenneth Rexroth, 1976 The poems are representative of a large range of classical medieval and modern poetry but the emphasis is on folk songs and love lyrics Because women have had such an outstanding role in Japanese literature included here are selections from the work among others of the remarkable early twentieth century poet Yosano Akiko and more contemporary deeply sensuous Marichiko

One Hundred More Poems from the Chinese, 2014-04-10 An assemblage of delicate Chinese verse which delicately explore the worlds of love nature and meditation Love and the Turning Year includes a selection from the Yueh Fu folk songs from the Six Dynasties Period fourth fifth centuries A D Most of the songs are simple erotic lyrics Some are attributed to legendary courtesans while others may have been sung at harvest festivals or marriage celebrations In addition to the folk songs Rexroth offers a wide sampling of Chinese verse works by 60 different poets from the third century to our own time Rexroth always translated Chinese poetry as he said solely to please myself And he created with remarkable success English versions which stand as poems in their own right

One Hundred More Poems from the Japanese Kenneth Rexroth, 1976 The original texts are presented in romaji the transliteration into the Western alphabet in this collection representative of a wide range of classical medieval and modern poetry

Love Poems from the Japanese Sam Hamill, 2003 An introduction by the poet and translator Sam Hamill the editor of this collection and short biographies of the poets are included

The Translation Zone Emily Apter, 2006 Translation before 9 11 was deemed primarily an instrument of international relations business education and culture Today it seems more than ever a matter of war and peace In The Translation Zone Emily Apter argues that the field of translation studies habitually confined to a framework of linguistic fidelity to an original is ripe for expansion as the basis for a new comparative literature Organized around a series of propositions that range from the idea that nothing is translatable to the idea that everything is translatable The Translation Zone examines the vital role of translation studies in the invention of comparative literature as a discipline Apter emphasizes language wars including the role of mistranslation in the art of war linguistic incommensurability in translation studies the tension between textual and cultural translation the role of translation in shaping a global literary canon the resistance to Anglophone dominance and the impact of translation technologies on the very notion of how translation is defined The book speaks to a range of disciplines and spans the globe Ultimately The Translation Zone maintains that a new comparative literature must take stock of the political impact of translation technologies on the definition of foreign or symbolic languages in the humanities while recognizing the complexity of language politics in a world at once more monolingual and more multilingual

The Films of Kore-eda Hirokazu Linda C. Ehrlich, 2019-12-30 The Films of Kore eda Hirokazu An Elemental Cinema draws readers into the first 13 feature films and 5 of the documentaries of award winning Japanese film director Kore eda Hirokazu With his recent top prize at the Cannes Film Festival for Shoplifters Kore eda is arguably Japan s greatest living director with an international viewership He approaches difficult subjects child abandonment suicide marginality with a realistic and compassionate eye The lyrical tone of the writing of Japanese film scholar Linda C Ehrlich perfectly complements the understated yet powerful tone of the films From An Elemental Cinema readers will gain a special understanding of Kore eda s films through a novel connection to the natural elements as reflected in Japanese traditional aesthetics An Elemental Cinema presents Kore eda s oeuvre as a connected whole with overarching thematic concerns despite frequent generic experimentation It also offers an example of how the poetics of cinema can be practiced in writing as well as on the screen and helps readers understand the films of this contemporary director as works of art that relate to their own lives How to Read a Japanese Poem Steven D.

Carter,2019-06-11 How to Read a Japanese Poem offers a comprehensive approach to making sense of traditional Japanese poetry of all genres and periods Steven D Carter explains to Anglophone students the methods of composition and literary interpretation used by Japanese poets scholars and critics from ancient times to the present and adds commentary that will assist the modern reader How to Read a Japanese Poem presents readings of poems by major figures such as Saigy and Bash as well as lesser known poets with nearly two hundred examples that encompass all genres of Japanese poetry The book gives attention to well known forms such as haikai or haiku as well as ancient songs comic poems and linked verse Each chapter provides examples of a genre in chronological order followed by notes about authorship and other contextual details including the time of composition physical setting and social occasion The commentaries focus on a central feature of Japanese poetic discourse that poems are often occasional written in specific situations and are best read in light of their milieu Carter elucidates key concepts useful in examining Japanese poetics as well as the technical vocabulary of Japanese poetic discourse familiarizing students with critical terms and concepts An appendix offers succinct definitions of technical terms and essays on aesthetic ideals and devices The 100 Best Love Poems of All Time Leslie Pockell,2008-03-12

Collected Longer Poems Kenneth Rexroth,2013-05-15 This is a companion volume to the Collected Shorter Poems of Kenneth Rexroth which was published in 1967 This is a companion volume to the Collected Shorter Poems of Kenneth

Rexroth which was published in 1967 All of the long poems written over the past forty years are included The Homestead Called Damascus 1920 25 A Prolegomenon to a Theodicy 1925 27 The Phoenix and the Tortoise 1940 44 The Dragon and the Unicorn 1944 50 and The Heart's Garden The Garden's Heart 1967 68 As we read the long poems together and in sequence we can see that Rexroth is a philosophical poet of consequence who offers us a comprehensive system of values based on the realization of the ethical mysticism of universal responsibility He is concerned above all with process the movement from the Dual to the Other I have tried Rexroth writes to embody in verse the belief that the only valid conservation of value lies in the assumption of unlimited liability the supernatural identification of the self with the tragic unity of creative process I hope I have made it clear that the self does not do this by an act of will by sheer assertion He who would save his life must lose it

Kenneth Rexroth and James Laughlin Kenneth Rexroth, 1991 Frankly H Miller was defended by me only because he spoke against the War and I think that was the main reason for his fame Now I do not believe what with Palmistry Chiromancy Phrenology and the Great Cryptogram he will survive the retooling period I honestly think he is the most insufferable snob I have ever met but all reformed pandhandlers are like that in a letter from Kenneth Rexroth to James Laughlin Updating the Literary West, 1997 Western writers says Thomas J Lyon in his epilogue to Updating the Literary West have grown up with the frontier myth but now find themselves in the early stages of creating a new western myth The editors of the Literary History of the American West TCU Press 1987 hoped that the first volume would begin not conclude their exploration of the West's literary heritage Out of this hope comes Updating the Literary West a comprehensive reference anthology including essays by over one hundred scholars A selected bibliography is included with each piece In the ten years since publication of LHAW western writing has developed a significantly larger presence in the national literary stream A variety of cultural viewpoints have developed along with new tactics for literary study New authors have risen to prominence and the range of subjects has changed and widened Updating the Literary West looks at topics ranging from western classics to cowboys and Cadillacs and considers children's literature ethnicity environmental writing gender issues and other topics in which change has been rapid since publication of LHAW This volume again affirms the West's literary legitimacy status hard earned by the Western Literary Association and the lasting place of popular western writing as part of the growing and changing literary and American experience An excellent reference for a wide range of readers and an invaluable resource for scholars and libraries Selected list of contributors James Maguire Fred Erisman Susan J Rosowski Gerald Haslam Tom Pilkington A Carl Bredahl Richard Slotkin John G Cawelti Robert F Gish Ann Ronald Mick McAllister

Nation, Language, and the Ethics of Translation Sandra Bermann, Michael Wood, 2005-07-05 In recent years scholarship on translation has moved well beyond the technicalities of converting one language into another and beyond conventional translation theory With new technologies blurring distinctions between the original and its reproductions and with globalization redefining national and cultural boundaries translation is now emerging as a reformulated subject of lively
