

The background of the book cover is a photograph of a woman in a white, patterned dress and a white headscarf walking from left to right. She is barefoot and carrying a dark bag. The background is a wall made of rusty, corrugated metal sheets. The ground is a dark, reflective surface, possibly water, which shows a reflection of the woman and the wall.

Football, Power, and Politics in Argentina Eugenio Paradiso,2024-04-10 This book examines the interplay between football politics violence passion and morality in Argentina Drawing on original ethnographic research it considers the role of fans club officials politicians and others in the spread and perpetuation of corruption and violence within football and in wider Argentinian society Argentina's triumph in the 2022 World Cup brought millions onto the streets of Buenos Aires in celebration but this book argues that beneath the veneer of sporting success lie networks of power and practices that have naturalized corruption and violence within Argentinian football and by extension in Argentinian society as a whole It shows how the actions of club officials politicians barras groups of organized violent fans and the police which together represent a system of clientelism exemplify in the world of football the system of organized chaos that habitually defines Argentinian politics With the barras given licence to engage in violent behaviours linked not only to sporting passion but also to economic and political interests this book argues that football politics and violence have become entangled in a web of social relations that illustrate Argentina's struggle to break the vicious cycle of corruption and impunity Shining new light on the significance of sport in wider society and the centrality of football in one of the world's greatest footballing nations this book is essential reading for anybody with an interest in the anthropology sociology politics or history of sport or in political science corruption or Latin American studies

How Do Hurricane Katrina's Winds Blow? Liza Treadwell,2014-03-26 The disproportionate effect of Hurricane Katrina on African Americans was an outcome created by law and societal construct not chance This book takes a hard look at racial stratification in American today and debunks the myth that segregation is a thing of the past An outstanding resource for students of African American history government policy sociology and human rights as well as readers interested in socioeconomics in the United States today this book examines why the divisions between the areas heavily damaged by Hurricane Katrina and those left unscathed largely coincided with the color lines in New Orleans neighborhoods and establishes how African Americans have suffered for 400 years under an oppressive system that has created a permanent underclass of second class citizenship Rather than focusing on the Katrina disaster itself the author presents significant evidence of how government policy and structure as well as societal mores permitted and sanctioned the dehumanization of African Americans purposefully placing them in disaster prone areas particularly those in New Orleans The historical context is framed within the construct of Hurricane Katrina and other hurricane catastrophes in New Orleans demonstrating that Katrina was not an anomaly For readers unfamiliar with the ugly existence of segregation in modern day America this book will likely shock and outrage as it sounds a call to both citizens and government to undertake the challenges we still face as a nation Mark 15:39 as a Markan Theology of Revelation Brian K. Gamel, 2017-10-19 In the Gospel of Mark Jesus arrest trial and execution ends with the Roman centurion who oversees the death process proclaiming Jesus as God's son Gamel explores two key questions in relation to this moment what does the centurion mean when he says that Jesus is God's son and why does he say it The confession is not made on the basis of any signs nor from any indication that he perceives Jesus death as honourable or exemplary This apparent lack of motivation itself highlights a key Markan theme that this insight is revealed by an apocalyptic act of God signalled by the tearing of the temple veil Thus the confession which we can understand to be made sincerely and knowledgeably is the result of an act of God's revelation alone Gamel explores the theory of Mark depicting a story in which all human characters exhibit varying levels of blindness to the spiritual realities that govern their lives By making a thorough examination of Mark's Gospel while placing primary focus on the centurion the study is unlimited and presents a serious examination of the whole Gospel Gamel concludes his argument with the point that at the foot of the cross this blindness is decisively confronted by God's apocalyptic act The offer of sight to the centurion demonstrates the reconciliation of God and humanity which are otherwise in Mark's Gospel repeatedly presented as antagonistic spheres Finally the fact that revelation is offered to a Gentile highlights the inclusion of the nations into the promises of Israel Organizing the Organized Laura

Ariovich, 2010 This series publishes monographs and edited collections on the history present condition and possible future role of organised labour around the world Multidisciplinary in approach geographically and chronologically diverse this series is dedicated to the study of trade unionism and the undeniably significant role it has played in modern society

Caught between the Lines Carlos Riobó, 2019-04-01 Caught between the Lines examines how the figure of the captive and the notion of borders have been used in Argentine literature and painting to reflect competing notions of national identity from the nineteenth to the twenty first centuries Challenging the conventional approach to the nineteenth century trope of civilization versus barbarity which was intended to criticize the social and ethnic divisions within Argentina in order to create a homogenous society Carlos Riob traces the various versions of colonial captivity legends He argues convincingly that the historical conditions of the colonial period created an ethnic hybridity a mestizo or culturally mixed identity that went against the state compulsion for a racially pure identity This mestizaje was signified not only in Argentina's literature but also in its art and Riob thus analyzes colonial paintings as well as texts Caught between the Lines focuses on borders and mestizaje both biological and cultural as they relate to captives specifically how captives have been used to create a national image of Argentina that relies on a logic of separation to justify concepts of national purity and to deny transculturation

Reforging a Forgotten History: Iraq and the Assyrians in the Twentieth Century Sargon Donabed, 2015-02-01 Who are the Assyrians and what role did they play in shaping modern Iraq Were they simply bystanders victims of collateral damage who played a passive role in the history of Iraq And how have they negotiated their position throughout various periods of Iraq's state building processes This book details the narrative and history of Iraq in the 20th century and reinserts the Assyrian experience as an integral part of Iraq's broader contemporary historiography It is the first comprehensive account to contextualize this native people's experience alongside the developmental processes of the modern Iraqi state Using primary and secondary data this book offers a nuanced exploration of the dynamics that have affected and determined the trajectory of the Assyrians' experience in 20th century Iraq

Black Tommies Ray Costello, 2015-12-04 Offers an overview of the role played by Black British soldiers in the First World War
