The Hydropolitics of Africa Raj Bardouille,Mechthild Nagel,Muna Ndulo,2008-12-11 Water is both an essential resource and a source of disease and conflict in contemporary Africa And we begin to learn that far distant processes of consumption and pollution can have their impact on the water systems of Africa global warming produced by the material culture of the first world threatens the weather systems and very survival of developing countries In this context this volume the product of an expert meeting at Cornell University s Institute for African Development traces and tracks the dynamics of the contemporary hydropolitics of Africa The volume contains a variety of approaches to the study of the organisation of water within Africa ranging from technical essays on water borne diseases through institutional analyses of the legal and political arrangements around the distribution of water to social policy analyses of the unmet demand for water amongst Africa s poor Taken as a whole the volume provides the reader with a useful reference work on the contemporary hydropolitics of Africa whilst simultaneously providing a lively introduction to a critical and much neglected area of African development policy investigates the permissibility and viability of property rights on the celestial bodies particularly the extraterrestrial aspects of land and mineral resources ownership. In lay terms it aims to find an answer to the question Who owns the Moon? The first chapter critically analyses and dismantles with legal arguments the issue of sale of extraterrestrial real estate after having perused some of the trivial claims of celestial bodies ownership. The only consequence these claims have on the plane of space law is to highlight the need for a better regulation of extraterrestrial landed property rights. Next the book addresses the apparent silence of the law in the field of extraterrestrial property scrutinizing whether the factual situation on the extraterrestrial realms calls for legal regulations. The sources of law are examined in their dual dimension that is the facts that have caused and shaped the law of extraterrestrial real estate and the norms which express this law. It is found that the norms and rules regarding property rights in the celestial realms are rather limited failing to define basic concepts such as celestial body.
