Algorithmic Cultures Robert Seyfert, Jonathan Roberge, 2016-10-04 This book provides in depth and wide ranging analyses of the emergence and subsequent ubiquity of algorithms in diverse realms of social life The plurality of Algorithmic Cultures emphasizes 1 algorithms increasing importance in the formation of new epistemic and organizational paradigms and 2 the multifaceted analyses of algorithms across an increasing number of research fields The authors in this volume address the complex interrelations between social groups and algorithms in the construction of meaning and social interaction The contributors highlight the performative dimensions of algorithms by exposing the dynamic processes through which algorithms themselves the product of a specific approach to the world frame reality while at the same time organizing how people think about society With contributions from leading experts from Media Studies Social Studies of Science and Technology Cultural and Media Sociology from Canada France Germany UK and the USA this volume presents cutting edge empirical and conceptual research that includes case studies on social media platforms gaming financial trading and mobile security infrastructures

Resilience in EU and International Institutions Elena Korosteleva, Trine Flockhart, 2020-12-17 This book explores the concept and practice of resilience that has generated much debate among both scholars and practitioners The contributions propose a new understanding of resilience both as a quality and a way of thinking taking it to the level of the person and the local to argue that a more sustainable way to govern the world today is bottom up and inside out While carrying a seemingly unifying message of self reliance adaptation and survival in the face of adversity resilience curiously continues to appear as all things to all people making it hard for the EU and international institutions to make full use of its arresting potential Engendering resilience today in the highly volatile and uncertain world hit by crises pandemic and diminishing control becomes a priority as never before This book develops a more comprehensive view of resilience by looking at it both as a quality of the system and a way of thinking inherent to the local that cannot be engineered from the outside It is argued in this volume that in some cases the level of the person especially the person s sense of what constitutes a good life may be the most appropriate focus for understanding change and strategic adaptation in response to it This understanding widens the scope of discussion from what makes an entity system or person more adaptable to how one can best govern today to establish a stable equilibrium between the global and the local the external and the internal and become more responsive to the challenges and changes of today s highly uncertain world The chapters in this book were originally published in the journal Contemporary Security Policy

Phase Media James Ash, 2017-12-14 In Phase Media James Ash theorizes how smart objects understood as Internet connected and sensor enabled devices are altering users experience of their environment Rather than networks connected by lines of transmission smart objects generate phases understood as space times that modulate the spatio temporal intelligibility of both humans and non humans Examining a range of objects and services from the Apple Watch to Nest Cam to Uber Ash suggests that the modulation of spatio temporal intelligibility is partly shaped by the commercial logics of the industries that design and manufacture smart objects but can also exceed them Drawing upon the work of Martin Heidegger Gilbert Simondon and Bruno Latour Ash argues that smart objects have their own phase politics which offer opportunities for new forms of public to emerge Phase Media develops a conceptual vocabulary to contend that smart objects do more than just enabling a world of increased corporate control and surveillance as they also provide the tools to expose and re order the very logics and procedures that created them
