

A black and white photograph showing the aftermath of a disaster, likely a hurricane. A small, single-story house is severely damaged, with its roof partially collapsed and debris scattered around it. Several power lines and poles are visible, some leaning precariously. The scene is desolate and captures the scale of the destruction.

Noir started to come in it became increasingly clear to us that what was taking shape was not just some collection of dark stories set in old Stamboul but a rich portrait of the city itself or at the very least a particularly revealing series of snapshots. Mind you it is a city shaped largely by the often vicious ebb and tide of the nation's politics. Although Ankara may be the capital of the Republic of Turkey the truth of the matter is with a good twelve million people and thus a fifth of its population Istanbul is the throbbing often bleeding heart of the country's politics. And it shows. Lying at the crossroads of East and West Istanbul belongs to neither and to both and it is precisely this elusive in betweenness upon which the city thrives. No matter how much blood is spilled trying to conform to Western standards they just don't stick in this slippery city. Here you don't break the rules you forge a loophole through them. A den of sin and a bastion of virtue Istanbul is a fog covered playground of power and resistance denial and repression and if you don't know the tricks of the game you'll likely feel the urge to abandon your marbles and go.

Paris Noir (Akashic Noir) Aurélien Masson, 2008-11-01 All original stories from Paris finest authors all translated from French. Akashic Books continues its groundbreaking series of original noir anthologies launched in 2004 with Brooklyn Noir. Each story is set in a distinct neighborhood or location within the city of the book. Brand new stories by Didier Daeninckx Jean Bernard Pouy Marc Villard Chantal Pelletier Patrick P. Cherot DOA Herv Prudon Dominique Mainard Salim Bachi Jérôme Leroy Laurent Martin and Christophe Mercier. From the introduction by Aurélien Masson Paris is a city that lives and thus dies every day. No point hiding behind history or war memories. What is a threat to Paris to its noir dimension even is potential museumification the possibility of the city turning into a big theme park. In Paris after all everything is still there. All you have to do is look around with eyes wide open. Beyond the lights beyond the cafés and bars Paris is sometimes like a grave. It's a city you run away from or at least dream of running away from. But on every street corner the past jumps at your throat like a grimacing hyena. You don't inhabit your city you dream it. All I can do now is invite you to enter the dream.
