embassies in the USA and China on climate change in the late 2000s and early 2010s She relates which coalitions and narratives embassies sought to develop to convince China and the United States that a more progressive climate policy was possible to achieve gains supporting an agreement under the UNFCCC This book shows that a key interpretation of climate diplomacy was selling trade Europe selling technology solutions to solve climate change In this narrative Europe has already done what needs to be done and outsourcing of production to China e g is ignored In the USA embassies entered coalitions with states faith groups and the military arguing that a more progressive climate policy was mandated by either God or security concerns State politicians including Democrats often actually didn't implement any climate policies Any gains were reversed through climate denial lobbying funded by corporations Embassies did not address this China and EU Jing Men, Annika Linck, 2017-05-12 Reform and governance are of vital interest to both the People's Republic of China and the European Union EU China is facing demographic and environmental challenges and has been experiencing a rapid economic transition The social tensions arising from these challenges call for a governance system that will allow the Chinese leadership to alleviate social tensions without putting at risk their leadership A society which is becoming more diverse and facing problems of a global scale that also cause turmoil at the grass roots may be difficult to govern top down Notwithstanding the Communist Party of China's CPC grip on Chinese society there may be ways to integrate public opinion and civil society organisations in governmental decision making through reforms that do not challenge the current leadership The EU on the other hand faces the same global challenges with a very different and complex governance system EU foreign and security policy thus including EU policy towards China are governed by the EU's foreign policy principles which contain among others the promotion of democracy the rule of law and the universality and indivisibility of human rights and fundamental freedoms How successful can the EU be in advancing these principles when engaging with China while respecting the Chinese political system How can the EU and China find common grounds in their governance systems so as to enhance their strategic partnership in order to tackle global issues that need a coordinated approach NGO Governance and Management in China Reza Hasmath, Jennifer Y. J. Hsu, 2015-07-16 As China becomes increasingly integrated into the global system there will be continuing pressure to acknowledge and engage with non governmental organizations NGOs Suffice to say without a clear understanding of the state's interaction with NGOs and vice versa any political economic and social analysis of China will be incomplete This book provides an urgent insight into contemporary state NGO relations It brings together the most recent research covering three broad themes namely the conceptualizations and subsequent functions of NGOs state NGO engagement and NGOs as a mediator between state and society in contemporary China The book provides a future glimpse into the challenges of state NGO interactions in China's rapidly developing regions which will aid NGOs strategic planning in both the short and long term In addition it allows a measure of predictability in our assessment of Chinese NGOs behaviour notably when they eventually move their areas of operation from the domestic sphere to an international one The salient themes concepts theories and practice discussed in this book will be of acute interest to students scholars and practitioners in development studies public administration and Chinese and Asian politics Reza Hasmath is a Lecturer in Chinese Politics at the University of Oxford UK and an Associate Professor in Political Science at the University of Alberta Canada His research looks at state society relationships the labour market experiences of ethnic minorities and development theories and practices Jennifer Y J Hsu is an Assistant Professor in Political Science at the University of Alberta Canada Her recent publications include a co authored book HIV AIDS in China The Economic and Social Determinants Routledge 2011 and a co edited book The Chinese Corporatist State Adaption Survival and Resistance Routledge 2012
