Surpassing the Crucible R.W. Riley, 2018-11-05 The fight over the one army concept is at its peak Some in the active army believed the concept would never work Weekend warriors couldn't be reliable enough to be integrated into the army's demanding worldwide missions In 1989 the National Guard's Second Battalion 220th Infantry needed to perform well at the prestigious Joint Readiness Training Center JRTC at Fort Chaffee Arkansas The men and officers of the Second Battalion were going to be tested by the army's best trained professional opposing force at the infantry's ultimate proving ground They had to perform well Everyone was watching But this wasn't your average National Guard unit Their consistent superior performance during the last several years prompted the National Guard leadership to select them to represent the Guard on this national stage There are countless distinct challenges for National Guard units that active duty units don't face This story describes how the battalion's exceptional leadership is able to overcome these challenges to turn their unique situation into an advantage Can the battalion prove to everyone that the one army concept works If so then what's next Armor
