Literature, Cinema, and Video Games Juan Francisco Belmonte Ávila, Estíbaliz Encarnación-Pinedo, 2024-07-19 Unbound Queer Time in Literature Cinema and Video Games investigates the potential of queer conceptions of time to unbind forms of understanding identities In doing so it recognizes the power of time to determine us but chooses to queer time and turn it into an ally of unbound forms of understanding identities Through the analysis of different media literature cinema and video games the chapters revolve around three key ideas that there are inherently queer styles of using and dealing with time and temporality in culture that the critical rediscovery of canonical texts and the analysis of largely ignored queer texts and authors allow for a better understanding of queer identities and finally that normative conceptions of time can and should be challenged through critical tools that reconceptualize notions of the self around time This volume will be of interest to postgraduate students and researchers working close to areas such as queer and gender studies media and cinema studies cultural studies literary theory comparative literature game studies and art history Transformed States Martin

Halliwell, 2024-11-15 Honourable Mention British Association of American Studies Book Award Transformed States offers a timely history of the politics, ethics, medical applications, and cultural representations of the biotechnological revolution from the Human Genome Project to the COVID 19 pandemic. In exploring the entanglements of mental and physical health in an age of biotechnology, it views the post Cold War 1990s as the horizon for understanding the intersection of technoscience and culture in the early twenty-first century. The book draws on original research spanning the presidencies of George H. W. Bush and Joe Biden to show how the politics of science and technology shape the medical uses of biotechnology. Some of these technologies reveal fierce ideological conflicts in the arenas of cloning, reproduction, artificial intelligence, longevity, gender affirmation, vaccination, and environmental health. Interweaving politics and culture, the book illustrates how these health issues are reflected in and challenged by literary and cinematic texts from Oryx and Crake to Annihilation and from Gattaca to Avatar. By assessing the complex relationship between federal politics and the biomedical industry, Transformed States develops an ecological approach to public health that moves beyond tensions between state governance and private enterprise. To that end, Martin Halliwell analyzes thirty years that radically transformed American science, medicine, and policy, positioning biotechnology in dialogue with fears and fantasies about an emerging future in which health is ever more contested. Along with the two earlier books, Therapeutic Revolutions (2013) and Voices of Mental Health (2017), Transformed States is the final volume of a landmark cultural and intellectual history of mental health in the United States, journeying from the combat zones of World War II to the global emergency of COVID 19.

The Cambridge Companion to Twenty-First Century American Fiction Joshua Miller, 2021-09-23 Reading lists, course syllabi, and prizes include the phrase "21st century American literature," but no critical consensus exists regarding when the period began, which works typify it, how to conceptualize its aesthetic priorities, and where its geographical boundaries lie. Considerable criticism has been published on this extraordinary era, but little programmatic analysis has assessed comprehensively the literary and critical theoretical output to help readers navigate the labyrinth of critical pathways. In addition to ensuring broad coverage of many essential texts, The Cambridge Companion to 21st Century American Fiction offers state-of-the-field analyses of contemporary narrative studies that set the terms of current and future research and teaching. Individual chapters illuminate critical engagements with emergent genres and concepts, including flash fiction, speculative fiction, digital fiction, alternative temporalities, Afro-futurism, ecocriticism, transgender/queer studies, anti-carceral fiction, precarity, and post-9/11 fiction.

Woodworking Emily St. James, 2025-03-04 LONGLISTED FOR THE CENTER FOR FICTION FIRST NOVEL PRIZE 2025 Big-hearted and hilarious, an ode to authenticity and a must-read in our current times. Shelby Van Pelt, New York Times bestselling author of Remarkably Bright Creatures. Writing a funny book is hard. Writing a convincing takedown of one of America's most popular prejudices is harder still. Writing a funny novel in which complex, imperfect characters make a compelling case for one of our culture's most maligned groups that takes smarts and heart. Fortunately for her readers, St.

The Cambridge Companion to American Literature and the Body Travis M. Foster, 2022-06-30 The human body has been depicted in a variety of ways across a range of cultural and historical locations It has been described variously as a biological entity clothing for the soul a site of cultural production a psychosexual construct and a material encumbrance Each of these different approaches brings with it a range of anthropological political theological and psychological discourses that explore and construct identities and subject positions This Companion examines connections between American literature and bodies from the eighteenth century through the present It reveals the singular way that literature can help us understand the body's entanglement within social and biological influences and it traces the body's existence within histories of race gender and ability This volume details the genres critical fields and interpretive practices that best facilitate the analysis of bodies in the full span of American literary imaginings

Tucker-Abramson, 2025-03-18 The road novel is often dismissed as a mundane nostalgic genre Jack Sal and other tedious white men on the road trying to recapture an authentic youth and American past that never existed Yet new road novels appear every year tackling unexpected questions and spanning new geographies from Mexico Brazil Bulgaria Palestine Ukraine and former Yugoslavia Why did the road novel emerge and why does it persist What does it do and why has it traveled so widely Myka Tucker Abramson draws from an archive of more than 140 global road novels from over twenty countries challenging dominant conceptions of the road novel as primarily concerned with American experiences and subjectivities Grounding her analysis in materialist theories of genre world ecology and commodity frontier frameworks and post 45 American literary studies Tucker Abramson persuasively argues that the road novel is a genre specific to coterminous with and revealing of US hegemony s global trajectory Shifting our focus from Americanness to the fraught geopolitics of US Empire from the car to the built environment through which it moves and from passengers to those left behind Tucker Abramson remaps the road novel elucidating the genre s unique ability both to reveal the violent and vertiginous processes of capitalist modernization and to obfuscate these harsh truths through seductive narratives of individual success and failure

Trans Studies Abbie E. Goldberg, Genny Beemyn, 2021-02-26 Transgender studies broadly defined has become increasingly prominent as a field of study over the past several decades particularly in the last ten years The experiences and rights of trans people have also increasingly become the subject of news coverage such as the ability of trans people to access restrooms their participation in the military the issuing of driver s licenses that allow a third gender option the growing visibility of nonbinary trans teens the denial of gender affirming health care to trans youth and the media s misgendering of trans actors With more and more trans people being open about their gender identities doctors nurses psychologists social workers counselors educators higher education administrators student affairs personnel and others are increasingly working with trans individuals who are out But many professionals have little formal training or awareness of the life experiences and needs of the trans population This can seriously interfere with open communications between trans people and service providers and can negatively impact trans people s health outcomes and well being as well as interfere with their educational and career success and advancement Having an authoritative academic resource like The SAGE Encyclopedia of Trans Studies can go a long way toward correcting misconceptions and providing information that is otherwise not readily available This encyclopedia featuring more than 300 well researched articles takes an interdisciplinary and intersectional approach to trans studies Entries address a wide range of topics from broad concepts e g the criminal justice system activism mental health to specific subjects e g the trans pride flag the Informed Consent Model voice therapy to key historical figures events and organizations e g Lili Elbe the Stonewall Riots Black Lives Matter Entries focus on diverse lives identities and contexts including the experiences of trans people in different racial religious and sexual communities in the United States and the variety of ways that gender is expressed in other countries Among the fields of studies covered are psychology sociology history family studies K 12 and higher education law political science medicine economics literature popular culture the media and sports The Trans and Non-Binary Hero's Journey Valerie Estelle Frankel, Dean Leetal, 2024-07-10 A brave heroine whose quest involves living her true gender A genderqueer knight who battles the transphobic court to save their prince Often fearing discovery the trans hero embarks on adventure aided by an accepting mentor and other allies and
