collection instruments observation interview questionnaire and document review Wangbei Ye analyzes how power relationships have evolved in school moral education and how and why school power affects school moral education Contrary to the common belief that Chinese schools are passively impacted by external forces in moral education curriculum development this book suggests that school power is a semi emancipatory relationship that acts as a major force shaping moral education This means that although both the Chinese Communist Party and the state are positioned to control schools and moral education schools nonetheless have the power to either negotiate for more influence or partly emancipate themselves by collaborating with other external forces responding to grass root needs empowering school teachers and adjusting internal school management style This helps to explain the influence of Chinese schools in moral education and suggests a broader theory of power relationships in curriculum
