New Era Caps Teachers Guide:

A Teacher's Guide to Curriculum Design for Gifted and Advanced Learners Tamra Stambaugh, Emily Mofield, 2022-05-17
A Teacher's Guide to Curriculum Design for Gifted and Advanced Learners provides educators with models and strategies they can easily use to create appropriately complex differentiated lessons, questions, tasks, and projects. This must-have resource is for both gifted and regular education teachers. Includes specific thinking models for teaching English language arts, social studies, and STEM. Is ideal for teachers who are looking for ways to differentiate and design lessons for their highest achieving students. Provides multiple examples of how to embed complexity within standards-based lessons. Highlights units and models from Vanderbilt University's Programs for Talented Youth curriculum. Helps teachers provide the necessary challenge for advanced learners to thrive. The models have been vetted by content experts in the relevant disciplines and were designed to guide students to develop expertise within a discipline. Definitions of widely used terms such as depth, complexity, and abstractness are explained and linked to models within specific content areas to support common understanding and application of schoolwide differentiation strategies. Learning with AI Joan Monahan Watson, 2024-11-26
A practical guide for K-12 teachers on integrating AI tools in the classroom. ChatGPT and other artificial intelligence programs are revolutionizing the way we learn, create, and think. In Learning with AI, Joan Monahan Watson offers an essential guide for harnessing AI as a powerful educational tool. Building on Jos Antonio Bowen and C. Edward Watson's groundbreaking guide Teaching with AI, this book shows teachers how to implement AI tools in the classroom. Developed for primary and secondary school teachers, Learning with AI presents a powerful overview of the evolving trends of AI in education and offers invaluable insights into what artificial intelligence can accomplish in the classroom and beyond. By learning how to use new AI tools and resources, educators can empower themselves to navigate the challenges and seize the opportunities presented by AI. From interactive learning techniques to advanced assignment and assessment strategies, this comprehensive guide offers practical suggestions for integrating AI effectively into teaching and learning environments. In the age of AI, critical thinking skills and information literacy are more important than ever. As AI continues to reshape the nature of human thinking and learning, educators must develop and promote AI literacy to equip students with the skills they need to thrive in a rapidly evolving world. This book serves as a compass guiding educators of all disciplines through the uncharted territory of AI-powered education and the future of teaching and learning. Resources in Education, 2001-04
Designing and Teaching Undergraduate Capstone Courses Robert C. Hauhart, Jon E. Grahe, 2015-01-12
Enrich your students and the institution with a high-impact practice. Designing and Teaching Undergraduate Capstone Courses is a practical, research-backed guide to creating a course that is valuable for both the student and the school. The book covers the design, administration, and teaching of capstone courses throughout the undergraduate curriculum, guiding departments seeking to add a capstone course and allowing those who have one to compare it to others in the discipline. The ideas presented in the book are supported by regional and national surveys that help the reader understand what's common, what's exceptional, what works, and what doesn't within capstone courses. The authors also provide additional information specific to different departments across the curriculum including STEM, social sciences, humanities, fine arts, education, and professional programs. Identified as a high impact practice by the National Survey of Student Engagement (NSSE) and the Association of American Colleges and Universities (LEAP) initiative, capstone courses culminate a student's final college years in a project that integrates and applies what they've learned. The project takes the form of a research paper, a performance, a portfolio, or an exhibit and is intended to showcase the student's very best work as a graduating senior. This book is a guide to creating for your school or department a capstone course that ties together undergraduate learning in a way that enriches the student and adds value to the college experience. Understand what makes capstone courses valuable for graduating students. Discover the factors that make a capstone course effective and compare existing programs both within academic disciplines and across institutions. Learn administrative and pedagogical techniques that increase the course's success. Examine discipline-specific considerations for design, administration, and instruction. Capstones are generally offered in departmental programs but are becoming increasingly common in general education as well. Faculty and administrators looking to add a capstone course or revive an existing one need to understand what constitutes an effective program. Designing and Teaching Undergraduate Capstone Courses provides an easily digested summary of existing research and offers expert guidance on making your capstone course successful.

Primary Education, 1905 The Educational Weekly, 1879 Library Journal, 1968 New Era - New Urgency F. Joseph Merlino, Deborah Pomeroy, 2024-03-29 New Era New Urgency The Case for Repurposing Education explores the unprecedented realities and challenges associated with entering a new era such as catastrophic climate changes, advanced artificial intelligence, massive demographic shifts, and worldwide digital disinformation campaigns. This era calls for a new urgency in thinking about how we will educate present and future generations of young people. This book is divided into four parts. Part I describes the profound social, technological, and demographic changes that have occurred over four hundred years since the first English settlements in Massachusetts and Virginia. Part II describes four shadows that have served to corrupt these purposes of education: extreme wealth inequality, nativism, white supremacy, and anti-intellectualism. Part III explores the illusions of educational reform that have overpromised college and career success, created an idolatry of math test scores, conflated memorization of facts with conceptual understanding, and confused multiple layers of policy agendas with progress. Part IV depicts F. Joseph Merlino and Deborah Pomeroy's twelve years of experience in Egypt, Bosnia, Herzegovina, Turkey, and the U.S. in helping to craft new purposes of education for model schools in their countries that reflect their aspirations for a new generation.
