New Britain Arlene C. Palmer, 1996-09-01 New Britain Connecticut is a city that almost didn't exist In the mid 1750s the settlers in this area separated from Kensington and founded the parish of New Britain with the establishment of the First Church It was 1850 before parishioners incorporated as a town Within twenty years the town flourished and New Britain applied for and received a city charter The people of New Britain then voted to incorporate as a city but the historic motion passed only by the narrow margin of one vote In this fascinating visual history city historian Arlene C Palmer examines the 125 year history of the Hardware City through rare photographs highlighting workplaces treasured clubs and societies favorite forms of entertainment places of worship and men and women who have boldly served their city and country The cultural diversity and rich heritage of the city's families are also evident in the book's vivid pictures and informative text
