The Haunted Study P. J. Keating, 2012-10-04 The Haunted Study a rare example of a work of literary history that is genuinely interdisciplinary explores how the leading novelists of the late Victorian and Edwardian periods came to develop so many of the attitudes that are now generally accepted as characteristically modern The writing of fiction is not treated as though it exists in some kind of isolation but is shown to be intimately related to other forms of social activity Conrad James Meredith and their immediate modernist successors Joyce Lawrence and Woolf may now seem to be set apart in a variety of crucial ways from say Ouida and Marie Corelli or even Gissing Wells and Bennett but all of them worked within the same rapidly changing society and were unavoidably influenced by its dominant economic political and cultural concerns These influences were not peripheral but central and formative They profoundly affected the creation of a commercially fragmented culture as well as the nature of fiction within that culture The Haunted Study covers an exceptionally large number of authors from the critically despised to the critically admired and examines the impact on their work of such factors as the professionalisation of literature the earning power of authors the emergence of new kinds of readers and disturbingly present throughout the whole period fundamental democratic change Official Master Register of Bicentennial Activities

American Revolution Bicentennial Administration, 1975 The Spiritual Magic of Dolls Najah Lightfoot, 2025-11-03 Dolls have been beloved companions and instruments of magic for millennia They are among the most ancient Egyptian and Roman artifacts Not only playthings for children they also provide lifelong comfort and companionship In the twentieth and twenty first centuries dolls developed therapeutic uses especially for traumatized children and people with dementia But

Sustaining Cathedrals Leslie J. Francis, Stephen G. Parker, 2025-09-01 In an age when churches seem to be struggling and new initiatives remain fragile cathedrals are displaying signs of resilience The field of cathedral studies has emerged to test the sustainability of this resilience This volume draws together the work of 19 individuals who are shaping the field of cathedral studies intent on describing what they see and keen to identify what could be Together they position cathedrals at the heart of Anglican ecclesiology and maintain that properly supported cathedrals serve as episcopal theological resource churches where sacred space and common ground collide Here faithful disciples can be nurtured and sustained and here the low threshold welcomes in the hungry crowds whom the disciples are called to feed and to nurture Insightful and thought provoking this book will be of interest to practitioners scholars and students of religious studies cathedral studies theology and sociology The chapters in this book were originally published in the Journal of Beliefs Values

The Future of Digital Data, Heritage and Curation Fiona R. Cameron, 2021-03-30 The Future of Digital Data Heritage and Curation critiques digital cultural heritage concepts and their application to data developing new theories curatorial practices and a more than human museology for a contemporary and future world Presenting a diverse range of case examples from around the globe Cameron offers a critical and philosophical reflection on the ways in which digital cultural heritage is currently framed as societal data worth passing on to future generations in two distinct forms digitally born and digitizations Demonstrating that most perceptions of digital cultural heritage are distinctly western in nature the book also examines the complicity of such heritage in climate change and environmental destruction and injustice Going further still the book theorizes the future of digital data heritage curation and the notion of the human in the context of the profusion of new types of societal data and production processes driven by the intensification of data economies and through the emergence of new technologies In so doing the book makes a case for the development of new types of heritage that comprise AI automated systems biological entities infrastructures minerals and chemicals all of which have their own forms
