Fatal Fictions Alison L. LaCroix,Richard H. McAdams,Martha Craven Nussbaum,2017 Writers of fiction have always confronted topics of crime and punishment This age old fascination with crime on the part of both authors and readers is not surprising given that criminal justice touches on so many political and psychological themes essential to literature and comes equipped with a trial process that contains its own dramatic structure This volume explores this profound and enduring literary engagement with crime investigation and criminal justice The collected essays explore three themes that connect the world of law with that of fiction First defining and punishing crime is one of the fundamental purposes of government along with the protection of victims by the prevention of crime And yet criminal punishment remains one of the most abused and terrifying forms of political power Second crime is intensely psychological and therefore an important subject by which a writer can develop and explore character A third connection between criminal justice and fiction involves the inherently dramatic nature of the legal system itself particularly the trial Moreover the ongoing public conversation about crime and punishment suggests that the time is ripe for collaboration between law and literature in this troubled domain The essays in this collection span a wide array of genres including tragic drama science fiction lyric poetry autobiography and mystery novels The works discussed include works as old as fifth century BCE Greek tragedy and as recent as contemporary novels memoirs and mystery novels The cumulative result is arresting there are killer wives and crimes against trees a government bureaucrat who sends political adversaries to their death for treason before falling to the same fate himself a convicted murderer who doesn't die when hanged a psychopathological collector whose quite sane kidnapping victim nevertheless also collects Justice Thomas reading and misreading of Bigger Thomas a man who forgives his son's murderer and one who cannot forgive his wife's non-existent adultery fictional detectives who draw on historical analysis to solve murders These essays begin a conversation and they illustrate the great depth and power of crime in literature Sylvia's Home Journal ,1879 Building Your Play David Rush Estate,2010-06-30 David Rush takes beginning playwrights through the first draft of a play and deep into the revision process Drawing on examples from such classics as Othello and The Glass Menagerie Rush provides detailed models for writers to evaluate their work for weaknesses and focus on the in depth development of their plays Rush encourages writers to make sure their plays are clear and focused He shows how to keep plays dramatically compelling and offers ways to avoid common mistakes that make them dull confusing or ineffective He then distills the essence of traditional revision into key questions and discusses frequently overlooked tools terms and strategies that go beyond established methods of evaluation

The Columbia Dictionary of Quotations Robert Andrews,1993 Over 11 000 of these 18 000 quotations have never before appeared in a quotation book Chosen not for their familiarity but for their quality and their relevance in the 1990s these provocative quotations cover subjects from adolescence and adoption to yuppies and zoos Called into Questions Matthew Lee Anderson,2023-10-03 Do we know what it means to question well We need not fear questions By the grace of God we have the safety and security to rush headlong into them and find ourselves better for it on the other side Faith is not the sort of thing that endures so long as our eyes are closed The opposite is the case Faith helps us see and that means not shrinking from the ambiguities and the difficulties that provoke our most profound questions In our embrace of questioning we must learn to question well In our uncertainty we must not give up the task of walking worthy of the calling that Christ has placed upon us We are living in the age of deconstruction We are constantly bombarded online in schools and sometimes even in our homes by attitudes and arguments aimed at deconstructing our faith Called into Questions is written to aid us in faithfully questioning our foundations Professor Matthew Lee Anderson shows us and the ones we love how to grapple with doubt in a redemptive way in a way that brings us closer and leaves us more secure in Jesus Christ Open-space Learning
