Klopsteg,1987 The Composite Bow Mike Loades,2016-08-25 An ancient design emerging from Central Asia in the second millennium BC the composite bow was adopted by a staggering variety of cultures from nomadic tribal peoples such as the Huns Turks and Mongols to mighty empires such as the Romans Byzantines Persians Arabs and Chinese Offering high power and portability the composite bow was an ideal cavalry weapon though it was also used by infantry in open battle and as a siege weapon In this important study an expert on Eastern military technology tells the story of this extraordinary piece of military hardware how it was made and how various cultures developed differing tactics for using it He explains why the composite bow achieved such stunning successes and how it endured as a weapon of choice for thousands of years The Bow Henry Saint-George,1922 BOW HENRY. SAINT-GEORGE,2018 The Bow, Its History, Manufacture and Use Henri Saint-George,1988 Sadaqshiliq: the Art of Making and Shooting the Kazakh Horsebow Daniyar Baidaralin,2016-06 An overview of the Kazakh traditional archery which is little known among the modern historical weaponology specialists Kazakh art of making and shooting the horsebow Sadaqshiliq is a part of the Asiatic horseback archery family Kazakh horsebows of all known types mostly belong to the recurve biocomposite horn and sinew horsebows They are similar to Ottoman Turkish and Mongol Manchu horsebows The Kazakhs are the direct descendants of the Turkic Kipchak and Mongol nomads particularly the Eastern Golden Horde and Chagatai Ulus Kazakh Khanate was the last large nomadic state with traditional nomadic economy and old Khan nobility institutions Even in the 19th century the Kazakhs still actively deployed the light horseback archers in their militia and armies Although firearms were introduced to the Kazakhs as early as 17th century for about 300 years the guns didn t replace the traditional bow and arrows but complemented it as part of the distance weapon complex The Kazakhs lived in the Great Central Asian Steppes Eurasian Steppes from Altai Mountains to the Caspian Sea and had scarce access to urban technologies and manufacturing capacities and had poor armor The Kazakhs enemies were mostly well equipped armies of neighboring settled nations Therefore the Kazakhs had to develop their own type of the medieval cavalry light mostly unarmored horseback archers also armed with lances spears blunt weapons and sabers and capable of skirmishes and melee fighting This type of cavalry usually engaged in guerilla like wars and proven to be successful over a few centuries It was later adopted by Bashkirs Kalmyks Turkmens and even the Russian Cossacks
