Perry, 2009-03-12 Many books have appeared that argue at the ends of the Christian spectrum on the reality of God On the left there are such books as God Is Not Great Christopher Hitchens arguing that a god and religion are not needed in today's world and at the far right Fundamentalists push books which speak of near term disasters to non-believers of God The Rapture and The Second Coming of Jesus Finis Duke Compounding the agitation on sides has been the religious bias of the Bush Administration which has pushed religious ideology into positions in the government at the federal level with power to diminish science's contribution to our country and at the state level to lower the standards for science education of students Outraged scientists fear the future of a country where of the population believe in angels and only one quarter believe that our ancestors were ape like Darwin is now both a science hero and an enemy to the religious Embattled religious fundamentalists fear that modernity is changing the country into a secular materialistic nation and push to convert the country into a Christian nation Heightened activity from both sides to attract converts has only increase the conflicts Neither of these extremes addresses the question of how to bring all three parties all needed in the future together to reduce conflicts Understanding the profound and interlinked changes to religion science and governance forged by modernity is necessary to support a solution to the conflicts of religion with science and democracy today Jeffersons Scissors presents a path to a solution to the conflicts by defining acceptable roles for religion and science in our secular democracy by employing a common link between religion science and democracy that can bring citizens together even with a wide diversity of beliefs The insight into a solution to the conflicts was first evolved by Thomas Jefferson during his personal search for his own philosophy

Prophets, Gurus, and Pundits Anna M. Young,2014-02-21 In Prophets Gurus and Pundits author Anna M Young proposes that the difficulty of bridging the gap between intellectuals and the public is not a failure of ideas rather it is an issue of rhetorical strategy By laying a rhetorical foundation and presenting analytical case studies of contemporary public intellectuals Young creates a training manual for intellectuals who seek to connect with a public audience and effect change writ large Young begins by defining key aspects of rhetorical style before moving on to discuss the specific ways in which intellectuals may present ideas to a general audience in order to tackle large scale social problems Next she defines the ways in which five crucial turning points in our nation the rise of religious fundamentalism a growing lack of trust in our institutions the continued destruction of the environment the ubiquity of media and information in our daily lives and the decline of evidence based reasoning have set the stage for opportunities in the current public intellectual dialogue Via case studies of such well known personalities as Deepak Chopra and Professor Cornel West Young goes on to reveal the six types of public intellectuals who achieve success in presenting scholarly ideas to audiences at large The Prophet presents the public s sins for contemplation then offers a path to redemption The Guru shepherds his or her flock to enlightenment and a higher power The Sustainer draws upon our natural and human resources to proffer solutions for social political and ecological systems The Pundit utilizes wit and brevity to bring crucial issues to the attention of the public The Narrator combines a variety of perspectives to create a story the average person can connect with and understand The Scientist taps into the dreams of the public to offer ideas from above and beyond the typical scope of public discourse At once a rallying cry and roadmap The Politics of Thinking Out Loud draws upon rhetorical expertise and analysis of contemporary public intellectuals to offer a model for scholars to effectively engage the public and in doing so perhaps forever change the world in which we live context is the aftermath of 9 11 and 7 7 the two attacks that arguably recast the way the West views Muslims and Islam Islamic jurisprudence Moore notes contains a number of references to various abodes and a number of interpretations of how Muslims should conduct themselves within those worlds These include the dar al harb house of war dar al kufr house of unbelievers and dar al salam house of peace How Islamic law interprets these determines the debates that take shape in and around Islamic legality in these spaces Moore s analysis emphasizes the multiplicities of law the tensions between secularism and religiosity She is the first to offer a close examination of the emergence of a contingent legal consciousness shaped by the exceptional circumstances of being Muslim in the U S and Britain in the 1990s and the first decade of the 21st century

Religion and Politics in the United States and Germany Dagmar Pruin, Rolf Schieder, Johannes Zachhuber, 2007 Current interest in the relation of religion and politics is intense in both the US and Germany Yet observers are regularly struck by fundamental divergences between approaches to and conceptualisations of this field on either side of the Atlantic This volume containing contributions by German and US authors from various disciplinary backgrounds seeks to offer some clarification by elucidating traditional and newly emerging differences between but also common challenges to these societies in issues such as pluralism of values religious education the role of religious minorities the relation of religion and elite formation and religious aspects of voting patterns Pat Robertson David John Marley, 2007 A portrait of the 700 Club host and co founder of the Christian Coalition considers his role as a reviled figure in the secular world and a formidable role model among Christian fundamentalists in a profile that lauds his achievements while questioning some of his decisions
