Postcolonial Literatures of Climate Change, 2022-07-04 Postcolonial Literatures of Climate Change investigates the evolving nature of postcolonial literary criticism in response to global regional and local environmental transformations brought about by climate change It builds upon and extends previous studies in postcolonial ecocriticism to demonstrate how the growing awareness of human caused global warming has begun to permeate literary consciousness praxis and analysis The breadth of the volume s coverage the diversity of its focal locations cultures genres and texts serves as a salient reminder that while climate change is global its impacts vary effecting peoples from place to place unequally and often in accordance with their particular historical experience of colonialism and neo colonialism as well as their ongoing marginalisations Demonstrating the urgency of invoking novel epistemological approaches combining the scientific and the imaginative this book is a must read for those concerned about the present and potential impacts of climate change on formerly colonised areas of the world The comprehensive and illuminating Introduction offers a crucial history and current state of postcolonial ecocriticism as it has been and is addressing climate crises Helen Tiffin University of Wollongong The broad focus on the polar regions the Pacific and the Caribbean with added essays on environmental justice activism in India and Egypt opens up rich terrain for examination under the rubric of postcolonial and ecocritical analysis not only expanding recent studies in this field but also enabling new comparisons and conceptual linkages Helen Gilbert Royal Holloway University of London The subject is topical and vital and will become even more so as the problem of how to reconcile the demands of climate change with the effects on regions and individual nations already damaged by the economic effects of colonisation and the subsequent inequalities resulting from neo colonialism continues to grow Gareth Griffiths Em Prof University of Western Australia

The Politics of Historical Memory and Commemoration in Africa Cassandra Mark-Thiesen, Moritz Mihatsch, Michelle Sikes, 2021-12-06 Essays in Memory of Jan Georg Deutsch The volume observes some of the principles that drove Prof Jan Georg Deutsch s research highlighting present day politics for the way they shape historical remembrance learning from people on the ground through fieldwork and oral history and bringing various parts of the African continent into discussion with one another From Cape Town to Charlottesville many societies are grappling with historical consciousness and the production of public memory In particular how and why societies remember and forget what should serve as symbols of collective memory and whether there exists space for multiple memory cultures are questions being vigorously debated once again These discussions present particular challenges not only to official memory bound to ideological constructions of nationhood but also to the teaching of history and its links to social justice movements The volume re centres Africa and African history in memory studies with each chapter drawing parallels to comparable cases in Africa and the world An underlying assumption is that what can be learned from the politics of historical memory in Africa

will have relevance for contemporary politics globally and for understanding how memories can be mobilised for political ends
