Online Twi Workbook Essential Skills Supervisors:

The TWI Workbook Patrick Graupp, Robert J. Wrona, 2006-02-13 Winner of a Shingo Research and Professional Publication Award What can we do to make more people productively useful Striving to answer that question more than 60 years ago sparked the development of the most powerful training methodology that has impacted U S industry Training Within Industry TWI During World War II major production increases were demanded by the U S military TWI which trains supervisors was developed comprising three separate programs Job Instruction how to instruct employees so they can quickly remember to do a job correctly safely and conscientiously Job Methods how to improve methods for producing greater quantities of quality products in less time by effectively using available workforce machines and materials Job relations how to lead employees so that problems are prevented and analytical methods are used to effectively resolve problems Toyota was the earliest company to adopt TWI after World War II and this methodology planted the seeds for the development of the Toyota Production System the gold standard of manufacturing excellence In The TWI Workbook Essential Skills for Supervisors Patrick Graupp and Robert Wrona teach supervisors how to apply a four step method for each of the three respective programs with numerous examples and exercises In these exercises supervisors will participate in hands on application of the four step method to actual jobs and employee problems from their own worksites In addition a CD companion includes blank forms needed to complete the exercises and implementation case studies

How the Brain Processes Multimodal Technical Instructions Dirk Remley, 2016-12-05 While Aristotle acknowledges the connection between rhetoric biology and cognitive abilities scholarship continues to struggle to integrate the fields of rhetoric and neurobiology Drawing on recent work in neuro-rhetoric this book offers a model that integrates multimodal rhetorical theory and multisensory neural processing theory pertaining to cognition and learning Using existing theories from multimodal rhetoric and specific findings from neurobiological studies the author develops a model that integrates concepts from both fields bridging if not uniting them He also discusses possible applications of the new model with specific case studies related to training and instruction These applications include various media used in instructional and training contexts such as print slide shows videos simulations and hands on training The book thus introduces concepts of cognitive neuroscience to multimodal rhetorical theory and facilitates theorization combining multimodal rhetoric and multisensory cognition and serves as a vehicle by which readers can better understand the links between multimodal rhetoric and cognitive neuroscience associated with technical communication Integrating case studies from industry and practice the text makes explicit connections between academic scholarship and workplace preparation It also describes how interdisciplinary research can contribute to pharmaceutical research as well as the development of productive instructional materials Rhetoric is affected by how the brain of any member of a given audience can process information This book can promote further research qualitative and quantitative to develop a better understanding of the relationship between multimodal messages and how the brain processes such information
