Unraveling and Reweaving Sacred Canon in Africana Womanhood Rose Mary Amenga-Etego, Rosetta E. Ross, 2015-12-15
In this collection continental and diasporan African women interrogate the concept sacred text and analyze ways oral and written religious texts intersect with violence against African descended women and girls While the sanctioned idea of a sacred text is written literature this project interrupts that conception by drawing attention to speech and other embodied practices that have sacral authority within the social imaginary As a volume focused on religion and violence essays in this collection analyze religions authorization of violence against women and girls contest the legitimacy of some religious texts and affirm other writing especially memoir as redemptive Unraveling and Reweaving Sacred Canon in Africana Womanhood arises from three years of conversation of continental and diasporan women most recently continued in the July 6 10 2014 Consultation of African and African Diasporan Women in Religion and Theology and privileges experiences and contexts of continental and diasporan African women and girls Interlocutors include African traditionalists Christian Protestants and Catholics Muslims and women embodying hybrid practices of these and other traditions Womanist Midrash, Volume 2 Wilda C. Gafney, 2024-11-12 Womanist Midrash Volume 2 continues Wilda Gafney's unique and imaginative work of in depth explorations of the well and lesser known women of the Hebrew Scriptures This volume focuses on women and girls in Joshua Judges Samuel and Kings As in her successful and widely read first volume Gafney uses her own translations and offers midrashic interpretations of the biblical text rooted in the African American preaching and rabbinic traditions to tell the stories of a variety of female characters many of whom are often overlooked and nameless Grounded in rigorous scholarship this volume employs solid womanist and feminist approaches to biblical interpretation and the sociohistorical culture of the ancient Afro Asiatic world expanding conversations of and about biblical interpretation Africana Womanism Clenora Hudson (Weems), 2019-10-02 First published in 1993 this is a new edition of the classic text in which Clenora Hudson Weems sets out a paradigm for women of African descent Examining the status struggles and experiences of the Africana woman forced into exile in Europe Latin America the United States or at Home in Africa the theory outlines the experience of Africana women as unique and separate from that of some other women of color and of course from white women Differentiating itself from the problematic theories of Western feminisms Africana Womanism allows an establishment of cultural identity and relationship directly to ancestry and land This new edition includes five new chapters as well as an evolution of the classic Africana womanist paradigm to that of Africana Melanated Womanism It shows how race class and gender must be prioritized in the fight against every day racial dominance Africana Womanism Reclaiming Ourselves offers a new term and paradigm for women of African descent A family centered concept prioritizing race class and gender it offers eighteen features of the Africana womanist self namer self definer family centered genuine in sisterhood strong in concert with male in the liberation struggle whole authentic flexible role player respected recognized spiritual male compatible respectful of elders adaptable ambitious mothering nurturing applying them to characters in novels by Hurston B Marshall Morrison and McMillan It evolves from Africana Womanism to Africana Melanated Womanism This is an important work and essential reading for researchers and students in women and gender studies Africana studies African American studies literary studies and cultural studies particularly with the emergence of family centrality community and collective engagement the very cornerstone of Africana Womanism since its inception Elevating Humanity via Africana Womanism Clenora Hudson (Weems), 2024-12-17 Elevating Humanity via Africana Womanism is a short but powerful book advocating synergy via unity collectivity as a panacea for all societal ills It discusses the Africana Womanism theory an authentic family centered concept for all women of African descent as a grid upon which to erect the private and public personae of all positive Africana people Within the context of our cultural and historical matrix it opens with defining the paradigm while promoting the importance of prioritizing race class and gender the triple plight of Black women A workable strategy for ensuring equality for all it closes on a note of love and spirituality while embracing the special connection between Africana men and women the 2 sided human coin This introduction logically and convincingly speaks truth to power about who we Black women are beginning in Part One with naming and defining ourselves with the foreknowledge of the seminal role of our male counterparts It identifies the 18 descriptors of the true Africana woman and her male counterpart Part Two offers fruitful commentary via sharing some of the many contributions we have given to society which could enhance self esteem among our people many of whom have come to not love themselves and even their own due to inadequate historical documentation Rediscoursing African Womanhood in the Search for Sustainable Renaissance Itai Muwati, 2012

Reclaiming Our Space Feminista Jones, 2019-01-29 A treatise of Black women's transformative influence in media and society placing them front and center in a new chapter of mainstream resistance and political engagement In Reclaiming Our Space social worker activist and cultural commentator Feminista Jones explores how Black women are changing culture society and the landscape of feminism by building digital communities and using social media as powerful platforms As Jones reveals some of the best loved devices of our shared social media language are a result of Black women's innovations from well known movement building hashtags BlackLivesMatter SayHerName and BlackGirlMagic to the now ubiquitous use of threaded tweets as a marketing and storytelling tool For some these online dialogues provide an introduction to the work of Black feminist icons like Angela Davis Barbara Smith bell hooks and the women of the Combahee River Collective For others this discourse provides a platform for continuing their feminist activism and scholarship in a new interactive way Complex conversations around race class and gender that have been happening behind the closed doors of academia for decades are now becoming part of the wider cultural vernacular one pithy tweet at a time With these important online conversations not only are Black women influencing popular culture and creating sociopolitical movements they are also galvanizing a new generation to learn and engage in Black feminist thought and theory and inspiring change in communities around them Hard hitting intelligent incisive yet bursting with humor and pop culture savvy Reclaiming Our Space is a survey of Black feminism's past present and future and it explains why intersectional movement building will save us all Reconstructing

Africana Womanist Literary Theory Clenora Hudson-Weems,2004 By placing Africana womanism an evolutionary Africana paradigm within a literary context this book expands the layered meanings of this family centered race based theory and applies them to the works and ideas of renowned international literary figures such as Toni Morrison Paula Marshall and Buchi Emecheta

Digital Black Feminism Catherine Knight Steele,2021 Traces the longstanding relationship between technology and Black feminist thought Black women are at the forefront of some of this century s most important discussions about technology trolling online harassment algorithmic bias and influencer culture But Catherine Knight Steele argues that Black women s relationship to technology began long before the advent of Twitter or Instagram To truly listen to Black women Steele points to the history of Black feminist technoculture in the United States and its ability to decenter white supremacy and patriarchy in a conversation about the future of technology Using the virtual beauty shop as a metaphor Digital Black Feminism walks readers through the technical skill communicative expertise and entrepreneurial acumen of Black women s labor born of survival strategies and economic necessity both on and offline Positioning Black women at the center of our discourse about the past present and future of technology Steele offers a through line from the writing of early twentieth century Black women to the bloggers and social media mavens of the twenty first century She makes connections among the letters news articles and essays of Black feminist writers of the past and a digital archive of blog posts tweets and Instagram stories of some of the most well known Black feminist writers of our time Linking narratives and existing literature about Black women s technology use in the nineteenth twentieth and twenty first century Digital Black Feminism traverses the bounds between historical and archival analysis and empirical internet studies forcing a reconciliation between fields and methods that are not always in conversation As the work of Black feminist writers now reaches its widest audience online Steele offers both hopefulness and caution on the implications of Black feminism becoming a digital product Woman in Action Filomina Steady, 2023-01-30 An intellectual pioneer and prolific writer Steady's much awaited autobiography is a goldmine for knowledge seekers and a boon to generations of students and scholars she mentored and inspired across continents Professor Oyeronke Oyewumi Stony Brook University USA Born into a global family as she puts it Filomina Steady Professor Emerita of Africana Studies at Wellesley College Massachusetts has won awards on both sides of the Atlantic for her work in gender and culture women's rights and the African Diaspora An Oxford University PhD graduate she has taught at several American universities as well as the University of Sierra Leone A former Deputy Director of the United Nations Division for the Advancement of Women in Vienna Austria she has served as a Special Advisor to several agencies of the United Nations including on Women Environment and Development to the Earth Summit in Rio in 1992 She has contributed to four international plans of action for gender equality and the advancement of women authored several books monographs and articles and given keynote addresses and presented papers at international conferences She describes this memoir as her response to numerous requests from her family faculty colleagues alumnae students and friends around the world
