Art of Maori Carving Hirini Moko Mead, Sidney M. Mead, 2015 Woodcarving is one of the supreme expressions of New Zealand identity Beginning with carving s mythical origins this book explores the evolution of styles and techniques through the four main artistic periods to the present day and provides detailed explanations of carving styles in different parts of the country using examples from meeting houses and leading artists Later chapters delve into the main structures forms and motifs and the role of the woodcarver and explore the status of the art in contemporary New Zealand Practical guidance is given for use of materials tools techniques surface and background decoration the human figure and carving poupou

Art of Maori Carving Sidney M. Mead, 1986      The art of Maori carving Sidney M. Mead, 1986      South Pacific Museums Chris Healy, Andrea Witcomb, 2006 South Pacific Museums Experiments in Culture is a collection of outstanding analyses of museums in the South Pacific written by cultural museum and architectural critics and historians A series of snapshots introduce the reader to key museums in the region and longer essays explore these museums in broad terms Over the last 50 years museums have been regarded by many scholars and cultural critics as archaic institutions far from the cutting edge of cultural innovation This judgement is being proved wrong across the globe with innovative museums staking out new territory Nowhere is this more striking than in the South Pacific where new and redeveloped institutions have included the Museum of New Zealand Te Papa Tongarewa the National Museum of Australia the Melbourne Museum the Australian Centre for the Moving Image the Museum of Sydney the Gab Titui Cultural Centre in the Torres Strait the Auckland Museum the Centre Culturel Tjibaou and the Vanuatu Cultural Centre South Pacific Museums make sense of these museums as part of the complex field of heritage where national economies meet global tourism cities brand themselves and indigeneity articulates with colonialism The effect is one of cultural experimentation Part One New Museums introduces three different museums in distinctive national contexts Te Papa the Centre Culturel Tjibaou and the National Museum of Australia Essays in this part grapple with the role of these museums in the nation at particular historical moments under specific political pressures Part Two New Knowledges documents practices and exhibitions at the point of tension between indigenous and non indigenous interests in the museum Part three New Experiences explores the ways in which museums in the South Pacific are producing that ineffable cultural phenomenon experience

Curating empire Sarah Longair, John McAleer, 2017-02-01 Curating empire explores the diverse roles played by museums and their curators in moulding and representing the British imperial experience This collection demonstrates how individuals their curatorial practices and intellectual and political agendas influenced the development of a variety of museums across the globe Taken together these contributions suggest that museums are not just sites for accessing history but need to be considered as historical sites of significance in themselves Individual essays examine the work of curators in museums in Britain and the colonies the historical display and interpretation of empire in Britain and the establishment of museum networks in the British imperial context Curating empire sheds new light on the relationship between museums as repositories for objects and cultural institutions for conveying knowledge and the politics of culture and the formation of identities throughout the British Empire

Land as Relation Margaret Kress, Kahente Horn-Miller, 2023-08-24 A critical and timely collection Land as Relation introduces readers to an intersectional approach to Indigenous space and land based education Indigenous and ally partnered contributors from elders to emerging and established scholars share teachings and scholarship grounded in Indigenous knowledge and philosophy These diverse perspectives on Indigenous pedagogies are intersected with content surrounding Indigenous languages sciences mathematics arts health and governance Divided into three parts this text defines the interrelatedness of global Indigenous land protectors and educators and the significant impact of Indigenous knowledges language and ceremonies on the collective social spiritual and physical wellness of all living beings Land as Relation demonstrates that Indigenous resistance and renaissance is essential for learners everywhere to understand how a collective notion of land education contributes to walking in harmony and balance not only for themselves but for their families the larger communities that they are a part of and the world This collection is an accessible and engaging core resource for undergraduate and graduate students of education Indigenous studies geography and environmental studies

FEATURES Grounded in Indigenous knowledge systems and provides practical examples of how land based pedagogies can be applied in different communities and contexts Features contributions from noted and upcoming Indigenous and ally partnered scholars who have been gifted access to elders and deep cultural and linguistic knowledges of Indigenous nations Includes learning aids such as end of chapter discussion questions maps photographs and other visual tools

Tangata Whenua Atholl Anderson, Judith Binney, Aroha Harris, 2014-11-15 Tangata Whenua An Illustrated History charts the sweep of M ori history from ancient origins through to the twenty first century Through narrative and images it offers a striking overview of the past grounded in specific localities and histories The story begins with the migration of ancestral peoples out of South China some 5 000 years ago Moving through the Pacific these early voyagers arrived in Aotearoa early in the second millennium AD establishing themselves as tangata whenua in the place that would become New Zealand By the nineteenth century another wave of settlers brought new technology ideas and trading opportunities and a struggle for control of the land Survival and resilience shape the history as it extends into the twentieth century through two world wars the growth of an urban culture rising protest and Treaty settlements Today at the beginning of the twenty first century M ori are drawing on both international connections and their ancestral place in Aotearoa Fifteen stunning chapters bring together scholarship in history archaeology traditional narratives and oral sources A parallel commentary is offered through more than 500 images ranging from the elegant shapes of ancient taonga and artefacts to impressions of M ori in the sketchbooks and paintings of early European observers through the shifting focus of the photographer s lens to the response of contemporary M ori artists to all that has gone before The many threads of history are entwined in this compelling narrative of the people and the land the story of a rich past that illuminates the present and will inform the future      Art of Maori Carving Sidney Moko Mead,1995      The art of Maori carving Sidney M. Mead,1967      AlterNative memories Hanne Birk,2008
