Mann, 2021-01-12 Shortlisted for the FT McKinsey Business Book of the Year award A renowned climate scientist shows how fossil fuel companies have waged a thirty year campaign to deflect blame and responsibility and delay action on climate change and offers a battle plan for how we can save the planet Recycle Fly less Eat less meat These are some of the ways that we've been told can slow climate change But the inordinate emphasis on individual behavior is the result of a marketing campaign that has succeeded in placing the responsibility for fixing climate change squarely on the shoulders of individuals Fossil fuel companies have followed the example of other industries deflecting blame think guns don't kill people people kill people or greenwashing think of the beverage industry's Crying Indian commercials of the 1970s Meanwhile they've blocked efforts to regulate or price carbon emissions run PR campaigns aimed at discrediting viable alternatives and have abdicated their responsibility in fixing the problem they've created The result has been disastrous for our planet In The New Climate War Mann argues that all is not lost He draws the battle lines between the people and the polluters fossil fuel companies right wing plutocrats and petrostates And he outlines a plan for forcing our governments and corporations to wake up and make real change including A common sense attainable approach to carbon pricing and a revision of the well intentioned but flawed currently proposed version of the Green New Deal Allowing renewable energy to compete fairly against fossil fuels Debunking the false narratives and arguments that have worked their way into the climate debate and driven a wedge between even those who support climate change solutions Combatting climate doomism and despair mongering With immensely powerful vested interests aligned in defense of the fossil fuel status quo the societal tipping point won't happen without the active participation of citizens everywhere aiding in the collective push forward This book will reach inform and enable citizens everywhere to join this battle for our planet Ghost Criminology Michael Fiddler, Theo Kindynis, Travis

Linnemann, 2022-01-18 Bringing together prominent early contributions from this emergent perspective the volume traces the origins theory and methodology of a nascent ghost criminology From the powers of exorcism and erasure marshaled by state agents street level struggles over memorialization and memory to the lingering violence of crime scenes and the ghostly traces of outlaw artists Ghost Criminology is a book attuned to that which is well theorized in other disciplines the spectral hauntological apparitional Each of the writers assembled here shares as Mark Fisher 2017 put it a fascination for the outside that which lies beyond standard perception cognition and experience As such this collection uses cutting edge social and cultural theory to tangle with some of criminology s most stubborn revenants the politics of criminalization the commodification of crime and violence the haunting power of the image as well as the unheard and disregarded cries of the dead

Corporate Regulation for Climate Change Mitigation in Africa Kikelomo O. Kila, 2022-09-08 This book critically analyses the prospects of overhauling the legal framework of climate change regulation of corporations in African state It adopts the dilute interventionism regulatory framework to tackle the culture of regulatory resistance by corporations in Africa Over the course of this volume Kikelomo O Kila critiques the climate change legal framework in all 53 African states and conducts an in depth case study of the two largest economies in Africa Nigeria and South Africa to highlight the commonality of the problems in Africa and the potential for the dilute interventionism paradigm to significantly address these problems The book establishes why African states should directly intervene through legislative mechanisms to compel corporations to incorporate climate change mitigation in their business activities It proposes that this direct intervention should comprise a blend of prescriptive and facilitative mechanisms structured in a dilute interventionism regulatory model Overall this volume argues that implementing this model requires the institution of a strong and independent regulator with a veto firewall protection system that guarantees its de facto independence from government and external influences Corporate Regulation for Climate Change Mitigation in Africa will be of great interest to climate change stakeholders at the international regional and domestic levels policymakers regulatory practitioners and legal experts on corporate regulation It will also be an insightful resource for students and scholars of climate change and environmental law policy and governance

Climate Changed Daniel Briggs, 2020-11-29 Climate Changed is an honest humane account about the rapid downsizing of the world s natural resources and the consequences this has for millions of people who year after year are displaced from their home countries because of politically instigated and economically justified war and conflict Based on interviews with 110 refugees who arrived into Europe from 2015 to 2018 and observations of refugee camps border crossings inner city slums social housing projects NGO and related refugee associations this book offers a moving insight into the refugee experience of leaving home crossing borders and settling in Europe Briggs sets this against the geopolitical and commercial enterprise that dismantled refugees countries in the international chase for wilting quantities of the world s natural resources At every point of their journey to their new lives and in the resettlement process the refugees are victimised and exploited as there is always money to be made from them Even if refugees labour is in demand there is a European social climate of intolerance and stigma which jeopardises integration and counters their well being and safety The climate has changed This book will appeal to students and scholars in core areas of sociology environmental and sustainability studies human geography and politics Policymakers practitioners and voluntary workers within the sector of frontline immigration as well as aid workers town planners and welfare support staff will also find this book of interest How We Sold Our Future Jens Beckert,2024-11-25 For decades we have known about the dangers of global warming Nevertheless greenhouse gas emissions continue to increase How can we explain our failure to take the necessary measures to stop climate change Why are societies despite the mounting threat to ourselves and our children so reluctant to take action In this important new book Jens Beckert provides an answer to these questions Our apparent inability to implement basic measures to combat climate change is due to the nature of power and incentive structures affecting companies politicians voters and consumers Drawing on social science research he argues that climate change is an inevitable product of the structures of capitalist modernity which have been developing for the past 500 years Our institutional and cultural arrangements are operating at the cost of destroying the natural environment and attempts to address global warming are almost inevitably bound to fail Temperatures will continue to rise and social and political conflicts will intensify The tragic truth is we are selling our future for the next quarterly figures the upcoming election results and today s pleasure Any realistic climate policy needs to focus on preparing societies for the consequences of escalating climate change and aim at strengthening social resilience to cope with the increasingly unstable natural world Civil society is the only source of pressure that could build the necessary strength and support for climate protection How We Sold Our Future is a crucial intervention into the most pressing issue of our time
