Foresight for Dynamic Organisations in Unstable Environments Sandro Mendonça, Bartolomeo Sapio, 2013-12-16
Foresight has an especially important role in times of transition and trouble. In times of turbulence, foresight arises as a tool for intellectual freedom and enhanced strategic leverage. But foresight itself is always in a continuing process of innovation as it is not detached from the changing environment that engulfs organisations. Taking stock from innovative developments in foresight methodologies and implementation experiences is relevant as new experiments have rapidly accumulated in this new century. Looking ahead calls for a review of new perspectives and recent practice on foresight methodology and on how foresight is embedded in organisations. This book brings together a sample of real world cases and of conceptual proposals bridging between practitioners and researchers in the field of futures research. Such an ambition is an increasingly difficult balancing act as the gap between the needs of organisational leaders and the incentives of academics becomes an ever widening gulf due to increasingly specialised and self absorbed agendas. To further this book's goals we had the opportunity to assemble an international team of authors coming from a variety of backgrounds to provide their first hand view from the frontier of new foresight empirical work and theoretical reflection. This book was originally published as a special issue of Technology Analysis and Strategic Management. Sustainable Public Management Neil M. Boyd, Eric C.

Martin, 2021-09-09 Sustainable Public Management explores key issues in public sector sustainable management that span from Nation State to local government. It highlights state of the art articulations of public private partnerships, public engagement, inter organizational networks, sustainability policy, strategy, standard setting and reporting. Sustainable management is an important topic across organizational forms in the private, not for profit and public sectors because of the way its practice is tied to some of the most pressing environmental and social problems that exist in the world. The public sector is especially important due to its scale and scope across the globe, the tangible impacts that public service delivery can make in resource efficiency and effectiveness and in directly tackling critical sustainable development goals. This book will be of great value to scholars, students and policymakers interested in Public Administration and Management, Sustainable Management and Development. The chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of the Public Management Review.

Foresight in Organizations Patrick van der Duin, 2016-01-13 Foresight for Organizations will acquaint the reader with various foresight methods and tools to show the reader how these methods are used, what the pitfalls are and how the methods relate to each other. This innovative volume offers the reader the ability to carry out a study of the future by him or herself and apply the results in a decision making strategy process. The author addresses the following methods/scenarios: trend analysis, the Delphi method, quantitative trend extrapolation, technology assessment, backcasting and roadmapping. The most relevant and popular methods that also cover the range of approaches from predictive via normative to explorative. Every chapter also contains references to additional literature about the methods being discussed. This book is essential reading for researchers academics and students in the areas of Community Development Sociology of organizations Change management Social entrepreneurship Sustainable development and participative planning      The Routledge Companion to the Future of Marketing Luiz Moutinho, Enrique Bigné, Ajay K. Manrai, 2014-01-10 The Routledge Companion to the Future of Marketing provides the reader with a comprehensive and original set of visionary insights into the future of marketing This prestigious collection aims to challenge the mindset of academics moving their thinking processes from current thinking into new perspectives and advances in marketing knowledge Selected Contents Part 1 New Paradigms and Philosophical Insights Part 2 Contributions from other Scientific Fields Part 3 Reconnecting with Consumers and Markets Part 4 New Methodological Insights in Scholarly Research in the Field      Routledge Handbook on Middle East Security Anders Jägerskog, Michael Schulz, Ashok Swain, 2019-02-11 Routledge Handbook on Middle East Security provides the first comprehensive look at Middle East security issues that includes both traditional and emerging security threats Taking a broad perspective on security the volume offers both analysis grounded in the hard military and state security discourse but also delves into the soft aspects of security employing a human security perspective As such the volume addresses imminent challenges to security such as the ones relating directly to the war in Syria but also the long term challenges The traditional security problems which are deep seated are at risk of being exacerbated also by a lack of focus on emerging vulnerabilities in the region While taking as a point of departure the prevalent security discourse the volume also goes beyond the traditional focus on military or state security and consider non traditional security challenges This book provides a state of the art review of research on the key challenges for security in the Middle East it will be a key resource for students and scholars interested in Security Studies International Relations Political Science and Middle Eastern Studies      The Routledge Companion to Marketing Research Len Tiu Wright, Luiz Moutinho, Merlin Stone, Richard P. Bagozzi, 2021-06-27 This single volume reference provides an alternative to traditional marketing research methods handbooks focusing entirely on the new and innovative methods and technologies that are transforming marketing research and practice Including original contributions and case studies from leading global specialists this handbook covers many pioneering methods such as Methods for the analysis of user and customer generated data including opinion mining and sentiment analysis Big data Neuroscientific techniques and physiological measures Voice prints Human computer interaction Emerging approaches such as shadowing netnographies and ethnographies Transcending the old divisions between qualitative and quantitative research methods this book is an essential tool for market researchers in academia and practice      Creating Capacity and Capability: Embracing Advanced Technologies and Innovations for Sustainable Future in Building Education and Practice Mostafa Babaeian Jelodar, Ruggiero Lovreglio, Zhenan Feng, Daniel Paes, Vishal Kumar, Chandana Siriwardana, 2025-08-02 This three volume book is the proceeding of the 46th Australasian Universities Building Education Association AUBEA 2023 Conference which brings together papers on construction and built environment education and practice This particular conference theme

Creating Capacity and Capability Embracing Advanced Technologies and Innovations for Sustainable Future in Building Education and Practice is closely related to a flagship national research programme funded by the Government of New Zealand known as the CanConstructNZ research programme aiming to balance the capacity and capability in the construction industry and the national pipeline of construction projects The capacity and capability of our construction industry in fulfilling the construction needs of the whole nation are reflected in the national pipeline of construction projects and have long been recognised as one of the main challenges facing the construction sector The practices and education of building and construction play an important role in determining the capacity and capability of the construction industry Within the context of achieving sustainable future and embracing advanced technologies to create capacity and capability in the construction sector various concepts research and innovative development have emerged and taken place This particular conference theme has facilitated more in depth discourses and discussions on the latest ideas and innovation within the building and construction education and practice not only from the Australasian region but also from the wider international community including the USA the UK Brazil South Africa Nigeria China and Sri Lanka The contents of this book will be of interest to academic researchers industry professionals and policy makers alike Foundation Studies for Caring Edward Alan Gasper, Gillian McEwing, John E. Richardson, 2018-01-16 Supported by a companion skills volume and website Foundation Studies for Caring is a comprehensive introductory text for all health professionals which maps directly on to the key skills framework Taking a student centred learning and interprofessional approach it is the most inclusive and engaging theory text in the market Critical Perspectives on Diversity in Organizations Thomas Calvard, 2020-12-29 Decades of investigations into diversity in the workplace have created mixed answers about what kinds of effects it has on employees and teams and whether or not it can be managed effectively to generate positive outcomes for organizations In contrast to mainstream work from management and psychology critical views on workplace diversity have emerged that seek to grasp more fully the messy social and political realities of workplace diversity as they operate in context Critical Perspectives on Diversity in Organizations therefore seeks to review integrate and build upon emerging critical perspectives on workplace diversity to help give a fuller understanding of how employee differences affect workplace interactions relationships employment inequality culture and society Critical perspectives help to fill in and openly recognize many of the more far reaching issues that pure management and psychology approaches can leave out issues of power inequality politics history culture and lived experiences If organizations do not try to take these issues into account and critically reflect on them then diversity management is likely to remain a relatively blunt instrument or worse a hollow piece of rhetoric This book will be of interest to international graduate students and researchers working on topics associated with equality diversity and inclusion in organizations as well as various organizational practitioners and activists engaged with these issues Storytelling Organizational Practices David M. Boje, 2014-06-20 Once upon a time the practice of storytelling was about collecting interesting stories about the past and converting them into soundbite pitches Now it is more about foretelling the ways the future is approaching the present prompting a re storying of the past Storytelling has progressed and is about a diversity of voices not just one teller of one past it is how a group or organization of people negotiates the telling of history and the telling of what future is arriving in the present With the changes in storytelling practices and theory there is a growing need to look at new and different methodologies Within this exciting new book David M Boje develops new ways to ask questions in interviews and make observations of practice that are about storytelling the future This after all is where management practice concentrates its storytelling while much of the theory and method work is all about how the past might recur in the future Storytelling Organizational Practices takes the reader on a journey from looking at narratives of past experience through looking at living stories of emergence in the present to looking at how the future is arriving in ways that prompts a re storying of the past

Designing

Future Cities for Wellbeing Christopher T. Boyko, Rachel Cooper, Nick Dunn, 2020-09-17 Designing Future Cities for Wellbeing draws on original research that brings together dimensions of cities we know have a bearing on our health and wellbeing including transportation housing energy and foodways and illustrates the role of design in delivering cities in the future that can enhance our health and wellbeing It aims to demonstrate that cities are a complex interplay of these various dimensions that both shape and are shaped by existing and emerging city structures governance design and planning Explaining how to consider these interconnecting dimensions in the way in which professionals and citizens think about and design the city for future generations health and wellbeing therefore is key The chapters draw on UK case and research examples and make comparison to international cities and examples This book will be of great interest to researchers and students in planning public policy public health and design

Smart Cities Anna Visvizi, Hanna Godlewska-Majkowska, 2024-08-26 This book seeks to identify and to examine factors and mechanisms underlying the growth and development of smart cities It is commonplace to discuss smart cities through the lens of advances in ICT The resulting overemphasis on what is technologically possible downplays what is politically socially and economically feasible This book by analysing the smart city through a variety of perspectives offers a more comprehensive insight into and understanding of the complex and the open ended nature of the growth and development of a smart city A solid conceptual framework is developed and employed throughout the chapters and a selection of case studies from Europe Asia and the Arab Peninsula grants the readers a hands on perspective of the matters discussed The chapters included in this book address a set of questions including How do the twin processes of digitalization and smartification unfold in the context of the smart city agenda How do these processes relate to the concepts of smart city 1 0 2 0 3 0 and 4 0 In which ways have the spatial aspects of city functioning been influenced by the intrusion of ICT In which ways do the same processes contribute to the attainment of the UN Sustainable Development Goals SDGs What are the implications of smartification and the emergence of smart organizations public private and voluntary for the spatial development of smart cities Do ICT and its application in the city space boost the processes of revitalization and how does ICT influence the process of gentrification To what extent and how does the intrusion of ICT enhanced tools and applications in the city space impact on a city s relationship with its broader territorially defined context Are the administrative borders and divisions inherent in the fabric of a city becoming less more porous How should urban sprawl be conceived in the context of the smart city debate This book will have a broad appeal to academics students and policy makers with interests in urban planning sustainable development cities economics technology sociology urban studies digitalization SDGs wellbeing and resilience

Construction 4.0 Anil Sawhney, Michael Riley, Javier Irizarry, 2020-02-06 Modelled on the concept of Industry 4 0 the idea of Construction 4 0 is based on a confluence of trends and technologies that promise to reshape the way built environment assets are designed constructed and operated With the pervasive use of Building Information Modelling BIM lean principles digital technologies and offsite construction the industry is at the cusp of this transformation The critical challenge is the fragmented state of teaching research and professional practice in the built environment sector This handbook aims to overcome this fragmentation by describing Construction 4.0 in the context of its current state emerging trends and technologies and the people and process issues that surround the coming transformation Construction 4.0 is a framework that is a confluence and convergence of the following broad themes discussed in this book Industrial production prefabrication 3D printing and assembly offsite manufacture Cyber physical systems actuators sensors IoT robots cobots drones Digital and computing technologies BIM video and laser scanning AI and cloud computing big data and data analytics reality capture Blockchain simulation augmented reality data standards and interoperability and vertical and horizontal integration The aim of this handbook is to describe the Construction 4.0 framework and consequently highlight the resultant processes and practices that allow us to plan design deliver and operate built environment assets more effectively and efficiently by focusing on the physical to digital transformation and then digital to physical transformation This book is essential reading for all built environment and AEC stakeholders who need to get to grips with the technological transformations currently shaping their industry research and teaching

Handbook of New Media Leah A Lievrouw, Sonia M. Livingstone, 2006-01-17 Praise for the First Edition A landmark volume that provides a foundation stone for a new subject the study of new media It is stunningly well edited offering a very high standard of original contributions in a skilfully orchestrated and organised textbook James Curran Goldsmiths University of London The first major review of interactive technologies and their cultural and social context This is more than a welcome addition to one's library it is the authoritative overview of international research perspectives on interactive media technologies by leading scholars around the world Ellen Wartella University of Texas Austin A landmark for the study of information and communication technologies within the field of communication Its international team of editors and authors has brought together insights gained from over two decades of scholarly research This indispensable reference demonstrates an increased maturity and stature for new media research within the field William H Dutton University of Southern California A truly comprehensive and authoritative volume This Handbook will be an absolutely essential text for anyone concerned with social aspects of the new media Kevin Robins Goldsmiths University of London Thoroughly revised and updated this Student Edition of the successful Handbook of New Media has been abridged to showcase the best of the hardback edition It stakes out the boundaries of new media research and scholarship and provides a definitive statement of the current state of the field Features new to the student edition include Improved organization of material to make it more accessible for students and easier to incorporate into course design An introduction by the editors which clearly lays out the main themes in new media studies as well as providing instructors with a guide to how to get the most out of the handbook in the classroom All chapters are updated to combine classic studies and background material with latest developments in the field The first edition of the Handbook immediately established itself as the central reference work in the field This new revised edition offers students the most comprehensive and up to date introduction to the area     Sustainable Smart City Transitions Luca Mora, Mark Deakin, Xiaoling Zhang, Michael Batty, Martin de Jong, Paolo Santi, Francesco Paolo

Appio, 2022-02-23 This book enhances the reader's understanding of the theoretical foundations, sociotechnical assemblage and governance mechanisms of sustainable smart city transitions. Drawing on empirical evidence stemming from existing smart city research, the book begins by advancing a theory of sustainable smart city transitions which forms bridges between smart city development studies and some of the key assumptions underpinning transition management and system innovation research, human geography, spatial planning and critical urban scholarship. This interdisciplinary theoretical formulation details how smart city transitions unfold and how they should be conceptualized and enacted in order to be assembled as sustainable developments. The proposed theory of sustainable smart city transitions is then enriched by the findings of investigations into the planning and implementation of smart city transition strategies and projects. Focusing on different empirical settings, change dimensions and analytical elements, the attention moves from the sociotechnical requirements of citywide transition pathways to the development of sector-specific smart city projects and technological innovations in particular in the fields of urban mobility and urban governance. This book represents a relevant reference work for academic and practitioner audiences, policy makers and representative of smart city industries. The chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of the Journal of Urban Technology     The Determinants of Entrepreneurship Jose L. García-Ruiz, 2015-10-06 This study looks at entrepreneurial history from three angles: Entrepreneurial Typologies, Business Leaders and Culture vs Institutions. The previous scarcity of material makes this collection of eight papers an invaluable resource and should encourage further analysis     Strategic Planning in the Humanitarian Sector Eilidh

Kennedy, Michel Maietta, 2021-10-27 This book provides humanitarian practitioners and policy makers with a manual for how to apply foresight and strategy in their work. Drawing on extensive research, the book demonstrates in practical terms how embedding futures-focused thinking into practice can help humanitarian actors to enhance their impact and fit for the future. The book provides readers with a step-by-step guide to an innovative combination of tools and methods tested and refined over the course of several years. However, it also goes beyond this by grounding the approach within the broader ambition of making humanitarian action more effective. Overall, the analytical and strategic processes outlined in this book will accompany a decision maker through every stage of creating a robust, agile and impactful long-term strategy. This accessible guide will be an essential point of reference for practitioners and decision makers in the humanitarian ecosystem as well as students studying humanitarian affairs, global development, conflict studies and international relations.
