Online Masters Innovation Building Perpetually Innovative:

Innovations in online teaching and learning Judah P. Makonye, Nokulunga S. Ndlovu, 2023-03-01 This book's research is on online pedagogical approaches devised by teacher educators and researchers to circumvent a face to face curriculum delivery during the COVID 19 pandemic. The challenge faced by educators was that they were uncertain of how to use digital technologies in teaching learning and assessment productively. This book reports on case studies on teaching student teachers with technology in a way that advanced not only communication but also the cognitive growth of students in relation to disciplinary knowledge. The scholars from South African universities used both conceptual and empirical methodologies mostly in qualitative set ups. The scholarly contributions in this book are varied. They cover theoretical nuances for ICT use in education, considerations for the use of computers in the classroom, pedagogical thinking and pedagogical integration of ICTs in education, affordances of iPads in visible teaching and learning, supporting student cognition in Languages, Mathematics, Science, Engineering, Graphics and Design with ICTs. The use of software applications such as GeoGebra and Excel in teaching and learning mathematics is researched among others. The rich discussions that emerged from their research enable academics to learn from others' innovative moments that came as a result of pandemic pressure. The recommendations in this book can be used in blended learning beyond the COVID 19 era as curriculum delivery methods are bound to change. The value of this book is that it reports on pedagogical innovations in using digital technologies in teacher education. Researchers have an opportunity to learn from this book how to deal with the tantalising teaching and learning problem of our time. How can the use of digital technology transform teaching and learning in general and teacher education in particular?

Teacher Education Programs and Online Learning Tools: Innovations in Teacher Preparation

Hartshorne, Richard, Heafner, Tina L., Petty, Teresa, 2012-07-31 While online learning has become pervasive in many fields in higher education, it has been adopted somewhat slower in teacher education. In addition, more research is needed to empirically evaluate the effectiveness of online education in teacher preparation. Teacher Education Programs and Online Learning Tools: Innovations in Teacher Preparation presents information about current online practices and research in teacher education programs and explores the opportunities, methods and issues surrounding technologically innovative opportunities in teacher preparation. It presents empirical evidence of teacher candidate learning and assessment in the context of various online aspects of teacher licensure.

Leadership in the Creative Industries Karen L. Mallia, 2019-03-26. A groundbreaking book that explores the theory and practice of leading in the creative workplace. Leadership in the Creative Industries is a much-needed guide to the theory and practice of the creative leadership skills that are essential to lead effectively in creative fields. As the growth of creative industries continues to surge and noncreative businesses put increasing emphasis on creativity and innovation, this book offers a practical resource that explores how to confidently lead a workforce creatively. In order to lead creative people, it is essential to understand the creative process, creativity, and the range of variables that affect it. This book fills a gap in the literature by exploring the creative leadership practices that are solidly grounded in evidenced-based research. The author includes suggestions for overcoming the challenges associated with leading creative people and puts to rest many of the current industry misconceptions about leading creatively. This vital resource is the first book that highlights the theory and practice of creative leadership skills in the creative industries. Includes best practices of leading for creativity and reveals what encourages creativity and what suppresses it. Debunks commonly held myths about leading a creative workforce with evidence-based guidance. Contains a wealth of helpful tips, visualizations, callouts from primary research, and anecdotes from recognized thought leaders to highlight and underscore important principles. Written for academics and students of leadership, those working or aspiring to work in the creative industries. Leadership in the Creative Industries puts the focus directly on theory and practice of creative leadership in creative fields.

Disrupting the Center Rebecca Hallman Martini, 2022-04-15. Strategic partnership offers writing centers a framework for responding to disruptive innovations in higher education. Through partnership, writing centers can simultaneously secure resources and support the practice of tutoring writing in ways that enable moments of resistance where writing consultants and students can tactically challenge the corporate university through their methods of practice. Disrupting the Center explicates, analyzes, and critiques one particular writing center's partnership approach to collaboration with disciplinary faculty and upper administrators across the curriculum. Using on-site research and critical ethnographic study from one university writing center, Rebecca Hallman Martini establishes an innovative cross-disciplinary partnership approach to writing instruction in which peer tutoring plays an integral curricular role. Case studies detail three partnerships that respond directly to existing or potential disruptive innovations in higher education and showcase important concepts mapping mutual benefit and stakeholder engagement in an online studio hybrid first year writing program partnership in response to online education creating negotiated space to work through ethical issues involved when working with a public private partnership to develop a required extracurricular portfolio project in a business school and building transformational partnerships through establishing a writing in the professions curriculum in the College of Engineering in response to career readiness initiatives Disrupting the Center uses interviews observations focus groups analysis of consultations meetings and shared documents such as annual reports budgets assessment data assignments and syllabi to generate a wide view of how systems work Writing centers are flexible university wide service spaces where students go for one on one and group writing support that can become dynamic spaces for writing pedagogy by disrupting revitalizing and reinventing the epistemic foundations of current rhetoric and composition landscapes and traditional approaches to writing
