Week ,1912 Fortunate Families Mary Ellen Lopata,2003 Fortunate Families addresses the experience of Catholic parents who love their gay sons and lesbian daughters The book had its genesis in a descriptive survey of over 200 such parents It integrates results from the survey church documents and stories so readers can access what they need most Some readers will search for accurate information about Catholic teaching others may connect with the lived experience of other Catholic parents Still others will find examples of ministerial advocacy and support within the Catholic Church Fortunate Families has all this and more Conventional wisdom emphasizes the stories of parents who react to the news that their child is gay in verbally or physically abusive ways These stories are told so often they take on an aura of normalcy But there are other stories of parents who struggle against the pressures of society and church to find and believe in the goodness of their gay child It is critically important for parents to hear the stories of others who walked the same road before them who have come through the experience closer to their gay or lesbian child and who are willing to work to make the church more welcoming Equally important is the opportunity for pastoral ministers to hear the voices of these parents and understand the need for outreach and pastoral care for gay and lesbian Catholics and their families Fortunate Families will help prepare pastoral ministers help families come out of their isolation work through their confusion and pain and celebrate how fortunate they actually are

The Trail Home Alfred Wohlpert, 2003-09 The Trail Home describes my 2 650 mile trek on the Pacific Crest Trail and the internal transformation that occurred along the way Starting in southern California and heading northward I spent six months journeying through some of the most spectacular landscapes in America from the arid deserts of the southwest to the High Sierras and the Cascade Mountains Ultimately I would arrive at the Canadian border in mid October but I was no longer the same person as when I began The Trail Home describes the intertwined dual journey that I would undertake the external journey exploring the physical landscape and the internal journey exploring the landscape of my soul I came to the realization as I hiked along the Pacific Crest Trail that we live fragmented and disjointed lives We have been promised happiness and fulfillment from a culture mired in materialism competition and shallowness As a result of following the pathway to success laid out before me my life had become fragmented without any real meaning my spirituality had stagnated my intellectual curiosity had deteriorated my imagination had atrophied As I walked northward along the trail the sheer steadfastness of the land its permanence patience and endurance seeped into my soul The rhythm of the landscape slowed my pace and calmed my spirit allowing a new more spiritual life to unfold within me often leaving me in tears By the end of the hike I had recaptured the lost harmony that feeds the mind body and soul and I became whole again
