Colleen Murrell,2014-11-27 This book reveals that fixers local experts on whom foreign correspondents rely play a much more significant role in international television newsgathering than has been documented or understood Murrell explores the frames though which international reporting has traditionally been analysed and then shows that fixers who have largely been dismissed by scholars as logistical aides are in fact central to the day to day decision making that takes place on the road Murrell looks at why and how fixers are selected and what their significance is to foreign correspondence She asks if fixers help introduce a local perspective into the international news agenda or if fixers are simply People Like Us PLU Also included are in depth case studies of correspondents in Iraq and Indonesia The International Politics of Communication

Alan Chong,2025-03-18 In an era of globalization international communication constantly takes place across borders defying sovereign control as it influences opinion While diplomacy between states is the visible face of international relations this informal diplomacy is usually less visible but no less powerful Information politics can be found in propaganda Internet politics educational exchanges tourism and even popular film The International Politics of Communication examines this informational dimension of international politics investigating how information is generated conveyed through channels and directed specifically at audiences While citizens are often portrayed as faithfully loyal supporters and beneficiaries of the modern nation state a fiction supported by passports identification papers and other notarized credentials they are subject to the pulls of loyalty from transnational tribal affiliations mythological and historical narratives of ethnicity as well as the transcendental claims of religion and philosophy Increasingly social media also enchants non state individuals providing new virtual communities as the center of loyalties rather than national affiliations By reinterpreting taken for granted concepts in journalism media political economy nationalism development and propaganda as information politics this book prepares serious minded scholars citizens politicians and social activists everywhere to understand the power plays in international communication and use alternatives to begin transforming power relations International Communications

Francis Lyall,2016-04-22 The International Telecommunication Union ITU and the Universal Postal Union UPU are the two major international organisations that are involved in the regulation of international communications The ITU deals with electronic communications including radio The UPU deals with mail As such both organisations are of major importance in modern life This volume provides an up to date analysis of their development from inception to the present as they have responded to technical and political change It also makes suggestions for the future The volume will be an invaluable resource for researchers and students policy makers government officials and administrators and legal staff in telecommunication and

postal organisations English Speaking World ,1920 Faith in Heritage Robert J Shepherd,2016-06-16 Using the example of China's Wutai Shan recently designated both a UNESCO World Heritage site and a national park Robert J Shepherd analyzes Chinese applications of western notions of heritage management within a non western framework What does the concept of world heritage mean for a site practically unheard of outside of China visited almost exclusively by Buddhist religious pilgrims What does heritage preservation mean for a site whose intrinsic value isn't in its historic buildings or cultural significance but for its sacredness within the Buddhist faith How does a society navigate these issues particularly one where open religious expression has only recently become acceptable These questions and more are explored in this book perfect for students and practitioners of heritage management looking for a new perspective

Political Culture and Public Opinion Arthur Asa Berger,1989-01-01 Political Culture and Public Opinion A Different Voice, a Different Song Caroline Bithell,2014 A Different Voice A Different Song traces the history of a grassroots scene that has until now operated largely beneath the radar but that has been gently gathering force since the 1970s At the core of this scene today are the natural voice movement founded on the premise that everyone can sing and a growing transnational community of amateur singers participating in multicultural music activity Author Caroline Bithell reveals the intriguing web of circumstances and motivations that link these two trends highlighting their potential with respect to current social political and educational agendas She investigates how and why songs from the world's oral traditions have provided the linchpin for the natural voice movement revealing how the musical traditions of other cultures not only provide a colourful repertory but also inform the ideological methodological and ethical principles on which the movement itself is founded A Different Voice A Different Song draws on long term ethnographic research including participant observation at choir rehearsals performances workshops and camps as well as interviews with voice teachers choir and workshop leaders camp and festival organisers and general participants Bithell shows how amateur singers who are not musically literate can become competent participants in a vibrant musical community and in the process find their voice metaphorically as well as literally She then follows some of these singers as they journey to distant locations to learn new songs in their natural habitat She theorises these trends in terms of the politics of participation the transformative potential of performance building social capital the global village and reclaiming the arts of celebration and conviviality The stories that emerge reveal a nuanced web of intersections between the local and global one which demands a revision of the dominant discourses of authenticity cultural appropriation and agency in the post colonial world and ultimately points towards a more progressive politics of difference A Different Voice a Different Song will be an essential text for practitioners involved in the natural voice movement and other vocal methodologies and choral worlds As a significant study in the fields of ethnomusicology music education and community music the book will also be of interest to scholars studying the democratisation of the voice the dynamics of participation world musics in performance the transformative power of harmony singing and the potential of
