Higher Education at Risk Sandra Featherman,2023-07-03 Sandra Featherman believes that colleges are in denial about the severity of the threats to the current model of higher education Based on her own experience as a president as a trustee and as a board member who has worked in private and public universities and on interviews with the presidents of major institutions she offers both a trenchant analysis of those threats and clear prescriptions about the painful but necessary decisions that colleges need to make to ensure they remain viable accessible and affordable and deliver a high quality education Sandra Featherman considers higher education to be at a game changing moment When markets don t function well as is the case with today s college marketplace with offerings that cost too much and return too little it opens the door to new types of suppliers who offer new ways of providing what students are looking for particularly the increasing cohort of mature working students In the face of new competitors for profit education companies technology start ups and foreign universities vying for international students trustees and senior level administrators are generally stuck in a traditional ethos and with decision making processes unsuited to these times They know what used to work and find it easier to follow old ways than to make the difficult transition to new ways of delivering education She lays out a strategy that emphasizes the centrality of students and how to provide them with the most effective learning environment that is clear eyed about focusing on the core missions and abandoning practices that constrain or impede them and that requires constant self monitoring to learn from and act upon what works She offers a blueprint for redesigning institutions for paring away what is unnecessary and cost ineffective and for adopting the best technologies all in the service of developing meaningful degree programs at an affordable price and widening access for under represented groups She ranges over the implications of budget decisions accreditation and MOOCs addresses government regulation and tuition costs presents promising new models and concludes with 11 key recommendations that should be heeded by all higher education administrators and trustees Human Rights and Ethics: Concepts, Methodologies, Tools, and Applications Management Association, Information Resources,2014-09-30 In today s increasingly interconnected and global society the protection of basic liberties is an important consideration in public policy and international relations Profitable social interactions can begin only when a foundation of trust has been laid between two parties Human Rights and Ethics Concepts Methodologies Tools and Applications considers some of the most important issues in the ethics of human interaction whether in business politics or science and technology Covering issues such as cybercrime bioethics medical care and corporate leadership this four volume reference work will serve as a crucial resource for leaders innovators educators and other personnel living and working in the modern world Virtual Services in the Health Sciences Library Amanda R. Scull,2022-05-15 Selected as a 2025 Doody s Core Title Virtual services have been part of health sciences libraries for a long time in various forms including the provision of reference and research services via email or chat availability of online instruction access to electronic materials and the curation of virtual research guides But when the COVID 19 pandemic forced many libraries to close their doors and pivot to virtual services almost overnight Moving all services remote even for just a short time did highlight what worked well and what did not The situation increased visibility of these services and made patrons more aware of what was available perhaps making them more likely to expect and use those services in the future In some ways the pandemic showed us ways in which virtual services could even be better than in person services for providing prompt patron services The situation increased visibility of existing services making users more aware of what was available and revealed gaps and needed improvements in virtual services In this book copublished by the Medical Library Association librarians from academic to hospital health sciences libraries from rural to urban areas and across a range of service specialties provide blueprints and best practices for building and maintaining sustainable virtual services in health sciences libraries Each chapter in this volume addresses aspects of providing virtual services in information and access services reference and instruction collections and clinical services written by contributors who have been involved in this work in their own libraries Whether you are just beginning an implementation assessing and refining current offerings or strategizing for sustainability and looking to the future this book will provide practical advice tools and considerations for maximizing user engagement and satisfaction with virtual library services and resources Scholarly Ethics and Publishing: Breakthroughs in Research and Practice Management Association, Information Resources,2019-03-01 A vital component of any publishing project is the ethical dimensions which can refer to varied categories of practice from conducting a proper peer review to using proper citation in research With the implementation of technology in research and publishing it is important for today s researchers
