Net Success Interviews E. Loughane,2005-02-01 We interview 40 successful Entrepreneurs CEO s and founders of revolutionary Internet Companies We ask them probing questions to try and get an insight into their lives their companies and their winning mindset Magic Richard Wiseman,2023-08-15 Join magician author and psychologist Richard Wiseman as he journeys into the secretive world of magic and uncovers the surprising therapeutic and educational benefits of making the impossible possible A Playful Approach to Restoration Therapy Nancy Frigaard,2022-10-18 This accessible guide provides family and play therapists with an innovative method for addressing maladaptive emotional behavior in vulnerable children helping them develop a practical understanding of how to diagnose treat and help children move from pain to peace Drawing from Frigaard s years of experience this book presents the scientific model behind restoration play therapy and anticipates the multiple directions that healing and recovery might take This guide combines creative and directive approaches to collaborative play with the vision to create deep rooted change in clients Including step by step session plans as well as introducing metaphorical coping characters Brutus the Blaming Badger Sharla the Shameful Sheep Contessa the Controlling Cow and Eddie the Escape Goat the chapters encourage a therapeutic play environment that draws upon accessible techniques empowering children to regain control of their responses to emotional pain By moving between a framework of practical insight and its creative application this text ensures therapists engage with clients where they are and build empathetic relationships with them This book is invaluable reading for family and play therapists as well as other mental health professionals that work with children The book encourages parents and educators to be part of the healing process and they can also use the techniques with the children in their lives Developing Habits of Mind in Elementary Schools Karen Boyes,Graham C. Watts,2009 Rationale and planning Tools for exploring meanings Tools for expanding capacities Tools for increasing alertness Tools for extending values Tools for building commitment The Psychology of Magic and the Magic of Psychology Amir Raz,Jay A. Olson,Gustav Kuhn,2016-11-18 Magicians have dazzled audiences for many centuries however few researchers have studied how let alone why most tricks work The psychology of magic is a nascent field of research that examines the underlying mechanisms that conjurers use to achieve enchanting phenomena including sensory illusions misdirection of attention and the appearance of mind control and nuanced persuasion Most studies to date have focused on either the psychological principles involved in watching and performing magic or neuromagic the neural correlates of such phenomena Whereas performers sometimes question the contributions that modern science may offer to the advancement of the magical arts the history of magic reveals that scientific discovery often charts new territories for magicians In this research topic we sketch out the symbiotic relationship between psychological science and the art of magic On the one hand magic can inform psychology with particular benefits for the cognitive social developmental and transcultural components of behavioural science Magicians have a large and robust set of

effects that most researchers rarely exploit Incorporating these effects into existing experimental even clinical paradigms paves the road to innovative trajectories in the study of human behaviour For example magic provides an elegant way to study the behaviour of participants who may believe they had made choices that they actually did not make Moreover magic fosters a more ecological approach to experimentation whereby scientists can probe participants in more natural environments compared to the traditional lab based settings Examining how magicians consistently influence spectators for example can elucidate important aspects in the study of persuasion trust decision making and even processes spanning authorship and agency Magic thus offers a largely underused armamentarium for the behavioural scientist and clinician On the other hand psychological science can advance the art of magic The psychology of deception a relatively understudied field explores the intentional creation of false beliefs and how people often go wrong Understanding how to methodically exploit the tenuous twilight zone of human vulnerabilities perceptual logical emotional and temporal becomes all the more revealing when top down influences including expectation symbolic thinking and framing join the fray Over the years science has permitted magicians to concoct increasingly effective routines and to elicit heightened feelings of wonder from audiences Furthermore on occasion science leads to the creation of novel effects or the refinement of existing ones based on systematic methods For example by simulating a specific card routine using a series of computer stimuli researchers have decomposed the effect and reconstructed it into a more effective routine Other magic effects depend on meaningful psychological knowledge such as which type of information is difficult to retain or what changes capture attention Behavioural scientists measure and study these factors By combining analytical findings with performer intuitions psychological science begets effective magic Whereas science strives on parsimony and independent replication of results magic thrives on reproducing the same effect with multiple methods to obscure parsimony and minimise detection This Research Topic explores the seemingly orthogonal approaches of scientists and magicians by highlighting the crosstalk as well as rapprochement between psychological science and the art of deception
