Jessica Hammett, 2022-08-02 Why has the people's war been such a durable and attractive myth Creating the people's war examines how civil defence personnel engaged with this narrative during the war and in the following decades to answer this question Civil defence was the most significant voluntary organisation of the Second World War involving millions of men and women of every class generation and locality in Britain This book shows how local communities of civil defence personnel co-developed narratives about the value of their work which challenged hierarchies of war service In their social groups volunteers wrote themselves into the people's war and invested it with meaning creating national identity from the bottom up Community was both central to these representations and vital for their production      The Woman and the War Baby Bill

Ransom, 2008      Ice and Refrigeration ,1924      The Making of a Disciple Edward W. Watson, Martin M. Culy, 2021-09-02

Modern readers sometimes view the Gospels and other biblical narratives as mere historical accounts of events that occurred long ago Biblical narratives however are intended to do far more than teach us history They are intended to change how we think and how we live In The Making of a Disciple Watson and Culy use insights from narrative criticism to show that the message of the Gospel of John is communicated not only through the teachings and deeds of Jesus but also through the actions of the other main characters and the consequences of their actions As readers observe characters interacting with Jesus they are implicitly encouraged to either emulate or avoid their behavior Coupled with the teachings and acts of Jesus these characters serve as potent tools in the Gospel of John to showcase what it looks like not only to become a disciple of Jesus but also to grow to maturity and experience the fullness of joy that Jesus offers      Hall's Journal of Health ,1888
