Material Explorations in African Archaeology Timothy Insoll, 2015-10-22 How people engaged with materials such as clay or stone why people dug features such as pits why they decorated their bodies or treated their dead in certain ways were all meaningful in the African past However these are subjects that have been generally neglected by archaeologists working in Africa until recently Material Explorations in African Archaeology examines materiality in African archaeology by exploring concepts of material agency and material engagement and entanglement in relation to their manifest presence in persons animals objects substances and contexts It investigates the magnificent and complex world of past African materiality by considering a range of case studies These include for example why standing stones were erected the potential meanings of bodily alteration practices such as scarification and dental modification and why recurrently Africans in the past gave ritual importance to objects materials and locations thought of as exotic or different Adopting a multidisciplinary focus the volume draws not only on archaeology but also among other areas ethnography and history discussing themes such as bodies landscape healing and medicine and divination as well as concepts such as memory and biography transformation and metaphor and metonym

The Oxford Handbook of Islamic Archaeology Bethany Walker, Timothy Insoll, Corisande Fenwick, 2020-10-06 Islamic archaeology is young discipline emerging only over the course of the 1980s and 1990s The Oxford Handbook of Islamic Archaeology is the first work of its kind to cover the archaeology of the Islamic world on a global scale from North Africa to China and Europe to sub Saharan Africa

The Oxford Handbook of the Archaeology of Ritual and Religion Timothy Insoll, 2011-10-27 A comprehensive overview by period and region of the archaeology of ritual and religion The coverage is global and extends from the earliest prehistory to modern times Written by over sixty renowned specialists the Handbook presents the very best in current scholarship and will also stimulate further research

Temporalising Anthropology Timothy Insoll, Rachel MacLean, Benjamin Kankpeyeng, 2013 This volume contains the results of significant fieldwork completed in the Tong Hills of Northern Ghana an area currently inhabited by the Talensi ethno linguistic group Although made anthropologically renowned by the anthropologist Meyer Fortes the archaeology and material culture of the Talensi Tong Hills had largely been neglected until the research initiated by the authors Extensive archaeological surveys and excavations were completed allied with ethnoarchaeological and ethnobotanical research on shrines sacrifice and indigenous medicine The data is presented and described and a settlement chronology for the region reconstructed The results of the geological organic geochemical petrographic and archaeometallurgical analysis are provided The function of shrines and the meaning of shrine as a concept are evaluated and indigenous medicinal practices their links with shrines and their substances materiality and archaeological implications assessed with reference to the primary empirical material gathered Ritual performance and its inter relation with the past and the archaeological record are also considered so as to question the timelessness of previous anthropological presentations The Tong Hills are also discussed with reference to their place in the wider history and archaeology of the region This book will be useful to anyone interested in the archaeology and anthropology of African indigenous religions and ritual practices as well as those interested in West African history and the relationship between archaeology and anthropology

Ennedi, Tales on stone. Rock art in the Ennedi massif Roberta Simonis, Adriana Ravenna, Pier Paolo Rossi, 2017-12-18 In the last few decades a surprisingly large variety of subjects and styles of rock art have been brought to light in northern Chad by scholars and passionate travellers In the Ennedi region relatively recent painted scenes of daily life occur but also earlier human figures and rare events such as a leopard hunt However what is really characteristic of this region are the galloping mounted horses and camels painted in original styles Interestingly the DStretch plugin to ImageJ has recently made it possible to see that in some cases the visible paintings are superimposed on older faint images very different in style and barely discernible to the naked eye In some cases paintings in an archaic style are revealed where just blurry spots appear on rocks Farther to the east on the Ennedi plateau the Niola Doa groups of intricately decorated human figures stand out as a superlative example of Saharan art The focus of the volume is the most significant art blended into the spectacular landforms of the region We can only imagine the Ennedi landscape at the time the artists were decorating the rock surfaces with their pictograms and petroglyphs but it must have been a sensational sight

Griot Potters of the Folona Barbara E. Frank, 2022-02-02 Griot Potters of the Folona reconstructs the past of a particular group of West African women potters using evidence found in their artistry and techniques The potters of the Folona region of southeastern Mali serve a diverse clientele and firing thousands of pots weekly during the height of the dry season Although they identify themselves as Mande the unique styles and types of objects the Folona women make and more importantly the way they form and fire them are fundamentally different from Mande potters to the north and west Through a brilliant comparative analysis of pottery production methods across the region especially how the pots are formed and the way the techniques are taught by mothers to daughters Barbara Frank concludes that the mothers of the potters of the Folona very likely came from the south and east marrying Mande griots West African leatherworkers who are better known as storytellers or musicians as they made their way south in search of clientele as early as the 14th or 15th century CE While the women may have nominally given up their mothers identities through marriage over the generations the potters preserved their maternal heritage through their technological style passing this knowledge on to their daughters and thus transforming the very nature of what it means to be a Mande griot This is a story of resilience and the continuity of cultural heritage in the hands of women

Ennedi, Pierres historiées. Art rupestre dans le massif de l'Ennedi (Tchad) Roberta Simonis, Adriana Ravenna, Pier Paolo Rossi, 2017-12-18 Au cours des dernières décennies dans le nord du Tchad des savants et des voyageurs passionnés ont mis en lumière une quantité de sujets et de styles d'art rupestre tonnamment variés Dans la région de l'Ennedi se trouvent des scènes peintes relativement récentes qui montrent la vie quotidienne mais il y a aussi des figures humaines plus anciennes et des événements rares tels qu'une chasse au léopard

Pourtant ce sont des chevaux et chameaux montés au galop peints dans des styles originaux qui forment vraiment la caractéristique de cette zone. Fait intéressant, le greffon DStretch pour le logiciel de traitement d'images ImageJ a récemment permis de voir que dans certains cas les peintures visibles sont superposées des images plus anciennes, demi-effacées de styles différents et peine perceptibles à l'œil nu. En certains cas des peintures d'un style archaïque que sont révélées par DStretch des endroits où seules des taches floues apparaissaient sur la roche. Plus loin, il est sur le plateau de l'Ennedi les groupes de personnages au fin décor gravés. Niola Doa se distinguent comme un exemple magnifique de l'art saharien. Dans ce livre, l'accent est principalement mis sur les images les plus significatives qui se fondent dans les reliefs spectaculaires de la région. Nous ne pouvons qu'imaginer l'aspect du paysage de l'Ennedi au moment où les artistes décoraient les surfaces rocheuses avec leurs pictogrammes et pictoglyphes, mais cela devait être une vision extraordinaire.

Ancient Indigenous Cuisines Susan M Kooiman, Jodie A O'Gorman, Autumn M Painter, 2025. New essays from foodways archaeology related to cuisine in social, cultural, and environmental contexts. This collection of original essays is the first to cover recent trends in foodways archaeology in the Midwest using the concept of cuisine: the selection of food ingredients and methods of food preparation, cooking, and serving, consumption in relation to their social, cultural, and environmental contexts. This work spans the Early Archaic (9000 BC) to Late Precontact (up to around AD 1500) in ecological zones of present-day Michigan, Indiana, Illinois, Wisconsin, Minnesota, North Dakota, and Manitoba. Chapters trace development from hunter-gathering to horticultural practices to the more robust farming-fishing-hunting model centered on maize, squash, and other domesticates. As Susan M Kooiman, Jodie A O'Gorman, and Autumn M Painter note, identification of past cooking habits and evolving methods for foodstuffs identification can help archaeologists to reconstruct foodways and connect food behaviors with identity and associated fundamental societal beliefs. Contributors to this collection use cutting-edge methods and perspectives and consider a range of questions and outcomes that demonstrate the versatility and strength of culinary studies. To move the field forward, contributors also note areas for further analysis and improvement. This volume targets archaeologists and students, archaeobotanists and zooarchaeologists, and those curious about Indigenous food culture. Engaging content includes chapters on the construction of earth ovens, the use/alteration of pottery and residue, a discussion of cuisine combining plant and animal data with ceramic trends, and the various contexts of plates to understand cooking methods and the social role of cuisine. Others examine faunal remains, the plant remains of feasting, the introduction of maize, the use of limestone, nixtamalization, and archaeobotanical assemblages that reveal shifts in cuisine. A conclusion addresses the question: Why cuisine?
